and,

Joel L. Brott, Sheriff of Sherburne County.

Respondents.

Civil Case No. 25-3219

VERIFIED PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

INTRODUCTION

1. Respondents are detaining Petitioner, Mr. Francisco Javier Tiburcio Garcia (“Tiburcio Garcia”) in violation of law pursuant to a policy treating all aliens who are present in the United States without admission or parole as subject to mandatory detention.
2. Tiburcio Garcia has challenged his removal and custody through the immigration court.
3. The continued detention of Tiburcio Garcia serves no legitimate purpose.
4. To remedy this unlawful detention, Tiburcio Garcia seeks declaratory and injunctive relief in the form of immediate release from detention.
5. Pending the adjudication of his Petition, Tiburcio Garcia seeks an order restraining the Respondents from transferring him to a location where he cannot reasonably consult with counsel, such a location to be construed as any location outside of the geographic jurisdiction of the day-to-day operations of U.S. Customs and Immigration’s (“ICE”) Fort Snelling, Minnesota of the Office of Enforcement and Removal Operations in the State of Minnesota.
6. Pending the adjudication of this Petition, Petitioners also respectfully request that Respondents be ordered to provide seventy-two (72) hour notice of any movement of Tiburcio Garcia.

7. Tiburcio Garcia requests the same opportunity to be heard in a meaningful manner, at a meaningful time, and thus requests 72-hour notice prior to any removal or movement of him away from the State of Minnesota.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

8. The jurisdiction of this Court is invoked pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331 (federal question), § 1361 (federal employee mandamus action), § 1651 (All Writs Act), and § 2241 (habeas corpus); Art. I, § 9, cl. 2 of the U.S. Constitution (“Suspension Clause”); 5 U.S.C. § 702 (Administrative Procedure Act); and 28 U.S.C. § 2201 (Declaratory Judgment Act). This action further arises under the Constitution of the United States and the Immigration and Nationality Act (“INA”), specifically, 8 U.S.C. § 1254a.
9. Because Tiburcio Garcia seeks to challenge his custody as a violation of the Constitution and laws of the United States, jurisdiction is proper in this court.
10. Federal district courts have jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 to hear habeas petitions by noncitizens challenging the lawfulness or constitutionality of their detention by DHS. Demore v. Kim, 538 U.S. 510, 516–17 (2003); Jennings v. Rodriguez, 138 S. Ct. 830, 839–41 (2018); Nielsen v. Preap, 139 S. Ct. 954, 961–63 (2019); Sopo v. U.S. Attorney Gen., 825 F.3d 1199, 1209-12 (11th Cir. 2016).

11. Federal district courts have jurisdiction to enforce 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a)(2). This statute, 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a)(2), entitles Petitioner to a bond hearing in which an immigration judge may determine his eligibility for release from custody.
12. Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 USC §§ 1391(b), (e)(1)(B), and 2241(d) because Tiburcio Garcia is detained within this District. He is currently detained at the Sherburne County Law Enforcement Center in Elk River, Minnesota. Venue is also proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(e)(1)(A) because Respondents are operating in this district.

PARTIES

13. Petitioner Tiburcio Garcia is a citizen of Mexico and a resident of Rice County, Minnesota. He is not an arriving alien. He is not seeking admission. Tiburcio Garcia is currently in custody at the Immigration and Customs Enforcement (“ICE”) detention center in Elk River, Minnesota.
14. Respondent Pamela Bondi is being sued in her official capacity as the Attorney General of the United States and the head of the Department of Justice, which encompasses the Board of Immigration Appeals (“BIA”) and the immigration judges through the Executive Office for Immigration Review (“EOIR”). Attorney General Bondi shares responsibility for implementation and enforcement of the immigration detention statutes, along with Respondent Noem. Attorney General Bondi is a legal custodian of Tiburcio Garcia.

15. Respondent Kristi Noem is being sued in her official capacity as the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security. In this capacity, Secretary Noem is responsible for the administration of the immigration laws pursuant to § 103(a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (“INA”), 8 U.S.C. § 1103(a), routinely transacts business in the District of Minnesota, supervises the Fort Snelling ICE Field Office, and is legally responsible for pursuing Tiburcio Garcia’s detention and removal. As such, Respondent Noem is a legal custodian of Tiburcio Garcia.
16. Respondent Department of Homeland Security (“DHS”) is the federal agency responsible for implementing and enforcing the INA, including the detention and removal of noncitizens.
17. Respondent Sirce Owen is the Acting Director of EOIR and has ultimate responsibility for overseeing the operation of the immigration courts and the BIA, including bond hearings. She is sued in her official capacity.
18. The Executive Office for Immigration Review is the adjudicatory body within EOIR with jurisdiction over the removal and bond cases of Petitioner. Its authority includes individuals detained in Minnesota, Iowa, North Dakota, and South Dakota. This district is referred to as the Ft. Snelling district.

19. Respondent Todd M. Lyons is the Acting Director of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement, which oversees the detention of aliens in the United States. Mr. Lyons is sued in his official capacity. Defendant Lyons is responsible for Petitioner's detention.
20. Respondent Immigration and Customs Enforcement ("ICE") is the subagency within the Department of Homeland Security responsible for implementing and enforcing the Immigration & Nationality Act, including the detention of noncitizens.
21. Respondent Peter Berg is being sued in his official capacity as the Field Office Director for the Fort Snelling Field Office for ICE within DHS. In that capacity, Field Director Berg has supervisory authority over the ICE agents responsible for detaining Tiburcio Garcia. The address for the Fort Snelling Field Office is 1 Federal Drive, Fort Snelling, Minnesota 55111.
22. Respondent Sheriff Joel L. Brott is being sued in his official capacity as the Sheriff responsible for the Sherburne County Jail Services. Because Petitioner is detained in the Sherburne County Jail, Respondent has immediate day-to-day control over Petitioner.

EXHAUSTION

23. ICE asserts authority to detain Tiburcio Garcia pursuant to the mandatory detention provisions of 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A). No statutory requirement of exhaustion applies to Tiburcio Garcia's challenge to the lawfulness of his detention. See, e.g., Araujo-Cortes v. Shanahan, 35 F. Supp. 3d 533, 538 (S.D.N.Y. 2014) ("There is no statutory requirement that a habeas petitioner exhaust his administrative remedies before challenging his immigration detention."); Rodriguez v. Bostock, No. 3:25-CV-05240-TMC, 2025 WL 1193850, at *11 (W.D. Wash. Apr. 24, 2025) (citing Marroquin Ambriz v. Barr, 420 F. Supp. 3d 953, 962 (N.D. Cal. 2019) ("this Court 'follows the vast majority of other cases which have waived exhaustion based on irreparable injury when an individual has been detained for months without a bond hearing, and where several additional months may pass before the BIA renders a decision on a pending appeal.'"); Gomes v. Hyde, No. 1:25-CV-11571-JEK, 2025 WL 1869299, at *5 (D. Mass. July 7, 2025) ((citing Portela-Gonzalez v. Sec'y of the Navy, 109 F.3d 74, 77 (1st Cir. 1997) (quoting McCarthy v. Madigan, 503 U.S. 140, 146 (1992))).
24. To the extent that prudential consideration may require exhaustion in some circumstances, Tiburcio Garcia has exhausted all effective administrative remedies available to him as he has sought bond and appealed to the Board of Immigration Appeals. Administrative appeals, however, will take several months to complete. Any further efforts would be futile.

25. Prudential exhaustion is not required when to do so would be futile or “the administrative body . . . has . . . predetermined the issue before it.” McCarthy v. Madigan, 503 U.S. 140, 148 (1992), superseded by statute on other grounds as stated in Woodford v. Ngo, 548 U.S. 81 (2006).
26. Any appeal to the BIA is futile. ICE’s new policy of construing all uninspected aliens as subject to mandatory detention was issued “in coordination with DOJ,” which oversees the immigration courts. Further, as noted, a recent unpublished BIA decision on this issue held that aliens like Petitioner, who are present without admission or parole, are subject to mandatory detention as applicants for admission.
27. Prudential exhaustion is also not required in cases where “a particular plaintiff may suffer irreparable harm if unable to secure immediate judicial consideration of his claim.” McCarthy, 503 U.S. at 147. Every day that Tiburcio Garcia is unlawfully detained causes him and his family irreparable harm. Jarpa v. Mumford, 211 F. Supp. 3d 706, 711 (D. Md. 2016) (“Here, continued loss of liberty without any individualized bail determination constitutes the kind of irreparable harm which forgives exhaustion.”); Matacua v. Frank, 308 F. Supp. 3d 1019, 1025 (D. Minn. 2018) (explaining that “a loss of liberty” is “perhaps the best example of irreparable harm”); Hamama v. Adducci, 349 F. Supp. 3d 665, 701 (E.D. Mich. 2018) (holding that “detention has inflicted grave” and “irreparable harm” and describing the impact of prolonged detention on individuals and their families).

28. Prudential exhaustion is additionally not required in cases where the agency “lacks the institutional competence to resolve the particular type of issue presented, such as the constitutionality of a statute.” McCarthy, 503 U.S. at 147–48. Immigration agencies have no jurisdiction over constitutional challenges of the kind Tiburcio Garcia raises here. See, e.g., Matter of C-, 20 I. & N. Dec. 529, 532 (BIA 1992) (“[I]t is settled that the immigration judge and this Board lack jurisdiction to rule upon the constitutionality of the Act and the regulations.”); Matter of Akram, 25 I. & N. Dec. 874, 880 (BIA 2012); Matter of Valdovinos, 18 I. & N. Dec. 343, 345 (BIA 1982); Matter of Fuentes-Campos, 21 I. & N. Dec. 905, 912 (BIA 1997); Matter of U-M-, 20 I. & N. Dec. 327 (BIA 1991).
29. Because requiring Tiburcio Garcia to exhaust administrative remedies would be futile, would cause him irreparable harm, and the immigration agencies lack jurisdiction over the constitutional claims, this Court should not require exhaustion as a prudential matter.

30. In any event, Tiburcio Garcia has indeed exhausted all remedies available to him. Tiburcio Garcia has sought his release in a bond hearing to no avail.
31. The immigration court denied bond because it incorrectly believes Tiburcio Garcia is not eligible for a bond redetermination hearing.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS & PROCEDURAL HISTORY

32. Tiburcio Garcia is a native and citizen of Mexico.
33. On March 25, 2006, Tiburcio Garcia was granted an H2B Visa and subsequently entered the United States the following day on March 26, 2006.
34. On December 22, 2006, Tiburcio Garcia returned to Mexico.
35. On April 30, 2007, Tiburcio Garcia was refused an H2B visa.
36. On May 30, 2007, Tiburcio Garcia attempted to enter the United States without inspection, but was apprehended and voluntarily returned to Mexico the same day.
37. Tiburcio Garcia subsequently entered the United States without inspection after this attempted entry and has been present in the United States for more than ten years.
38. Tiburcio Garcia, since his entry, has been an active member of his community and cared for his family, including his minor United States citizen child.

39. On the morning of July 7, 2025, an Immigration Judge at the Fort Snelling Immigration Court granted bond to a foreign national who had been present in the United States for decades without inspection or parole pursuant to the release authority under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a)(2)(A).
40. On July 8, 2025, ICE, “in coordination with” DOJ, announced a new policy that rejected well-established understanding of the statutory framework and reversed decades of practice.
41. The new policy, entitled “Interim Guidance Regarding Detention Authority for Applicants for Admission,” claims that all persons who entered the United States without inspection shall now be deemed “applicants for admission” under 8 U.S.C. § 1225, and therefore are subject to mandatory detention provision under § 1225(b)(2)(A). The policy applies regardless of when a person is apprehended and affects those who have resided in the United States for months, years, and even decades.
42. In a May 22, 2025, unpublished decision from the Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA), EOIR adopts this same position. That decision holds that all noncitizens who entered the United States without admission or parole are considered applicants for admission and are ineligible for immigration judge bond hearings.

43. On July 9, 2025, an Immigration Judge at the Fort Snelling Immigration Court denied bond to a foreign national who had been present in the United States for decades without inspection or parole by invoking mandatory detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2).
44. On July 15, 2025, an Immigration Judge at the Fort Snelling Immigration Court denied bond to another foreign national who had been present in the United States for decades without inspection or parole by invoking mandatory detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2).
45. On July 25, 2025, Tiburcio Garcia was apprehended at a gas station by Grand Forks Sector Border Patrol and Immigration and Customs Enforcement St. Paul Field Office. He was arrested for being present in the United States unlawfully.
46. Respondents subsequently filed a Form I-213, Record of Inadmissible/Deportable Alien with the Immigration Court.
47. On July 29, 2025, an Immigration Judge at the Fort Snelling Immigration Court denied bond to another foreign national who had been present in the United States for decades without inspection or parole by invoking mandatory detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2).
48. On August 3, 2025, Tiburcio Garcia sought a custody redetermination hearing before the immigration court sitting in Fort Snelling, Minnesota.

49. On August 5, 2025, the immigration court denied Petitioner's bond request, holding that it did not have jurisdiction to release Petitioner because he entered without inspection and as such is an 'applicant for admission' pursuant to INA section 235(b)(2)(a).
50. Respondents maintain Tiburcio Garcia is ineligible for release from custody.
51. On August 7, 2025, Tiburcio Garcia appealed the decision with the Board of Immigration Appeals.
52. Tiburcio Garcia's appeal remains pending.

LEGAL FRAMEWORK

53. Removal proceedings are governed under 8 U.S.C. § 1229a, which provides that "[a]n immigration judge shall conduct proceedings for deciding the inadmissibility or deportability of an alien," 8 U.S.C. § 1229a(a)(1) and that "[u]nless otherwise specified in this chapter, a proceeding under this section shall be the sole and exclusive procedure for determining whether an alien may be admitted to the United States." 8 U.S.C. § 1229a(a)(3).
54. To initiate removal proceedings under 8 U.S.C. § 1229a, "written notice (in this section referred to as a 'notice to appear') shall be given in person to the alien (or, if personal service is not practicable, through service by mail to the alien or to the alien's counsel of record, if any)." 8 U.S.C. § 1229(a)(1).

55. The “[a]pprehension and detention of aliens” is governed by a different provision of the code, 8 U.S.C. § 1226, which provides that:

On a warrant issued by the Attorney General, an alien may be arrested and detained pending a decision on whether the alien is to be removed from the United States. Except as provided in subsection (c) and pending such decision, the Attorney General ... may release the alien on bond of at least $1,500 with security approved by, and containing conditions prescribed by, the Attorney General.

8 U.S.C. § 1226(a)(2)(A) (emphasis added).

56. Initiation of removal proceedings is an independent section of law. 8 U.S.C. § 1229.
57. The issue of whether an individual is subject to mandatory versus discretionary detention is an independent question that is not relevant to the operation of 8 U.S.C. § 1229(a).
58. Petitioner is not challenging Respondent’s authority to initiate, commence, or complete a removal proceeding. This matter is related to apprehension and detention exclusively.
59. The sole issue before the Court is Respondents’ detention of Petitioner during the pendency of his removal proceedings. 8 U.S.C. § 1252 is not a bar to the Court resolving the pure legal question of whether Petitioner is subject to mandatory custody or eligible to apply for a discretionary bond.

60. The regulations provide that, to detain a person under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a), the Department must issue an I-200 to take a person into custody; and that such a person is subject to release on bond. The regulation states:

(b) Warrant of arrest—

(1) In general. At the time of issuance of the notice to appear, or at any time thereafter and up to the time removal proceedings are completed, the respondent may be arrested and taken into custody under the authority of Form I-200, Warrant of Arrest. A warrant of arrest may be issued only by those immigration officers listed in § 287.5(e)(2) of this chapter and may be served only by those immigration officers listed in § 287.5(e)(3) of this chapter.

(2) If, after the issuance of a warrant of arrest, a determination is made not to serve it, any officer authorized to issue such warrant may authorize its cancellation.

(c) Custody issues and release procedures—

(i) After the expiration of the Transition Period Custody Rules (TPCR) set forth in section 303(b)(3) of Div. C of Pub.L. 104-208, no alien described in section 236(c)(1) of the Act may be released from custody during removal proceedings except pursuant to section 236(c)(2) of the Act.

8 C.F.R. § 236.1(b).

61. 8 U.S.C. 1226(a) is the default detention authority, and it applies to anyone who is detained “pending a decision on whether the [noncitizen] is to be removed from the United States.” 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a).

62. 8 U.S.C. 1226(a) applies to those who are “already in the country” and are detained “pending the outcome of removal proceedings.” Jennings v. Rodriguez, 583 U.S. 281, 289 (2018).
63. 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a) applies not just to persons who are deportable, but also to noncitizens who are inadmissible. Specifically, while § 1226(a) provides the general right to seek release, § 1226(c) carves out discrete categories of noncitizens from being released—including certain categories of inadmissible noncitizens—and subjects those limited classes of inadmissible aliens instead to mandatory detention. See, e.g., 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c)(1)(A), (C).
64. The Laken Riley Act (LRA) added language to § 1226 that directly references people who have entered without inspection or who are present without authorization. See LAKEN RILEY ACT, PL 119-1, January 29, 2025, 139 Stat 3. Pursuant to these amendments, people charged as inadmissible under § 1182(a)(6)(A) (the inadmissibility ground for entry without inspection) or (a)(7)(A) (the inadmissibility ground for lacking valid documentation to enter the United States) and who have been arrested, charged with, or convicted of certain crimes are subject to § 1226(c)’s mandatory detention provisions. See 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c)(1)(E).

65. By including such individuals under § 1226(c), Congress reaffirmed that § 1226 covers persons charged under § 1182(a)(6)(A) or (a)(7).
66. Grounds of deportability (found in 8 U.S.C. § 1227) apply to people like lawful permanent residents, who have been lawfully admitted and continue to have lawful status, while grounds of inadmissibility (found in § 1182) apply to those who have not yet been admitted to the United States. See, e.g., Barton v. Barr, 590 U.S. 222, 234 (2020) (“specific exceptions’ to a statute’s applicability, it ‘proves’ that absent those exceptions, the statute generally applies.”) (quoting Shady Grove Orthopedic Assocs., P.A. v. Allstate Ins. Co., 559 U.S. 393, 400 (2010)).
67. The [i]nspection by immigration officers. expedited removal of inadmissible arriving aliens, [and] referral for hearing” is governed under 8 U.S.C. § 1225, which provides that “[a]n alien present in the United States who has not been admitted or who arrives in the United States (whether or not at a designated port of arrival and including an alien who is brought to the United States after having been interdicted in international or United States waters) shall be deemed for purposes of this chapter an applicant for admission.” 8 U.S.C. § 1225(a)(1).

68. “All aliens (including alien crewmen) who are applicants for admission or otherwise seeking admission or readmission to or transit through the United States shall be inspected by immigration officers.” 8 U.S.C. § 1225(a)(3).
69. “If an immigration officer determines that an alien ... who is arriving in the United States ... is inadmissible under section 1182(a)(6)(C) or 1182(a)(7) of this title, the officer shall order the alien removed from the United States without further hearing or review unless the alien indicates either an intention to apply for asylum.” 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(1)(A)(i) (emphasis added).
70. “If the officer determines at the time of the interview that an alien has a credible fear of persecution ... the alien shall be detained for further consideration of the application for asylum.” 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(1)(B)(ii).
71. “[I]n the case of an alien who is an applicant for admission, if the examining immigration officer determines that an alien seeking admission is not clearly and beyond a doubt entitled to be admitted, the alien shall be detained for a proceeding under section 1229a of this title.” 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A) (emphasis added).
72. 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)’s mandatory detention scheme applies “at the Nation’s borders and ports of entry, where the Government must determine whether an alien seeking to enter the country is admissible.” Jennings v. Rodriguez, 583 U.S. 281, 287 (2018).

73. By regulation, “[a]rriving alien means an applicant for admission coming or attempting to come into the United States at a port-of-entry, or an alien seeking transit through the United States at a port-of-entry, or an alien interdicted in international or United States waters and brought into the United States by any means, whether or not to a designated port-of-entry, and regardless of the means of transport. An arriving alien remains an arriving alien even if paroled pursuant to section 212(d)(5) of the Act, and even after any such parole is terminated or revoked.” 8 C.F.R. § 1.2.
74. “[A]n immigration judge may not redetermine conditions of custody imposed by the Service with respect to ... [a]rriving aliens in removal proceedings, including aliens paroled after arrival pursuant to section 212(d)(5) of the Act.” 8 C.F.R. § 1003.19(h)(2)(i)(B).
75. As such, arriving aliens are not entitled to bond, nor, arguably, are aliens falling within the confines of 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b).
76. Congress did not intend to subject all people present in the United States after an unlawful entry to mandatory detention if arrested. Prior to Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigration Responsibility Act (“IIRIRA”), which codified both 8 U.S.C. § 1225 and 8 U.S.C. § 1226, aliens present without admission were not necessarily subject to mandatory detention. See 8 U.S.C. § 1252(a)(1) (1994) (authorizing Attorney General to arrest noncitizens for deportability proceedings, which applied to all persons within the United States).

77. In articulating the impact of IIRIRA, Congress noted that the new § 1226(a) merely “restates the current provisions in section 242(a)(1) regarding the authority of the Attorney General to arrest, detain, and release on bond a[] [noncitizen] who is not lawfully in the United States.” H.R. Rep. No. 104-469, pt. 1, at 229 (emphasis added). See also H.R. Rep. No. 104-828, at 210 (same).
78. Respondents’ longstanding practice of considering people like Petitioner as detained under § 1226(a) further supports reading the statute to apply to them. Typically, DHS issues a person Form I-286, Notice of Custody Determination, or Form I-200, Warrant for Arrest of Alien, stating that the person is detained under § 1226(a) (§ 236 of the INA).
79. As these arrest documents demonstrate, DHS has long acknowledged that § 1226(a) applies to individuals who entered the United States unlawfully, but who were later apprehended within the country’s borders long after their entry. Such a longstanding and consistent interpretation “is powerful evidence that interpreting the Act in [this] way is natural and reasonable.”

Abramski v. United States, 573 U.S. 169, 203 (2014) (Scalia, J., dissenting);

See also Bankamerica Corp. v. United States, 462 U.S. 122, 130 (1983)

(relying in part on “over 60 years” of government’s interpretation and practice to reject its new proposed interpretation of the law at issue).

80. EOIR regulations have long recognized that Petitioner are subject to detention under § 1226(a). Nothing in 8 C.F.R. § 1003.19—the regulatory basis for the immigration court’s jurisdiction—provides otherwise.
81. In fact, EOIR confirmed that § 1226(a) applies to Petitioner when it promulgated the regulations governing immigration courts and implementing § 1226 decades ago. At that time, EOIR explained that “[d]espite being applicants for admission, [noncitizens] who are present without having been admitted or paroled (formerly referred to as [noncitizens] who entered without inspection) will be eligible for bond and bond redetermination.” Inspection and Expedited Removal of Aliens; Detention and Removal of Aliens; Conduct of Removal Proceedings; Asylum Procedures, 62 FR 10312, 10323, 62 FR 10312-01, 10323.
82. In Matter of R-A-V-P-, 27 I. & N. Dec. 803, 04 (BIA 2020), the Board referenced § 1226(a) as the detention authority for a noncitizen who unlawfully entered the United States the prior year and was detained soon thereafter.

83. Congress separately defined how Respondents initiate removal proceedings. 8 U.S.C. § 1229a(a)(i)(3) provides that “a proceeding under this section shall be the sole and exclusive procedure for determining whether an alien may be admitted to the United States or, if the alien has been so admitted, removed from the United States.”
84. The sole exception is the expedited removal process under 8 U.S.C. § 1228 for individuals convicted of aggravated felonies.
85. 8 C.F.R. § 1003.14(a) confirms that Respondents also maintain that proceedings “initiate” or “commence” under 8 U.S.C. § 1229a. The regulation states, “Jurisdiction vests, and proceedings before an Immigration Judge commence, when a charging document is filed with the Immigration Court by the Service.”
86. There is no reference to a person’s custody status in 8 C.F.R. § 1003.14(a).
87. The commencement or initiation of proceedings is a separate question from how and why Respondents apprehend and detain an individual.
88. Respondents - as a matter of plain statutory language and explicit regulatory recognition - cannot assert that Respondents “initiate” proceedings under the authority of 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2).

REMEDY

89. Respondents' detention of Tiburcio Garcia under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A) violates the Due Process Clause of the United States Constitution. Tiburcio Garcia's ongoing detention violates the Fifth Amendment's guarantee that "[n]o person shall be . . . deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law." U.S. Const., Amend. 5.
90. Due Process requires that detention "bear [] a reasonable relation to the purpose for which the individual [was] committed." Zadvydas, v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 690 (2001) (citing Jackson v. Indiana, 406 U.S. 715, 738 (1972)).
91. Respondents' policy of treating all aliens present in the United State without admission or parole as subject to mandatory custody is arbitrary and capricious, out of accordance with the law, violative of both 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) and 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a)(2), contrary to the Fifth Amendment of the United States Constitution, and constitutes a systematic failure to apply the custody procedural framework set forth at 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a)(2).
92. Tiburcio Garcia seeks immediate release to the extent that Respondents justify his detention on 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2), which plainly does not apply to him.
93. Although neither the Constitution nor the federal habeas statutes delineate the necessary content of habeas relief, I.N.S. v. St. Cyr, 533 U.S. 289, 337

(2001) (Scalia, J., dissenting) (“A straightforward reading of [the Suspension Clause] discloses that it does not guarantee any content to . . . the writ of habeas corpus”), implicit in habeas jurisdiction is the power to order release. Boumediene v. Bush, 553 U.S. 723, 779 (2008) (“[T]he habeas court must have the power to order the conditional release of an individual unlawfully detained.”).

94. The Supreme Court has noted that the typical remedy for unlawful detention is release from detention. See, e.g., Munaf v. Geren, 553 U.S. 674 (2008) (“The typical remedy for [unlawful executive detention] is, of course, release.”); See also Wajda v. US, 64 F.3d 385, 389 (8th Cir. 1995) (stating the function of habeas relief under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 “is to obtain release from the duration or fact of present custody.”).
95. That courts with habeas jurisdiction have the power to order outright release is justified by the fact that, “habeas corpus is, at its core, an equitable remedy,” Schlup v. Delo, 513 U.S. 298, 319 (1995), and that as an equitable remedy, federal courts “[have] broad discretion in conditioning a judgment granting habeas relief [and are] authorized . . . to dispose of habeas corpus matters ‘as law and justice require.’” Hilton v. Braunskill, 481 U.S. 770, 775 (1987), quoting 28 U.S.C. § 2243. An order of release falls under court’s broad discretion to fashion relief. See, e.g., Jimenez v. Cronen, 317 F. Supp.

3d 626, 636 (D. Mass. 2018) (“Habeas corpus is an equitable remedy. The court has the discretion to fashion relief that is fair in the circumstances, including to order an alien’s release.”).

96. Immediate release is an appropriate remedy in this case.
97. Alternatively, Tiburcio Garcia requests a constitutionally adequate custody redetermination hearing in which he is not erroneously treated as detained pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A) and is instead treated as a detainee under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a) within seven calendar days.

CAUSE OF ACTION

COUNT ONE: DECLARATORY RELIEF

98. Tiburcio Garcia re-alleges and incorporates by reference each allegation contained in the preceding paragraphs as if set forth fully herein.
99. Tiburcio Garcia requests a declaratory judgment pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201 that Tiburcio Garcia is not subject to detention under to 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2).
100. Tiburcio Garcia requests a declaratory judgment pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201 that Tiburcio Garcia is detained pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a)(1).
101. Tiburcio Garcia requests a declaratory judgment pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201 that Tiburcio Garcia is eligible for release from Respondents’ custody on bond.

COUNT TWO: VIOLATION OF THE IMMIGRATION & NATIONALITY ACT – 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a)

102. Tiburcio Garcia re-alleges and incorporates by reference each allegation contained in the preceding paragraphs as if set forth fully herein.
103. Section 1226 of Title 8 of the U.S. Code governs the detention of aliens pending a determination of removal from the United States.
104. Such an alien “may [be] release[d] ... on bond of at least $1,500.” 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a)(2)(A).
105. The denial of Tiburcio Garcia’s bond eligibility is in violation of 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a)(2)(A), which specifically makes him eligible for bond.
106. 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A) cannot apply as it only applies to those “seeking admission” at the time of detention and Petitioner was not “seeking admission at the time he was detained, nor is he now. 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A).
107. If Respondents do not release Tiburcio Garcia without any conditions, he must be afforded a bond hearing in which a neutral arbiter determines whether he poses either a danger or flight risk.

COUNT THREE: VIOLATION OF THE FIFTH AMENDMENT

108. Tiburcio Garcia re-alleges and incorporates by reference each allegation contained in the preceding paragraphs as if set forth fully herein.

109. The Fifth Amendment Due Process Clause protects against arbitrary detention and requires that detention be reasonably related to its purpose and accompanied by adequate procedures to ensure that detention is serving its legitimate goals.
110. Tiburcio Garcia is not subject to mandatory custody under the Immigration & Nationality Act and is therefore entitled to a bond hearing in which a neutral arbiter may determine the justification for his continued detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a)(2)(A), the denial of which constitutes a violation of the Fifth Amendment's guarantee of due process.

COUNT FOUR: VIOLATION OF 8 C.F.R. §§ 236.1, 1236.1 AND 1003.19 - UNLAWFUL DENIAL OF RELEASE ON BOND

111. Tiburcio Garcia re-alleges and incorporates by reference each allegation contained in the preceding paragraphs as if set forth fully herein.
112. In 1997, after Congress amended the INA through IIRIRA, EOIR and the then-Immigration and Naturalization Service issued an interim rule to interpret and apply IIRIRA. Specifically, under the heading of "Apprehension, Custody, and Detention of [Noncitizens]," the agencies explained that "[d]espite being applicants for admission, [noncitizens] who are present without having been admitted or paroled (formerly referred to as [noncitizens] who entered without inspection) will be eligible for bond and bond redetermination." 62 Fed. Reg. at 10323 (emphasis added).

113. The agencies thus made clear that individuals who had entered without inspection were eligible for consideration for bond and bond hearings before immigration courts under 8 U.S.C. § 1226 and its implementing regulations.
114. Nonetheless, DHS and the Fort Snelling Immigration Court have adopted a policy and practice of applying § 1225(b)(2) to Petitioner and others in the same position.
115. The application of § 1225(b)(2) to Petitioner unlawfully mandates his continued detention and violates 8 C.F.R. §§ 236.1, 1236.1, and 1003.19.

COUNT FIVE: VIOLATION OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE
ACT – CONTRARY TO LAW AND ARBITRARY AND CAPRICIOUS AGENCY POLICY

116. Tiburcio Garcia re-alleges and incorporates by reference each allegation contained in the preceding paragraphs as if set forth fully herein.
117. The APA provides that a “reviewing court shall . . . hold unlawful and set aside agency action, findings, and conclusions found to be . . . arbitrary and capricious, an abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law.”
5 U.S.C. § 706(2)(A).
118. The mandatory detention provision at 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) does not apply to all noncitizens residing in the United States who are subject to the grounds of inadmissibility. As relevant here, it does not apply to those who previously entered the country and have been residing in the United States

prior to being apprehended and placed in removal proceedings by Respondents. Such noncitizens are detained under § 1226(a) and are eligible for release on bond, unless they are subject to § 1225(b)(1), § 1226(c), or § 1231.

119. Nonetheless, DHS and the Fort Snelling Immigration Court have adopted a policy and practice of applying § 1225(b)(2) to Petitioner and others in the same position.
120. Respondents have failed to articulate any reasoned explanations for their decisions, which represent changes in the agencies' policies and positions; have considered factors that Congress did not intend to be considered; have entirely failed to consider important aspects of the problem; and have offered explanations for their decisions that run counter to the evidence before the agencies.
121. The application of § 1225(b)(2) to Petitioner and those like him is arbitrary, capricious, out of accordance with law, contrary to constitutional right, and in excess of statutory authority, and thus it violates the APA. See 5 U.S.C. § 706(2).

COUNT SIX – VIOLATION OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE ACT – FAILURE TO OBSERVE REQUIRED PROCEDURES

122. Petitioner incorporates by reference the allegations of fact set forth in the preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

123. The APA provides that a “reviewing court shall . . . hold unlawful and set aside agency action, findings, and conclusions found to be . . . without observance of procedure required by law.” 5 U.S.C. § 706(2)(D). Specifically, the APA requires agencies to follow public notice-and-comment rulemaking procedures before promulgating new regulations or amending existing regulations. See 5 U.S.C. § 553(b), (c).
124. Respondents failed to comply with the APA by adopting its policy and departing from its regulations without any rulemaking, let alone any notice or meaningful opportunity to comment. Respondents failed to publish any such new rule despite affecting the substantive rights of thousands of noncitizens under the INA, as required under 5 U.S.C. § 553(d).
125. Had Respondents complied with the advance publication and notice-and-comment rulemaking requirements under the APA, members of the public and organizations that advocate on behalf of noncitizens like Petitioner would have submitted comments opposing the new policies.
126. The APA’s notice and comment exceptions related to “foreign affairs function[s] of the United States,” id. § 553(a)(1), and “good cause,” id. § 553(d)(3) are inapplicable.
127. Respondents’ adoption of their no-bond policies therefore violates the public notice-and-comment rulemaking procedures required under the APA.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Petitioner, Francisco Javier Tiburcio Garcia, asks this Court for the following relief:

1. Assume jurisdiction over this matter.
2. Issue an order restraining Respondents from attempting to move Tiburcio Garcia from the State of Minnesota during the pendency of this Petition.
3. Issue an order requiring Respondents to provide 72-hour notice of any intended movement of Tiburcio Garcia.
4. Expedite consideration of this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1657 because it is an action brought under 28 U.S.C. § 153.
5. Order Tiburcio Garcia's immediate release, or, alternatively, order Respondents hold a bond hearing consistent with 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a).
6. Declare that Respondents' action is arbitrary and capricious.
7. Declare that Respondents failed to adhere to its regulations.
8. Declare that Respondents adopted a new policy without undergoing the required notice and comment in violation of the Administrative Procedure Act.
9. Set aside Respondent's policy of treating all aliens heard before the Immigration Court at Fort Snelling, Minnesota, who are present in the United States without admission or parole as subject to mandatory custody under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a).

10. Declare that Petitioner's detention absent a bond hearing violates the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment.
11. Grant Tiburcio Garcia reasonable attorney fees and costs pursuant to the Equal Access to Justice Act, 28 U.S.C. § 2412(d)(1)(A).
12. Grant all further relief this Court deems just and proper.
