VERIFIED PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

INTRODUCTION

1. Respondents are detaining Petitioner, Behkam Bahadorani () in violation of law.
2. Bahadorani is a citizen of Iran who was ordered removed from the United States on August 3, 2015. Bahadorani did not appeal his order of removal, rendering it administratively final 30 days later on September 2, 2015 after the appeal deadline lapsed.

3. After being ordered removed in August 2015, Bahadorani remained in ICE detention for approximately ten months. He was released on an Order of Supervision (“OOS”) in June 2016.
4. The OOS issued pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 241.4(e) because it was determined there was no significant likelihood of removal in the reasonably foreseeable future. It was necessarily determined at that time that Bahadorani did not present an ongoing danger or a flight risk. See 8 C.F.R. § 241.4(e)(2)-(6).
5. Bahadorani was required to complete regular check ins with ICE from when he was placed on an OOS and when he was redetained in violation of law in 2025. Bahadorani complied with all check in requirements and made sure to update his address with ICE every time he moved.
6. On June 11, 2025, Bahadorani was picked up and redetained by ICE when he was returning home from work despite having done nothing wrong and remaining in compliance with his OOS.
7. Bahadorani has previously applied for travel documents from Iran several times, but his applications have always been denied.
8. Since being detained in 2025, Bahadorani has not been asked to apply for a travel document to any country, including but not limited to Iran despite more than 90 days elapsing in the interim, evidencing Respondents’ total lack of intent and ability to actually arrange Bahadorani’s removal from the United States.
9. Since being detained in 2025, no government agent has expressed to Bahadorani that a third-country removal is being attempted, much less expected to be successful.

10. Bahadorani remains detained at this time. He is housed in Cimarron Correctional Facility in Cushing, OK, a facility designed to house and punish convicted criminals. Bahadorani's conditions of confinement are indistinguishable from those of convicted criminals.
11. The government is not in possession of any credible or persuasive documents or evidence that Bahadorani's removal is likely to occur in the reasonably foreseeable future. This was true at the time Bahadorani was redetained, and it remains true at the time of this petition's filing.
12. It remains true at the time of this filing that Bahadorani cannot be deported to his country of origin, Iran, because he does not have a valid travel document and Iran will not issue one to him.
13. The redetention of Bahadorani serves no legitimate purpose. Instead, his detention is punitive. The redetention of Bahadorani is designed to send a message to other individuals (especially Iranians) with final orders of removal that they need to leave the United States or they will be jailed indefinitely and without any process.
14. Federal statutes and regulations require ICE to follow certain procedures before they redetained Bahadorani. ICE failed to comply with these laws prior to redetaining Bahadorani.
15. To remedy this unlawful detention, Bahadorani seeks declaratory and injunctive relief in the form of immediate release from detention.

16. Pending the adjudication of his Petition, Bahadorani seeks an order restraining the Respondents from transferring him to a location where he cannot reasonably consult with counsel, such a location to be construed as any location outside of the geographic jurisdiction of the day-to-day operations of U.S. Immigration & Customs Enforcement's ("ICE") Oklahoma City Office of Enforcement and Removal Operations in the State of Oklahoma.
17. Pending the adjudication of this Petition, Petitioners also respectfully request that Respondents be ordered to provide seventy-two (72) hour notice of any movement of Bahadorani.
18. Bahadorani requests the same opportunity to be heard in a meaningful manner, at a meaningful time, and thus requests 72-hours-notice prior to any removal or movement of him away from the State of Oklahoma.
19. Bahadorani requests an emergency preliminary order requiring Respondents to give Bahadorani due process prior to removing him to an allegedly safe third country in the form of a full merits hearing for asylum, withholding of removal, and DCAT before an immigration judge relating to the proposed country of removal with a right to an administrative appeal to the Board of Immigration Appeals, and further requests that this injunction be made permanent.
20. Bahadorani requests an order compelling Respondents to release him pending the outcome of this petition.
21. In accordance with 28 U.S.C. § 1657, Bahadorani requests that the district court decide this petition in the first instance rather than referring it to a magistrate judge for a Report and Recommendation.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

22. The jurisdiction of this Court is invoked pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331 (federal question), § 1361 (mandamus action), § 1651 (All Writs Act), and § 2241 (habeas corpus); Art. I, § 9, cl. 2 of the U.S. Constitution (“Suspension Clause”); 5 U.S.C. § 702 (Administrative Procedure Act); and 28 U.S.C. § 2201 (Declaratory Judgment Act). This action further arises under the Constitution of the United States and the Immigration and Nationality Act (“INA”), specifically, 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a)(1)–(3) and 8 C.F.R. §§ 241.4, 241.13.
23. Because Bahadorani seeks to challenge his custody as a violation of the Constitution and laws of the United States, jurisdiction is proper in this court.
24. Federal district courts have jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 to hear habeas petitions by noncitizens challenging the lawfulness or constitutionality of their detention by DHS. Demore v. Kim, 538 U.S. 510, 516–17 (2003); Jennings v. Rodriguez, 138 S. Ct. 830, 839–41 (2018); Nielsen v. Preap, 139 S. Ct. 954, 961–63 (2019); Sopo v. U.S. Attorney Gen., 825 F.3d 1199, 1209–12 (11th Cir. 2016).
25. Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 USC §§ 1391(b), (e)(1)(B), and 2241(d) because Bahadorani is detained within this District. He is currently detained at the Cimarron Correctional Facility in Cushing, Oklahoma. Venue is also proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(e)(1)(A) because Respondents are operating in this district.

PARTIES

26. Petitioner Bahadorani is a citizen of Iran. His Alien Registration Number (“A number”) is  Petitioner Bahadorani is an alien with an administratively final removal order. Bahadorani is currently in custody at the Immigration and Customs Enforcement (“ICE”) detention center in Cushing, Oklahoma. Bahadorani’s aggregate period of civil immigration confinement spans more than one-year and continues to grow. Bahadorani’s aggregate period of post-administratively-final-removal-order confinement, in the aggregate, exceeds one-year.
27. Respondent Pamela Bondi is being sued in her official capacity as the Attorney General of the United States and the head of the Department of Justice, which encompasses the BIA and the immigration judges through the Executive Office for Immigration Review. Attorney General Bondi shares responsibility for implementation and enforcement of the immigration detention statutes, along with Respondent Noem. Attorney General Bondi is a legal custodian of Bahadorani.
28. Respondent Kristi Noem is being sued in her official capacity as the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security. In this capacity, Secretary Noem is responsible for the administration of the immigration laws pursuant to § 103(a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (“INA”), 8 U.S.C. § 1103(a), routinely transacts business in the District of Minnesota, supervises the Oklahoma City ICE Field Office, and is legally responsible for pursuing Bahadorani’s detention and removal. As such, Respondent Noem is a legal custodian of Bahadorani.

29. Respondent Department of Homeland Security (“DHS”) is the federal agency responsible for implementing and enforcing the INA, including the detention and removal of noncitizens.
30. Respondent Todd M. Lyons is the Acting Director of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement and is sued in his official capacity. Defendant Lyons is responsible for Petitioner’s detention.
31. Respondent Immigration and Customs Enforcement (“ICE”) is the subagency within the Department of Homeland Security responsible for implementing and enforcing the Immigration & Nationality Act, including the detention of noncitizens.
32. Respondent Marcos Charles is the Acting Executive Associate Director for ICE Enforcement and Removal Operations (“ERO”)
33. Respondent Mark Siegel is being sued in his official capacity as the Field Office Director for the Oklahoma City Field Office for ICE within DHS. In that capacity, Field Director Siegel has supervisory authority over the ICE agents responsible for detaining Bahadorani.
34. Respondent Scarlet Grant is being sued in her official capacity as the Warden of the Cimarron Correctional Facility. Because Petitioner is detained in the Cimarron Correctional Facility, Respondent Grant has immediate day-to-day control over Petitioner.

EXHAUSTION

35. ICE asserts authority to jail Bahadorani pursuant to the mandatory detention provisions of 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a)(1). No statutory requirement of exhaustion applies to Bahadorani's challenge to the lawfulness of his detention. See, e.g., Araujo-Cortes v. Shanahan, 35 F. Supp. 3d 533, 538 (S.D.N.Y. 2014) ("There is no statutory requirement that a habeas petitioner exhaust his administrative remedies before challenging his immigration detention."); Rodriguez v. Bostock, No. 3:25-CV-05240-TMC, 2025 WL 1193850, at *11 (W.D. Wash. Apr. 24, 2025) (citing Marroquin Ambriz v. Barr, 420 F. Supp. 3d 953, 962 (N.D. Cal. 2019) ("this Court 'follows the vast majority of other cases which have waived exhaustion based on irreparable injury when an individual has been detained for months without a bond hearing, and where several additional months may pass before the BIA renders a decision on a pending appeal.'"); Gomes v. Hyde, No. 1:25-CV-11571-JEK, 2025 WL 1869299, at *5 (D. Mass. July 7, 2025) ((citing Portela-Gonzalez v. Sec'y of the Navy, 109 F.3d 74, 77 (1st Cir. 1997) (quoting McCarthy v. Madigan, 503 U.S. 140, 146 (1992))).
36. To the extent that prudential consideration may require exhaustion in some circumstances, Bahadorani has exhausted all effective administrative remedies available to him as he has previously demonstrated to ICE's satisfaction that his removal is not substantially likely to occur in the reasonably foreseeable future. ICE has never rebutted this showing. Any further efforts would be futile.

37. Prudential exhaustion is not required when to do so would be futile or “the administrative body . . . has . . . predetermined the issue before it.” McCarthy v. Madigan, 503 U.S. 140, 148 (1992), superseded by statute on other grounds as stated in Woodford v. Ngo, 548 U.S. 81 (2006).
38. Prudential exhaustion is also not required in cases where “a particular plaintiff may suffer irreparable harm if unable to secure immediate judicial consideration of his claim.” McCarthy, 503 U.S. at 147. Every day that Bahadorani is unlawfully detained causes him and his family irreparable harm. Jarpa v. Mumford, 211 F. Supp. 3d 706, 711 (D. Md. 2016) (“Here, continued loss of liberty without any individualized bail determination constitutes the kind of irreparable harm which forgives exhaustion.”); Matacua v. Frank, 308 F. Supp. 3d 1019, 1025 (D. Minn. 2018) (explaining that “a loss of liberty” is “perhaps the best example of irreparable harm”); Hamama v. Adducci, 349 F. Supp. 3d 665, 701 (E.D. Mich. 2018) (holding that “detention has inflicted grave” and “irreparable harm” and describing the impact of prolonged detention on individuals and their families).
39. Prudential exhaustion is additionally not required in cases where the agency “lacks the institutional competence to resolve the particular type of issue presented, such as the constitutionality of a statute.” McCarthy, 503 U.S. at 147–48. Immigration agencies have no jurisdiction over constitutional challenges of the kind Bahadorani raises here. See, e.g., Matter of C-, 20 I. & N. Dec. 529, 532 (BIA 1992) (“[I]t is settled that the immigration judge and this Board lack jurisdiction to rule upon the constitutionality of the Act and the regulations.”); Matter of Akram, 25 I. & N. Dec.

874, 880 (BIA 2012); Matter of Valdovinos, 18 I. & N. Dec. 343, 345 (BIA 1982); Matter of Fuentes-Campos, 21 I. & N. Dec. 905, 912 (BIA 1997); Matter of U-M-, 20 I. & N. Dec. 327 (BIA 1991).

40. Because requiring Bahadorani to exhaust administrative remedies would be futile, would cause him irreparable harm, and the immigration agencies lack jurisdiction over the constitutional claims, this Court should not require exhaustion as a prudential matter.
41. In any event, Bahadorani has indeed exhausted all remedies available to him.
42. ICE has denied Bahadorani release because: (A) it incorrectly believes Bahadorani is responsible for reestablishing that removal is not substantially likely to occur in the reasonably foreseeable future, (B) ICE seeks to punish Bahadorani for remaining in the United States after previously having been ordered removed, and (C) ICE seeks to punish Bahadorani to send a message to similarly situated persons who have not yet been detained as a way to encourage those similarly situated people to immediately leave the United States to avoid Bahadorani's fate.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS & PROCEDURAL HISTORY

43. Bahadorani re-alleges and incorporates by reference each allegation contained in ¶¶ 1-42 as if set forth fully herein.
44. On June 11, 2025, Bahadorani was picked up and redetained by ICE while returning home from work, roughly six months before his scheduled check in. He has remained detained in Respondents' custody since that date.
45. Each time ICE has previously tried to obtain a travel document for Bahadorani, it has failed.

46. Bahadorani does not recall ever having been served with a Notice of Revocation of Release (“Notice”) purporting to revoke his OOS, nor does he recall having been given any sort of informal interview to challenge the Notice.
47. Assuming arguendo that Bahadorani may have been served with a Notice of Revocation of Release (“Notice”), revoking his OOS, the Notice has not been reviewed by Petitioner’s counsel, but likely claims in a conclusory manner that “ICE has determined there is a significant likelihood of removal in the reasonably foreseeable future in your case” based on unidentified “changed circumstances.”
48. The Notice, if any, does not provide a reasoned basis for believing that there is now a significant likelihood of removal in the reasonably foreseeable future.
49. The Notice, if any, does not provide Bahadorani with sufficient information to be in a position to rebut the factual allegations underlying the Notice at an informal interview.
50. The Notice, if any, does not provide enough information or detail to allow this Court to meaningfully review the relevant claims made in the Notice.
51. Bahadorani does not understand the reason ICE now believes that there is a significant likelihood he will be removed in the reasonably foreseeable future.
52. The Notice, if any, does not allege that Bahadorani has failed to comply with any of the terms of his OOS.
53. The Notice, if any, does not allege that Respondents have obtained a travel document allowing for Bahadorani's immediate removal from the United States.

54. The Notice, if any, does not allege any new facts that might form an independent basis for taking Bahadorani into custody.
55. At the time of Bahadorani's arrest, up through the present, ICE has no information that could reasonably lead it to believe changed circumstances exist that justify redetention under 8 C.F.R. § 241.13(i)(2)-(3).
56. At the time of redetention, ICE had not yet begun the steps of having Bahadorani apply for a travel document from detention for Iran nor some other allegedly safe third country.
57. Even after Bahadorani was detained by ICE in 2025, ICE failed to take timely meaningful steps to ensure Petitioner's removal from the United States in the reasonably foreseeable future. More than 90 days (i.e., the § 1231 "removal period") have elapsed since Bahadorani was redetained and ICE still has not so much as had him apply for a travel document.
58. Respondents maintain Bahadorani is ineligible for release from custody.
59. On April 30, 2025, the Department of Homeland Security issued a press release entitled 100 Days of Fighting Fake News.<sup>1</sup> In that document, DHS referenced civil immigration detention and the present administration's heavy reliance on civil detention to accomplish its political aims. Specifically, the document states:

The reality is that prison isn't supposed to be fun. It's a necessary measure to protect society and punish bad guys. It is not meant to be comfortable. What's more: prison can be avoided by self-deportation.

CBP Home makes it simple and easy. If you are a criminal alien and we have to deport you, you could end up in Guantanamo Bay or CECOT. Leave now.

(emphasis added).

60. Myriad courts around the country have granted habeas corpus petitions and/or enjoined the current administration's attempts to use civil detention punitively against noncitizens. See, e.g., Mohammed H. v. Trump, No.: 25-CV-1576-JWB-DTS, --- F. Supp. 3d ---, 2025 WL 1692739, at *5 (D. Minn. June 17, 2025) ("Punishing Petitioner for protected speech or using him as an example to intimidate other students into self-deportation is abusive and does not reflect legitimate immigration detention purposes.") (emphasis added); Mahdawi v. Trump, --- F. Supp. 3d ---, 2025 WL 1243135, at *11 (D. Vt. Apr. 30, 2021) (recognizing that immigration detention cannot be motivated by the desire to punish speech or to deter others from speaking); Ozturk, --- F. Supp. 3d ---, 2025 WL 1145250, at *60 ("So long as detention is motivated by those goals, and not a desire for punishment, the Court is generally required to defer to the political branches on the administration of the immigration system."); see also Fong Yue Ting v. United States, 149 U.S. 698, 730 (1893) ("The order of deportation is not a punishment").

LEGAL FRAMEWORK

61. Petitioner's present detention is governed by 8 U.S.C. § 1231 and its implementing regulations at 8 C.F.R. pt. 241.
62. Section 1231 mandates detention "[d]uring the removal period." Accord 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a)(1)(A), (a)(2). However, the same sections also require the government to actually remove the alien during this removal period. 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a)(1)(A).

63. The “removal period” is “90 days.” 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a)(1)(A). Petitioner’s “removal period” ended on December 1, 2015 (90 days after the 30-day appeal period elapsed following the order of removal, assuming arguendo Petitioner did not waive appeal causing the removal period to begin on the date the removal order issued).
64. Detention past the removal period can be lawful in circumstances not presented here. See 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a)(1)(C), (a)(6).
65. After a noncitizen has been detained past the removal period, they may seek and obtain their release by demonstrating “there is no significant likelihood of removal to the country to which he or she was ordered removed, or to a third country, in the reasonably foreseeable future.” 8 C.F.R. § 241.13(a).
66. Once a noncitizen is released on an OOS, they are subject to certain conditions of release. See 8 C.F.R. § 241.13(h)(1).
67. Redetention is permitted where it is alleged a noncitizen violated the conditions of release. See 8 C.F.R. § 241.13(h)(2), (i).
68. Regulations also permit the government to withdraw or otherwise revoke release under specific circumstances. See 8 C.F.R. § 241.13(h)(4). One permissible reason to revoke release occurs when, “on account of changed circumstances, the Service determines that there is a significant likelihood that the alien may be removed in the reasonably foreseeable future.” 8 C.F.R. § 241.13(i)(2). Once such a determination is made, the noncitizen must “be notified of the reasons for revocation of [their] release” and must be provided with “an initial informal interview... to afford the alien an opportunity to respond to the reasons for revocation stated in the notification.” 8 C.F.R. § 241.13(i)(3). “The revocation custody review will include an evaluation of any contested facts relevant to the revocation and a determination whether the facts as determined warrant revocation and further denial of release.”

Id. If a noncitizen is not released following the informal interview, “the provisions of [8 C.F.R. § 241.4] shall govern the alien’s continued detention pending removal.”

8 C.F.R. § 241.13(i)(2). Once the provisions of § 241.4 take effect, it appears that the consequence is a total reset of the 90-day removal period under 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a). See 8 C.F.R. § 241.4(b)(4).

69. Under the Supreme Court’s decision in Zadvydas v. Davis, a person subject to a final order of removal cannot, consistent with the Due Process Clause, be detained indefinitely pending removal. 533 U.S. 678, 699-700 (2001). Zadvydas established a temporal marker: post-final order of removal detention of six months or less is presumptively constitutional.

70. Zadvydas also stated:

After this 6-month period, once the alien provides good reason to believe that there is no significant likelihood of removal in the reasonably foreseeable future, the Government must respond with evidence sufficient to rebut that showing. And for detention to remain reasonable, as the period of prior post-removal confinement grows, what counts as the “reasonably foreseeable future” conversely would have to shrink.

533 U.S. at 701 (emphasis added).

71. Zadvydas further held that civil detention violates due process unless special, nonpunitive circumstances outweigh an individual's interest in avoiding restraint. 533 U.S. at 690 (immigration detention must remain “nonpunitive in purpose and effect”) (emphasis added).

REMEDY

72. Respondents' detention of Bahadorani violates the Due Process Clause of the United States Constitution. Bahadorani's ongoing detention violates the Fifth Amendment's guarantee that “[n]o person shall be . . . deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law.” U.S. Const., amend. V.
73. Due Process requires that detention “bear [] a reasonable relation to the purpose for which the individual [was] committed.” Zadvydas, v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 690 (2001) (citing Jackson v. Indiana, 406 U.S. 715, 738 (1972)).
74. Bahadorani seeks immediate release to the extent that Respondents justify his detention on the idea that Petitioner has failed to demonstrate that there is no significant likelihood of his removal in the reasonably foreseeable future; Respondents bear the burden of rebutting the prior showing made by Petitioner. 8 C.F.R. § 241.13(i)(2)-(3). Respondents have failed to meet this burden.
75. Bahadorani seeks immediate release to the extent that Respondents have redetained him for the purpose of punishing him for remaining in the United States despite his final order of removal.
76. Bahadorani seeks immediate release to the extent that Respondents have redetained him for the purpose of punishing him to send a message to similarly situated individuals for the purpose of encouraging those similarly situated persons to leave the United States before they share Bahadorani's fate.

77. Although neither the Constitution nor the federal habeas statutes delineate the necessary content of habeas relief, I.N.S. v. St. Cyr, 533 U.S. 289, 337 (2001) (Scalia, J., dissenting) (“A straightforward reading of [the Suspension Clause] discloses that it does not guarantee any content to . . . the writ of habeas corpus”), implicit in habeas jurisdiction is the power to order release. Boumediene v. Bush, 553 U.S. 723, 779 (2008) (“[T]he habeas court must have the power to order the conditional release of an individual unlawfully detained.”).
78. The Supreme Court has noted that the typical remedy for unlawful detention is release from detention. See, e.g., Munaf v. Geren, 553 U.S. 674 (2008) (“The typical remedy for [unlawful executive detention] is, of course, release.”); see also Wajda v. United States, 64 F.3d 385, 389 (8th Cir. 1995) (stating the function of habeas relief under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 “is to obtain release from the duration or fact of present custody.”).
79. That courts with habeas jurisdiction have the power to order outright release is justified by the fact that, “habeas corpus is, at its core, an equitable remedy,” Schlup v. Delo, 513 U.S. 298, 319 (1995), and that as an equitable remedy, federal courts “[have] broad discretion in conditioning a judgment granting habeas relief [and are] authorized . . . to dispose of habeas corpus matters ‘as law and justice require.’” Hilton v. Braunskill, 481 U.S. 770, 775 (1987) (quoting 28 U.S.C. § 2243). An order of release falls under court’s broad discretion to fashion relief. See, e.g., Jimenez v.

Cronen, 317 F. Supp. 3d 626, 636 (D. Mass. 2018) (“Habeas corpus is an equitable remedy. The court has the discretion to fashion relief that is fair in the circumstances, including to order an alien’s release.”).

80. Immediate release is an appropriate remedy in this case.

CAUSE OF ACTION

COUNT ONE: DECLARATORY RELIEF

81. Bahadorani re-alleges and incorporates by reference each allegation contained in the preceding paragraphs as if set forth fully herein.
82. Bahadorani requests a declaratory judgment pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201 that Bahadorani is detained pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a)(1).
83. Bahadorani requests a declaratory judgment pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201 that Bahadorani has previously demonstrated to ICE’s satisfaction that there is no significant likelihood of his removal in the reasonably foreseeable future (“NSLRRFF”).
84. Bahadorani requests a declaratory judgment pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201 that ICE did not rebut Bahadorani’s prior NSLRRFF showing prior to redetaining him.
85. Bahadorani requests a declaratory judgment pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201 that until ICE rebuts Bahadorani’s prior NSLRRFF showing, Bahadorani may not be redetained.

COUNT TWO: VIOLATION OF THE IMMIGRATION & NATIONALITY ACT
– 8 C.F.R. § 241.13(i)(2)-(3)

86. Bahadorani re-alleges and incorporates by reference each allegation contained in ¶¶

1-80 as if set forth fully herein.

87. Section 1231(a)(1)-(3) of Title 8 of the U.S. Code and 8 C.F.R. § 241.13(i)(2)-(3) governs the detention, release, and redetention of aliens with final orders of removal.
88. Respondents have failed to comply with these provisions prior to redetaining Petitioner after Petitioner's release on an OOS.
89. No independent alternative basis supports Respondents' decision to redetain Petitioner.
90. Petitioner is therefore detained in violation of the INA.

COUNT THREE: VIOLATION OF THE FIFTH AMENDMENT

91. Bahadorani re-alleges and incorporates by reference each allegation contained in ¶¶ 1-80 as if set forth fully herein.
92. The Fifth Amendment Due Process Clause protects against arbitrary detention and requires that detention be reasonably related to its purpose and accompanied by adequate procedures to ensure that detention is serving its legitimate goals. It further requires that detention cease when a noncitizen has established to the government's satisfaction that there is no significant likelihood of removal in the reasonably foreseeable future after the noncitizen has been ordered removed and has served six months in post-removal-order custody.
93. Bahadorani is no longer subject to mandatory custody under the Immigration & Nationality Act. He has served more than six months in post-removal-order detention. In order to terminate his prior detention, he established to the government's satisfaction that there was no significant likelihood of removal in the reasonably foreseeable future. The government has not rebutted this with credible evidence. The government does not presently have a travel document for Bahadorani. There are no new circumstances that otherwise justify Bahadorani's redetention. Thus, Respondents have violated Bahadorani's Fifth Amendment guarantee of due process.

94. Respondents have also independently violated Bahadorani's Fifth Amendment due process right by incarcerating him to punish him and to otherwise send a message to similarly situated individuals that they must leave the United States to avoid a similar fate.

COUNT FOUR: VIOLATION OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES ACT
– CONTRARY TO LAW AND ARBITRARY AND CAPRICIOUS AGENCY
POLICY

95. Bahadorani re-alleges and incorporates by reference each allegation contained in ¶¶ 1-80 as if set forth fully herein.
