VERIFIED PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

Respondents illegally incarcerate without bond Petitioner Benjamin Hernandez Vazquez at Immigration and Customs Enforcement's ("ICE") Denver Contract Detention Facility in Aurora, Colorado. Mr. Hernandez Vazquez is entitled to a writ of habeas corpus to end his unlawful loss of liberty.

I. INTRODUCTION

1. Petitioner Benjamin Hernandez Vazquez (“Mr. Hernandez Vazquez”) entered the United States almost twenty years ago and has not left since. He is the loving father of two U.S. citizen children under twelve. Mr. Hernandez Vazquez’s only contact with the criminal legal system involves driving without a license and yet Respondents incarcerate him without the opportunity to request bond.

2. ICE took Mr. Hernandez Vazquez into custody in July of 2025 and charge him as removable for “entry without inspection” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(6)(A)(i) and pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(7)(A)(i)(I) for not being in possession of valid entry documents. An Immigration Judge (“IJ”) has yet to sustain either charge.

3. Despite Mr. Hernandez Vazquez’s long-standing ties to his community in the U.S. and the hardship detention inflicts on his U.S. citizen family, Respondents are illegally denying him release on bond while civilly incarcerating him at the ICE Denver Contract Detention Facility in Aurora, Colorado (“Aurora Facility”).<sup>1</sup>

II. PARTIES

Petitioner

4. ICE jails Mr. Hernandez Vazquez at the Aurora Facility in Aurora, Colorado. Mr. Hernandez Vazquez has lived in the United States for nearly twenty years. He has two U.S. citizen children, a seven-year-old and an eleven-year-old. His only contact with the criminal legal system involves driving without a license.

<sup>1</sup> This Petition does not refer to the Aurora Facility or Mr. Hernandez Vazquez’s loss of liberty as detention because it does not accurately reflect the conditions at the Aurora Facility. E.g., L.G. v. Choate, 744 F. Supp. 3d 1172, 1182 (D. of Colo. 2024) (citation omitted) (acknowledging that the District of Colorado has already found that the GEO Facility is “more akin to incarceration than civil confinement”).

Respondents

5. Juan Baltazar is the Warden of the Aurora Facility where ICE jails Mr. Hernandez Vazquez, and is an employee of the GEO Group, the for-profit prison company that operates the facility. Mr. Baltazar is a legal custodian of Mr. Hernandez Vazquez. He is sued in his official capacity.

6. Robert Guadian is the ICE Field Office Director of the Denver ICE Field Office and is sued in his official capacity. Mr. Guadian is the immediate custodian of Mr. Hernandez Vazquez and is responsible for Mr. Hernandez Vazquez's detention and removal.

7. Kristi Noem is the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). Ms. Noem is responsible for the implementation and enforcement of the INA. DHS is the parent agency of ICE, and thus Ms. Noem also oversees ICE, which is responsible for Mr. Hernandez Vazquez's illegal detention. Ms. Noem has ultimate custodial authority over Mr. Hernandez Vazquez and is sued in her official capacity.

8. Todd M. Lyons is the Acting Director of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) and is sued in his official capacity. Mr. Lyons is responsible for Mr. Hernandez Vazquez's illegal detention and has custodial authority over him.

9. Pamela Bondi is the Attorney General of the United States. She is responsible for the actions of the Department of Justice (DOJ). The Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR) and the immigration court system it operates are a component agency of DOJ. Ms. Bondi is sued in her official capacity.

III. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

10. Respondents incarcerate Mr. Hernandez Vazquez at the Aurora Facility in Aurora, Colorado. Mr. Hernandez Vazquez is currently imprisoned in this District and is under the control of Respondents and their agents.

11. Mr. Hernandez Vazquez brings this action under 28 U.S.C. § 2241, the INA and its implementing regulations, the Administrative Procedures Act (5 §§ U.S.C. 500-596, 701-706), the All Writs Act (8 U.S.C. § 1651), the Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. § 2201, and the U.S. Constitution. District courts have jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 to hear habeas corpus actions by noncitizens challenging the lawfulness and constitutionality of their civil immigration detention.

12. This Court also has federal question jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331, as this is a civil action arising under the laws of the U.S.

13. Venue is proper under 28 U.S.C. § 1391 because Respondents imprison Mr. Hernandez Vazquez in Aurora, Colorado, within the jurisdiction of this Court. Likewise, Mr. Hernandez Vazquez is a resident of this District, his counsel is located in this District, and a substantial part of the events giving rise to the claims in this action took place within this District. Mr. Hernandez Vazquez's counsel is also in the District.

IV. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

A. Legal Authority for Immigration Detention.

14. ICE's authority to jail noncitizens is proscribed by statute. Section 1226(a) of 8 U.S.C. establishes discretionary detention for noncitizens ICE arrests "[o]n a warrant issued by the Attorney General" and then place in 8 U.S.C. § 1229a removal proceedings. 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a). Those noncitizens may then request an IJ to redetermine the arresting immigration officer's "initial custody determination” at any time prior to a final order of removal. Id.; 8 C.F.R. §§ 236.1(d)(1), 1003.19(a), (b). During the custody redetermination request, i.e., bond hearing, the IJ determines whether the noncitizen establishes by the preponderance of the evidence if they are a risk of flight or danger to the community. See generally Matter of Guerra, 24 I. & N. Dec. 37 (B.I.A. 2006).

15. Section 1226(c) of 8 U.S.C. establishes mandatory detention for noncitizens with certain criminal legal contacts in § 1229a removal proceedings. 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c). IJs do not have the authority to consider these noncitizens’ request for release on bond unless ICE is substantially unlikely to establish that the noncitizen falls within one of § 1226(c)’s mandatory detention provisions. See generally Matter of Joseph, 22 I. & N. Dec. 799 (B.I.A. 1999).

16. The statute also provides for mandatory detention of a narrow subset of noncitizens subject to an expedited removal pursuant to § 1225(b) or for other noncitizen “applicants for admission” to the U.S. who are apprehended at the border or port of entry. See 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2). Section 1225 focuses on noncitizens “arriv[ing]” “whether or not at a designated port of arrival,” and applies to people like those who were “interdicted in international or United States waters” (§ 1225(a)(1)), are “stowaways” (§ 1225(a)(2)), and who are otherwise “applicants for admission” into the U.S. (§ 1225(a)(3)). In contrast to § 1226, § 1225 discusses matters such as “screening” “claims for asylum” (§ 1225(b)(1)(A)(i)-(ii)) at the border, “inspection” by an immigration officer to determine if a noncitizen “is ... clearly and beyond a doubt entitled to be admitted” (§ 1225(b)(2) & (d)), and “removal” of “an arriving [noncitizen]” (§ 1225(c)(1)).

17. Finally, the statute provides for detention of noncitizens with final removal orders. 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a), (b).

18. Mr. Hernandez Vazquez does not have criminal legal contact rendering him subject to 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c). He is also not subject to § 1231 detention because he does not have a final removal order. Rather, this case concerns the discretionary detention provision at 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a) and Respondents' erroneous assertion that mandatory detention pursuant to § 1225(b) applies.

19. The Supreme Court summarizes the interplay between §§ 1226 and 1225 as follows: "In sum, U.S. immigration law authorizes the Government to detain certain [noncitizens] seeking admission into the country under §§ 1225(b)(1) and (b)(2). It also authorizes the Government to detain certain [noncitizens] already in the country pending the outcome of removal proceedings under §§ 1226(a) and (c)." Jennings v. Rodriguez, 582 U.S. 281, 289 (2018) (Alito, J., emphasis added).

20. Both the § 1226 and § 1225 detention provisions were enacted as part of the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act (IIRIRA) of 1996, Pub. L. No. 104-208, Div. C, §§ 302-03, 110 Stat. 3009-546, 3009-582 to 3009-583, 3009-585. Section 1226(a) was most recently amended in early 2025 by the Laken Riley Act (LRA), Pub. L. No. 119-1, 139 Stat. 3 (2025).

21. Following the enactment of the IIRIRA in 1996, EOIR wrote regulations applicable to proceedings before IJs explaining that, in general, people who entered the country without inspection (also known as "present without admission") were not detainable under § 1225 and instead could only be detained under § 1226(a). See Inspection and Expedited Removal of Aliens; Detention and Removal of Aliens; Conduct of Removal Proceedings; Asylum Procedures, 62 Fed. Reg. 10312, 10323 (Mar. 6, 1997) ("Despite being applicants for admission, aliens who are present without having been admitted or paroled (formerly referred to as aliens who entered without inspection) will be eligible for bond and bond redetermination").

22. Thus, in the following decades, people who entered without inspection and did not have certain criminal legal contacts received § 1226(a) bond hearings when placed in § 1229a proceedings. That practice was consistent with additional decades of pre-IIRIRA practice, in which noncitizens who were not “arriving” or seeking entry into the United States were entitled to a custody hearing before an IJ or other hearing officer. See 8 U.S.C. § 1252(a) (1994); see also H.R. Rep. No. 104-469, pt. 1, at 229 (1996) (noting the new § 1226(a) simply “restates” the detention authority previously found at § 1252(a)).

23. This practice – both pre- and post-enactment of the IIRIRA – is consistent with the fact that noncitizens present in the U.S. have constitutional rights. “[T]he Due Process Clause applies to all ‘persons’ within the United States, including [noncitizens], whether their presence is lawful, unlawful, temporary, or permanent.” Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 693 (2001).

24. Despite this long-standing practice and the plain text of the statute, the Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA) issued an unpublished decision on May 22, 2025 holding that noncitizens who entered the United States without inspection were subject to § 1225(b)(2) mandatory detention as “applicants for admission.”

25. On July 8, 2025, ICE, “in coordination with” the DOJ announced a new policy consistent with the unpublished BIA decision from May 22, 2025. The new ICE/DOJ policy, titled “Interim Guidance Regarding Detention Authority for Applicants for Admission,” claims that all noncitizens present within the U.S. who entered without inspection – no matter how long ago, no matter where, and no matter how – are deemed “applicants for admission” under 8 U.S.C. § 1225, and thus subject to mandatory detention under § 1225(b)(2)(A). The new policy applies regardless of when and where a person was apprehended and affects people who have resided in the U.S. for years.

26. On September 5, 2025 the BIA published a precedential decision finding the same. Matter of Yajure Hurtado, 29 I. & N. Dec. 216 (BIA 2025). IJs across the country are now required to apply Respondents' unlawful detention regime absent federal court intervention.

27. The federal courts have since resoundingly rejected Respondents' position. See Rodriguez-Vazquez v. Bostock, No. 779 F.Supp.3d 1239 (W.D. Wash. 2025); Gomes v. Hyde, No. 1:25-CV-11571-JEK, 2025 WL 1869299, *8 (D. Mass. July 7, 2025); Diaz Martinez v. Hyde, No. CV 25-11613-BEM, --- F. Supp.3d ---, 2025 WL 2084238, *9 (D. Mass. 28. The federal courts' overwhelming rejection of Respondents' position continues unabated after Matter of Yajure Hurtado. See e.g., *Zaragoza Mosqueda v. 29. The District of Colorado joined the chorus on September 16, 2025 when Judge Sweeney explained, inter alia, that the Government’s argument for § 1225(b)(2) detention must fail when a noncitizen is not “seeking admission” into the United States. Garcia Cortes v. Noem et al., No. 1:25-cv-02677-CNS, 2025 WL 2652880 at *3 (D. of Colo. Sept. 16 2025) (“Because Petitioner is not, nor was he at the time he was arrested, seeking admission, § 1225(b)(2)(A)’s mandatory detention requirement does not apply”).

30. As evidenced by the federal court decisions, Respondents’ interpretation that § 1225(b) governs detention in this case defies the plain language of the INA, fundamental canons of statutory construction, and the agency’s long-extant implementing regulations.

31. Indeed, the statute’s plain text demonstrates § 1226(a) – not § 1225(b) – applies to people like Mr. Hernandez Vazquez. Section 1226(a) is the “default rule” applying to all persons “pending a decision on whether the [noncitizen] is to be removed.” Rodriguez Vazquez, 779 F.Supp.3d at 1246; Jennings, 582 U.S. at 281.

32. Notably, the plain language of § 1226 applies to people charged as inadmissible for entering without inspection. E.g., 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c)(1)(E). Subparagraph (E)’s reference to inadmissible individuals makes clear that, by default, inadmissible individuals not subject to subparagraph (E)(ii) are entitled to a bond hearing under subsection (a). As the Rodriguez-Vazquez court explained, “[w]hen Congress creates ‘specific exceptions’ to a statute’s applicability, it ‘proves’ that absent those exceptions, the statute generally applies.” Rodriguez-Vazquez, 779 F.Supp.3d at 1256-57 (citing Shady Grove Orthopedic Assocs., P.A. v. Allstate Ins. Co., 559 U.S. 393, 400 (2010)).

33. Thus, § 1226 applies to noncitizens like Mr. Hernandez Vazquez who are present without inspection, face inadmissibility charges in removal proceedings due to their entrance without inspection, and who do not have certain criminal legal contacts.

34. By contrast, § 1225(b) applies to people arriving at U.S. ports of entry or who recently entered the U.S. and are encountered at or near the border. Section 1225's entire framework is premised around inspection at the border of people who are "seeking admission" to the U.S. 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A). Indeed, the Supreme Court has explained that this mandatory detention scheme applies "at the Nation's borders and ports of entry, where the Government must determine whether a[] [noncitizen] seeking to enter the country is admissible." Jennings, 582 U.S. at 287.

35. Accordingly, contrary to Respondents' erroneous interpretation of the statute, the mandatory detention provisions of § 1225(b)(2) do not apply to people like Mr. Hernandez Vazquez who "arrived" in the country long ago and have resided in Colorado for years before ICE jailed them.

B. Mr. Hernandez Vazquez's Illegal Detention Without Bond

36. Mr. Hernandez Vazquez has resided continuously in the United States since approximately 2006. He lived with his wife and children in Florida who are desperate for his return. His two young U.S. citizen children are suffering in his absence. He is the sole breadwinner for his family, working two jobs and paying taxes. In short, Mr. Hernandez Vazquez has a fixed address, family members that can help him achieve permanent status in the United States, strong ties to the community, and no disqualifying criminal convictions. As such, Mr. Hernandez Vazquez is an excellent candidate for release on bond so that he can fight his removal proceedings while at liberty. E.g., Matter of Guerra, 24 I. & N. Dec at 40 (listing factors relevant for bond).

37. Nevertheless, ICE jailed Mr. Hernandez Vazquez after Florida police stopped him for a broken light on his license plate and then charged him for driving without a license. ICE thereafter initiated removal proceedings against him pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1229a and charged him as removable pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(6)(A)(i) for being present without inspection and pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(7)(A)(i)(I) for not being in possession of valid entry documents. ICE has incarcerated Mr. Hernandez Vazquez since July of 2025 without bond and has not filed any evidence to meet its burden to establish the aforementioned charges of removability.

38. ICE transferred Mr. Hernandez Vazquez multiple times since it jailed him. He was first in Orange County Jail in Florida; he was then jailed at the infamously dangerous Alligator Alcatraz<sup>2</sup>; ICE then transferred him to Texas, Arizona, and finally to Aurora where he is today.

39. On August 27, 2025, Mr. Hernandez Vazquez requested an IJ redetermine ICE's decision to jail him. On September 3, 2025, an IJ at the Aurora Immigration Court ruled that the court lacked jurisdiction to consider his bond redetermination request, finding him subject to § 1225(b)(2) because of his unlawful entry to the United States nearly 20 years ago.

V. CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

COUNT I

Respondents Jail Mr. Hernandez Vazquez in Violation of 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a)

40. Mr. Hernandez Vazquez incorporates by reference the allegations of fact set forth in the preceding paragraphs.

41. The mandatory detention provision at 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) does not apply to Mr. Hernandez Vazquez because he was present and residing in the U.S., has been placed in § 1229a removal proceedings, and charged with inadmissibility pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1182. Simply, § 1225 does not apply to people like Mr. Hernandez Vazquez who previously entered the country and reside in the U.S. prior to being detained and placed in removal proceedings. Such noncitizens may only be detained pursuant to § 1226(a), unless they are subject to mandatory detention provisions irrelevant here. Detention under § 1226(a) requires access to bond.

42. Applying § 1225 to Mr. Hernandez Vazquez unlawfully mandates his continued detention without a bond hearing and violates 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a).

COUNT II

Respondents are Detaining Mr. Hernandez Vazquez in Violation of the INA Bond Regulations (8 C.F.R. §§ 236.1, 1236.1 & 1003.19)

43. Mr. Hernandez Vazquez incorporates by reference the allegations of fact set forth in the preceding paragraphs.

44. Respondent EOIR and the then Immigration and Naturalization Service issued a rule to interpret and apply the IIRIRA under the heading “Apprehension, Custody, and Detention of [Noncitizens],” which explained: “Despite being applicants for admission, [noncitizens] who are present without having been admitted or paroled (formerly referred to as [noncitizens] who entered without inspection) will be eligible for bond.” 62 Fed. Reg. at 10323 (emphasis added). Respondents thus long-ago made clear that people like Mr. Hernandez Vazquez who had entered without inspection were eligible for consideration for bond and bond hearings before IJs under 8 U.S.C. § 1226 and the implementing regulations.

45. Nonetheless, Respondents here deemed Mr. Hernandez Vazquez subject to mandatory detention under § 1225.

46. Applying § 1225 to Mr. Hernandez Vazquez instead unlawfully mandates his continued detention under § 1225(b)(2).
