FREDY NEPTALY CALDERON LOPEZ,

Petitioner,

v.

TODD LYONS, et al.,

Respondents.

Civil Action No. 1:25-CV-00226-H

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE

The Respondents file this Supplemental Response in response to the Court's Order to address the effect of the class action certification and orders in Maldonado Bautista v. Santacruz, No. 5:25-CV-01873-SSS-BFM, 2025 WL 3288403, at *9 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 25, 2025). Specifically, 1) whether Calderon Lopez is a member of the Bond Eligible Class; and 2) if so, whether the Court should grant habeas relief in this case. The Respondents respond as follows:

The Maldonado court granted class certification under Rule 23(b)(2) and partial summary judgment for the petitioners in that case but did not issue a class-wide declaratory judgment. The court also did not issue a class-wide injunction, which would not be permitted by law. Rather, the court set a January 9, 2026, joint status report deadline and January 16, 2026, status conference. See Maldonado, 2025 WL 3288403.

The Maldonado court defined the certified class as follows:

Bond Eligible Class: All noncitizens in the United States without lawful status who (1) have entered or will enter the United States without inspection; (2) were not or will not be apprehended upon arrival; and (3) are not or will not be subject to detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c), § 1225(b)(1), or § 1231 at the time the Department of Homeland Security makes an initial custody determination.

Maldonado, 2025 WL 3288403 at *9.

Petitioner is a member of the Maldonado class. ECF 9, p. 2. Petitioner entered the United States without inspection; he was not apprehended upon arrival; he is not subject to detention under § 1226(c)(criminal aliens), § 1225(b)(1)(arriving alien), or § 1231(post final order of removal) at the time DHS made their initial custody determination.

Because Petitioner is a member of the Maldonado class, the Court should dismiss or, in the alternative, stay this action. Certification of a 23(b)(2) class precludes individual suits for the same injunctive or declaratory relief. See U.S. v. Sanchez-Gomez, 584 U.S. 381, 387 (2018)(noting that “[t]he certification of a suit as a class action has important consequences for the unnamed members of the class, including being “bound by the judgment”) (cleaned up); Gillespie v. Crawford, 858 F.2d 1101, 1103 (5th Cir. 1988) (“To allow individual suits would interfere with the orderly administration of the class action and risk inconsistent adjudications.”). In Gillespie, the Fifth Circuit held that an individual class member is barred from pursuing his own individual lawsuit that seeks equitable relief within the subject matter of the class action. Gillespie, 858 F.2d at 1103. In so holding, the Fifth Circuit explained that “[i]ndividual members of the class . . . may assert any equitable or declaratory claims they have, but they must do so by urging further action through the class representative and attorney, including contempt proceedings, or by intervention in the class action.” Id.

Thus, Petitioner, who is an individual class member cannot bring claims seeking equitable relief in this action and the habeas petition must be dismissed. See, e.g., Oliver v. Scott, No. CIV. 3:98-CV-2246-H, 2000 WL 140745, at *3 (N.D. Tex. Feb. 4, 2000)(dismissing claims based on Gillespie).

Assuming for the sake of argument that the Court finds that Petitioner is a member of the Maldonado class, but that dismissal is not warranted, the Maldonado court's decision does not have preclusive effect in this matter. As noted above, the Maldonado court did not enter a final judgment with respect to the class. Although the court stated it was extending "the same declaratory relief" to the class, a court cannot grant declaratory relief prior to the entry of a final judgment, i.e., a declaratory judgment. See Doran v. Salem Inn, Inc., 422 U.S. 922, 931 (1975)("prior to final judgment there is no established declaratory remedy comparable to a preliminary injunction"). A pre-final judgment declaration is, by its nature, not a declaratory judgment "[b]ecause a preliminary declaration—unlike a final declaration—does not specifically bind anyone, it is more akin to an advisory opinion, which the Court is precluded from issuing by history and the implicit policies embodied in Article III." Vazquez Perez v. Decker, No. 18-CV-10683 (AJN), 2019 WL 4784950, at *10 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 30, 2019).

Absent an entry of final judgment with respect to the class, or a certification of partial final judgment under Rule 54(b), there is no declaratory judgment in Maldonado. The partial summary judgment ruling does not operate as a "judgment" because it is not an appealable order and "does not end the action as to any of the claims or parties and may be revised at any time before the entry of a judgment adjudicating all the claims and all the parties' rights and liabilities." Fed. R. Civ. P. 54(a), (b). Thus, there is no class-wide judgment, let alone any final judgment that could have preclusive effect as to class members.

The Maldonado court did not enter a class-wide judgment. As such, there is currently no declaratory relief, let alone relief with preclusive effect on Maldonado class members' claims concerning the proper interpretation of 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A)'s mandatory detention provision. The Court should not grant habeas relief in this case.
