AMENDED PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

The Petitioner, Miguel Angel Ocegueda Gonzalez, submits this Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2241 to compel his release from custody, as his current civil immigration detention violates the Due Process Clause of the United States Constitution and the Administrative Procedure Act.

INTRODUCTION

1. Petitioner respectfully petitions this Court for a Writ of Habeas Corpus pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2241, challenging his continued and unlawful detention by United States Immigration and Customs Enforcement (“ICE”). Petitioner seeks immediate release, or in the alternative, a constitutionally adequate bond hearing.
2. Petitioner, Miguel Angel Ocegueda Gonzalez, is a Native and Citizen of Mexico. He is currently 22 years old, as his date of birth is Exhibit A – Mexican Passport.
3. Petitioner was detained on August 20, 2025, in Walton County for a traffic violation. He was thereafter transferred on August 22, 2025, into the Custody of the Department of Homeland Security (“DHS”) and has remained in civil detention in the custody of Immigration and Customs Enforcement (“ICE”) at Broward Transitional Center, also commonly referred to as BTC.
4. Petitioner has resided in the United States for approximately twenty (20) years. Prior to his detention, Petitioner lived with and provided financial and emotional support for his family in Ft. Walton Beach, Florida. His ongoing detention imposes a severe hardship on his family, especially in light of his age, and also by depriving his family of both his financial support and his supportive presence.

5. The Petitioner alleges that he has a lawful entry into the United States, pursuant to Matter of Quilantan, 25 I&N Dec. 285 (BIA 2010), for which documents were presented at his bond hearing, however, the Immigration Judge No Actioned the bond as he did not make any findings of an admission to the United States, instead, the Judge would not look beyond the Notice to Appear, which classified the Petitioner as a person who entered without inspection (EWI). The Bond hearing occurred on September 12, 2025. Exhibits B and C.
6. On or about December 31, 2005, Petitioner, Miguel Angel Ocegueda Gonzalez, entered the United States accompanying his father, Miguel Angel Ocegueda Aguilar. The Petitioner's father presented himself at the border using his H2A visa. As part of the Bond Filings, the Petitioner and his family provided affidavits that comport with the holdings of Matter of Quilantan.
7. Petitioner's ongoing detention violates the Immigration and Nationality Act, the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment, and governing Supreme Court precedent.
8. This petition challenges the government's ongoing violation of Petitioner's statutory and constitutional rights. ICE's continued detention of Petitioner despite his pending Asylum Application, and absence of any public safety threat violates the Immigration and Nationality Act ("INA"), which limits civil detention to reasonable periods and lawful purposes, as well as the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment, which prohibits punitive or arbitrary detention.
9. Petitioner's continued detention has become punitive in nature, violating the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment. Civil detention is permissible only so long as it serves a legitimate immigration purpose, such as ensuring appearance or protecting the public.
10. Petitioner is married to a United States Citizen, Josephine Wells Garvie Rukse. The couple was married on April 18, 2023, and together have two minor United States Citizen Children; both are under the age of 2. Exhibit D

11. Petitioner has an approved I-130, Petition for Alien Relative from his United States Citizen wife, he has a pending I-601A, Application for Provisional Unlawful Presence Waiver, and a Pending, I-821D, Consideration of Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA). Exhibit E
12. His prolonged detention, despite his pending Applications and Petitions, strong family ties bear no reasonable relation to those purposes and instead operates as punishment. Such punitive confinement is unconstitutional in the context of civil immigration. Petitioner is also eligible for Cancellation of Removal for Certain Non-Permanent Residents.
13. Petitioner's continued detention is unlawful because it (1) exceeds the scope of detention authority permitted under the INA, (2) violates the Fifth Amendment's Due Process Clause by subjecting him to punitive and indefinite confinement, and (3) contradicts the humanitarian protections afforded to those who are DACA eligible.
14. Petitioner therefore respectfully requests that this Court issue a writ of habeas corpus and order Petitioner's release from custody, with appropriate conditions of supervision if necessary. In the alternative, Petitioner requests that this Court conduct or order an immigration judge to conduct a bond hearing at which (1) the government bears the burden of proving flight risk and dangerousness by clear and convincing evidence and (2) the reviewing court considers alternatives to detention that could mitigate risk of flight. Continued detention under these circumstances serves no legitimate governmental purpose and violates the humanitarian and constitutional principles that govern civil immigration custody.
15. The Court should not dismiss this action because the Petitioner has not exhausted available administrative remedies by requesting a new bond hearing. As requesting a new bond hearing would be futile. The Immigration Judge during his initial bond hearing made a determination that the NTA classified him as EWI.

16. In Matter of Yajure Hurtado, the Board of Immigration Appeals (“BIA”) held that immigration judges have no authority to consider bond requests from noncitizens who entered the United States without inspection “because aliens who are present in the United States without admission are applicants for admission as defined under section 235(b)(2)(A) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A), and must be detained for the duration of their removal proceedings.” 29 I&N Dec. 216, 220 (B.I.A. 2025).
17. The Plaintiff need not exhaust administrative remedies if “the administrative body is shown to be biased or has otherwise predetermined the issue before it.” McCarthy v. Madigan, 503 U.S. 140, 148 (1992); see also Shalala v. Ill. Counsel on Long Term Care, Inc., 529 U.S. 1, 13 (2000).

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

18. This Court has jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 because Petitioner is in federal custody and seeks a writ of habeas corpus challenging the legality of his continued civil detention by U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (“ICE”) in violation of the Constitution and laws of the United States.
19. Venue is proper in this Court under 28 U.S.C. § 2241(a) because Petitioner is detained within the geographic boundaries of the Southern District of Florida, at Broward Transitional Center in Broward County, Florida, which lies within the Fort Lauderdale Division of this District.

PARTIES

20. MIGUEL ANGEL OCEGUEDA GONZLAEZ is a citizen and national of Mexico, born on [REDACTED]. He entered the United States on or about December 31, 2005, and has continuously resided in this country for more than 20 years. Petitioner has several applications and petitions currently pending with USCIS. He is in custody, and under the direct control, of Respondents and their agents.
21. Respondent GARRET RIPA is sued in his official capacity as the Acting Director of the Miami Field Office of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement. Respondent Ripa exercises authority over Petitioner's detention, transfer, and potential release.
22. Respondent KRISTI NOEM is sued in her official capacity as the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS). In this capacity, Respondent NOEM is responsible for the implementation and enforcement of the Immigration and Nationality Act, and oversees U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement, the component agency responsible for Petitioner's detention and custody. Respondent NOEM is a legal custodian of Petitioner.
23. Respondent PAM BONDI is sued in her official capacity as the Attorney General of the United States and the senior official of the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ). In that capacity, she has the authority to adjudicate removal cases and to oversee the Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR), which administers the immigration courts and the BIA. Respondent BONDI is a legal custodian of Petitioner.
24. Respondent, JUAN MORENO, is sued in his official capacity as the U.S. IMMIGRATION AND CUSTOMS ENFORCEMENT (ICE) which is the agency directly Responsible for Petitioner's detention and custody.

25. Respondent, SIRCE OWEN, EXECUTIVE OFFICE FOR IMMIGRATION REVIEW (EOIR) is the federal agency responsible for implementing and enforcing the INA in removal proceedings, including for Custody redetermination and in bond proceedings.

LEGAL FRAMEWORK

26. Federal courts possess jurisdiction to review immigration detention claims through the writ of habeas corpus under 28 U.S.C. § 2241. The statute explicitly allows challenges by individuals who are “in custody in violation of the Constitution or laws or treaties of the United States” Habeas review is particularly appropriate where detention is arbitrary, prolonged, or otherwise unlawful.
27. Numerous courts have affirmed that immigration detainees may invoke § 2241 to test the legality of their confinement. See INS v. St. Cyr, 533 U.S. 289 (2001) (recognizing habeas jurisdiction for legal and constitutional claims of noncitizens); Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678 (2001) (permitting habeas relief where detention exceeds statutory or constitutional limits). Because Petitioner is detained in this District, jurisdiction properly lies with this Court.
28. The Fifth Amendment’s Due Process Clause applies broadly to “all persons” within the United States, including noncitizens regardless of their immigration status. See Mathews v. Diaz, 426 U.S. 67, 77 (1976). The protection of due process encompasses both liberty and bodily integrity and includes freedom from arbitrary civil detention.
29. On September 5, 2025, the Board of Immigration Appeals (“BIA”) issued a binding precedent decision holding that an immigration judge lacks authority to consider bond requests for individuals who entered the United States without admission. Matter of Yajure Hurtado, 29 I. & N. Dec. 216 (BIA 2025). The Board concluded that such individuals are subject to detention under 8 U.S.C. §

1225(b)(2)(A) and therefore ineligible for release on bond. As a result, Petitioner has been categorically barred from seeking custody redetermination before an immigration judge, leaving habeas corpus as his sole available remedy to challenge continued detention.

30. The Fifth Amendment prohibits the federal government from imposing punishment without due process of law. This principle extends to immigration detention, which is civil, not criminal, in nature. See Bell v. Wolfish, 441 U.S. 520, 535 (1979). Conditions of confinement for civil detainees are unconstitutional when they rise to the level of punishment rather than regulation.
31. In this case, the Petitioner was issued a Notice to Appear dated August 30, 2025. Exhibit D – Notice to Appear. The Notice to Appear was issued to the Petitioner and classified him as an alien present in the United States who has not been admitted or paroled (EWI).

COUNT I

Violation of Fifth Amendment Right to Due Process (against all Respondents)

32. Petitioner incorporates by reference all preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.
33. [T]he Due Process Clause applies to all “persons” within the United States, including aliens, whether their presence here is lawful, unlawful, temporary, or permanent.” Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 693. While certain constitutional protections do not extend outside the “geographic borders” of the United States, “legal circumstances change” as soon as a noncitizen “enters the country.” Id.
34. To determine whether civil detention violates a detainee’s due process rights, courts apply the three-part test in Mathews v. Eldridge, 424 U.S. 319 (1976). Under Mathews, courts consider (1) the private interest that will be affected by the official action; (2) the risk of an erroneous deprivation of such interest through the procedures used, and the probable value, if any, of additional or substitute procedural safeguards; and (3) the Government's interest, including the function involved and the fiscal administrative burdens that the additional or substitute procedural requirement would entail. See id. At 335.

35. Here, all three factors favor Petitioner. He has a significant private interest at stake. Hamdi v. Rumsfeld, 542 U.S. 507, 529 (2004) (freedom from physical detention is "the most elemental of liberty interests"); see also Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 690 ("Freedom from imprisonment – from government custody, detention, or other forms of physical restraint – lies at the heart of the liberty that [the Due Process] Clause protects."). The petitioner is experiencing all the deprivations that come with physical detention, including separation from his family and the inability to work to support his family. Next, there is a large risk of the erroneous deprivation of Petitioner's liberty interest through the procedures used in the immigration court proceedings particularly with Petitioner's manner of entry. There are also alternative procedures, such as a cash bond, turn over of his passport, and other measures that might mitigate risk of flight. Finally, to the extent there is any government interest in detention, it is minimal compared with Peitioner's liberty interest.

COUNT II

VIOLATION OF THE IMMIGRATION AND NATIONALITY ACT 8 U.S.C. §§ 1226

(against all Respondents)

36. Petitioner incorporates by reference all preceding paragraphs as it fully set herein.
37. The Immigration and Nationality Act authorizes immigration detention only for narrow, lawful purposes: to ensure attendance at removal proceedings and to protect the community. Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 690 (2001). Detention beyond those limited purposes violates both the statute and the Constitution.

38. Petitioner's detention exceeds the statutory limits Congress intended.
39. He is not subject to a final order of removal and therefore falls under §1226, which does not authorize indefinite or punitive custody. Petitioner has resided in the United States for over 20 years and has no criminal record aside from a traffic violation.
40. The government has not shown that Petitioner's continued detention is necessary to secure his appearance or to protect the public. Reasonable alternatives to detention—such as bond, supervision, or release on recognizance— could achieve the same ends.
41. Accordingly, Petitioner's ongoing detention violates 8 U.S.C. §1226 and the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment. He respectfully requests that this Court order his immediate release or, in the alternative, direct that he receive a prompt bond hearing at which the Government bears the burden of establishing flight risk or dangerousness by clear and convincing evidence. Continued detention under these circumstances transforms what Congress intended to be temporary custody into indefinite civil confinement.

COUNT III

Violation of the Bond Regulations

42. Petitioner incorporates by reference the allegations of fact set forth in preceding paragraphs.
43. In 1997, after Congress amended the INA through IIRIRA, EOIR and the then-Immigration and Naturalization Service issued an interim rule to interpret and apply IIRIRA. Specifically, under the heading of "Apprehension, Custody, and Detention of [Noncitizens]," the agencies explained that "[d]espite being applicants for admission, [noncitizens] who are present without having been admitted or paroled (formerly referred to as [noncitizens] who entered without inspection) will be eligible for bond and bond redetermination.” 62 Fed. Reg. at 10323 (emphasis added). The agencies thus made clear that individuals who had entered without inspection were eligible for consideration for bond and bond hearings before IJS under 8 U.S.C. § 1226 and its implementing regulations.

44. The application of § 1225(b)(2) to Petitioner unlawfully mandates his continued detention and violates 8 C.F.R. §§ 236.1, 1236.1, and 1003.19.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Petitioner respectfully requests that the Court assume jurisdiction over this Petition and Complaint and grant the following relief:

- (1) Assume jurisdiction over this matter;
- (2) Issue an Order to Show Cause ordering Respondents to show cause why this Petition should not be granted within three days;
- (3) Issue a writ of habeas corpus under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 ordering Petitioner’s immediate release from immigration custody at the Broward Transitional Center;
- (4) In the alternative, if the Court determines that immediate release is not warranted, order Respondents to provide Petitioner with a prompt and constitutionally adequate bond hearing before an immigration judge within fourteen (14) days of this Court’s order;
- (5) Issue an Order prohibiting the Respondents from transferring Petitioner from the district without the Court’s approval;
- (6) Declare that Petitioner’s continued detention without an individualized custody determination violates the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment and exceeds the scope of authority permitted under the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1226;

- (7) Award such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper, including, if necessary, temporary or preliminary injunctive relief to ensure Petitioner's health and safety pending adjudication of this matter.
