

3. On information and belief, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement agents apprehended Petitioner at or near Oklahoma City, Oklahoma on November 6, 2025 following a traffic stop in Caddo County, Oklahoma. See Exhibit C, I-213. That same day, the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) issued a Notice to Appear (NTA), charging Petitioner as removable from the United States under section 212(a)(6)(A)(i) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) as noncitizen present in the United States without being admitted or paroled, or who arrives in the United States at any time or place other than as designated by the Attorney General. See Exhibit D, Notice to Appear.
4. Petitioner is currently detained at the Cimarron Correctional Facility 3700 S. Kings Highway Cushing, OK 74023. See ICE Detainee Locator Results, Exhibit A.
5. On September 5, 2025, the Board of Immigration Appeals (“BIA”) issued a precedential decision that unlawfully reinterpreted the Immigration and Nationality Act (“INA”). See Matter of Yajure Hurtado, 29 I&N Dec. 216 (BIA 2025). Prior to this decision, noncitizens like Petitioner who had lived in the U.S. for many years and were apprehended by ICE in the interior of the country were detained pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a) and eligible to seek bond hearings before Immigration Judges (“IJs”). Instead, in conflict with nearly thirty years of legal precedent, Petitioner is now considered subject to mandatory detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A) and has no opportunity for release on bond while his removal proceedings are pending.
6. On November 12, 2025, Petitioner’s immigration counsel requested that he be released on bond through a custody redetermination under 8 C.F.R. § 1236. Immigration Judge Attila Bogdan, sitting in the Aurora, Colorado Immigration Court, denied this bond request by concluding that the Immigration Court had “no jurisdiction” to grant bond. See Exhibit E, IJ's Decision. Petitioner has appealed the Immigration Judge's decision to the Board of Immigration Appeals.

7. Petitioner's detention pursuant to § 1225(b)(2)(A) violates the plain language of the INA and its implementing regulations. Petitioner, who has resided in the U.S. for more than six years and who was apprehended in the interior of the U.S., should not be considered an "applicant for admission" who is "seeking admission." Rather, he should be detained pursuant 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a), which allows for release on conditional parole or bond.
8. Petitioner seeks declaratory relief that he is subject to detention under § 1226(a) and its implementing regulations and asks that this Court either order Respondents to release Petitioner from custody or provide him with a bond hearing.

CUSTODY

9. Petitioner is currently in the custody of Immigration and Customs Enforcement ("ICE") at the Cimarron Correctional Facility in Cushing, Oklahoma. See ICE Detainee Locator Results, Exhibit A. He is therefore in "'custody' of [the DHS] within the meaning of the habeas corpus statute." Jones v. Cunningham, 371 U.S. 236, 243 (1963).

JURISDICTION

10. This court has jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 (habeas corpus), 28 U.S.C. § 1331 (federal question), Article I, § 9, cl. 2 of the United States Constitution (Suspension Clause), and the Immigration and Nationality Act ("INA"), 8 U.S.C. § 1101 et. seq.
11. This Court may grant relief under the habeas corpus statutes, 28 U.S.C. § 2241 et. seq., the Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. § 2201 et. seq., the All Writs Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1651, and the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1252(e)(2).

12. Federal district courts have jurisdiction to hear habeas claims by non-citizens challenging both the lawfulness and the constitutionality of their detention. See Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 687 (2001).

REQUIREMENTS OF 28 U.S.C. §§ 2241, 2243

13. The Court must grant the petition for writ of habeas corpus or issue an order to show cause (“OSC”) to Respondents “forthwith,” unless Petitioner is not entitled to relief. 28 U.S.C. § 2243. If an OSC is issued, the Court must require Respondents to file a return “within three days unless for good cause additional time, not exceeding twenty days, is allowed.” Id.

14. Petitioner is “in custody” for the purpose of § 2241 because Petitioner was arrested and detained by Respondents.

VENUE

15. Venue is properly before this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(e) because Respondents are employees or officers of the United States acting in their official capacity and because Petitioner is currently detained in Cushing, Oklahoma, at the Cimarron Correctional Facility. See Exhibit A. In addition, no real property is involved in this matter.

EXHAUSTION OF ADMINISTRATIVE REMEDIES

16. Administrative exhaustion is unnecessary as it would be futile. See, e.g., Aguilar v. Lewis, 50 F. Supp. 2d 539, 542–43 (E.D. Va. 1999).

17. It would be futile for Petitioner to seek a custody redetermination hearing before an IJ because of the BIA recent decision holding that anyone who has entered the U.S. without inspection is now considered an “applicant for admission” who is “seeking admission” and therefore subject to mandatory detention under § 1225(b)(2)(A). See Matter of Yajure

Hurtado, 29 I&N Dec. 216 (BIA 2025); see also Zaragoza Mosqueda v. Noem, 2025 WL 2591530, at *7 (C.D. Cal. Sept. 8, 2025) (noting that BIA’s decision in Yajure Hurtado renders exhaustion futile). Petitioner sought a bond determination and Immigration Judge Attila Bogdan refused him bond on November 20, 2025, finding that he lacked jurisdiction to review the issue of bond eligibility. See Decision of Immigration Judge, Exhibit E. Petitioner has appealed the Immigration Judge’s decision to the Board of Immigration Appeals.

18. Additionally, the agency does not have jurisdiction to review Petitioner’s claim of unlawful custody in violation of his due process rights, and it would therefore be futile for him to pursue administrative remedies. Reno v Amer.-Arab Anti-Discrim. Comm., 525 U.S. 471, 119 S.Ct. 936, 142 L.Ed.2d 940 (1999) (finding exhaustion to be a “futile exercise because the agency does not have jurisdiction to review” constitutional claims).

PARTIES

19. Petitioner is a citizen and national of China and has resided in the U.S. since 2019. He is currently detained at the Cimarron Correctional Facility in Cushing, Oklahoma.
20. Respondent Scarlet Grant is sued in her official capacity as Warden of the F Cimarron Correctional Facility. In her official capacity, Respondent Grant is Petitioner’s immediate custodian.
21. Respondent Mark Siegel is sued in his official capacity as Acting Field Office Director of the Oklahoma City Field Office, Enforcement and Removal Operations, ICE. In his official capacity, Respondent Siegel is the legal custodian of Petitioner.
22. Respondent Todd M. Lyons is sued in his official capacity as Acting Director of ICE. As the Acting Director of ICE, Respondent Lyons is a legal custodian of Petitioner.

23. Respondent Kristi Noem is sued in her official capacity as Secretary of Homeland Security. As the head of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, the agency tasked with enforcing immigration laws, Secretary Noem is Petitioner's ultimate legal custodian.
24. Respondent Pamela Jo Bondi is sued in her official capacity as the Attorney General of the United States. As Attorney General, she has authority over the Department of Justice and is charged with faithfully administering the immigration laws of the United States.

LEGAL BACKGROUND AND ARGUMENT

25. The INA prescribes three basic forms of detention for noncitizens in removal proceedings.
26. First, individuals detained pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a) are generally entitled to a bond hearing, unless they have been arrested, charged with, or convicted of certain crimes and are subject to mandatory detention. See 8 U.S.C. §§ 1226(a), 1226(c) (listing grounds for mandatory detention); see also 8 C.F.R. §§ 1003.19(a) (immigration judges may review custody determinations made by DHS), 1236.1(d) (same).
27. Second, the INA provides for mandatory detention of noncitizens subject to expedited removal under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(1) as well as other recent arrivals deemed to be "seeking admission" under § 1225(b)(2).
28. Third, the INA authorizes detention of noncitizens who have received a final order of removal, including those in withholding-only proceedings. See 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a)–(b).
29. The detention provisions at § 1226(a) and § 1225(b)(2) were enacted as part of the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act ("IIRIRA") of 1996, Pub. L. No. 104-208, Div. C, §§ 302-03, 110 Stat. 3009-546, 300-582 to 3009-583, 3009-585. Section 1226 was most recently amended earlier this year by the Laken Riley Act, Pub. L. No. 119-1, 139 Stat. 3 (2025).

30. Following the enactment of the IIRIRA, the U.S. Department of Justice's Executive Office of Immigration Review ("EOIR") drafted new regulations explaining that, in general, people who entered the country without inspection were not considered detained under § 1225 and that they were instead detained under § 1226(a). See Inspection and Expedited Removal of Aliens; Detention and Removal of Aliens; Conduct of Removal Proceedings; Asylum Procedures, 62 Fed. Reg. 10312, 10323 (Mar. 6, 1997) ("Despite being applicants for admission, aliens who are present without having been admitted or paroled (formerly referred to as aliens who entered without inspection) will be eligible for bond and bond redetermination").
31. Thus, in the decades that followed, most people who entered without inspection and were thereafter detained and placed in standard removal proceedings were considered for release on bond and also received bond hearings before an Immigration Judge ("IJ"), unless their criminal history rendered them ineligible. That practice was consistent with many more decades of prior practice, in which noncitizens who had entered the United States, even if without inspection, were entitled to a custody hearing before an IJ or other hearing officer. In contrast, those who were stopped at the border were only entitled to release on parole. See 8 U.S.C. § 1252(a) (1994); see also H.R. Rep. No. 104-469, pt. 1, at 220 (1996) (noting that § 1226(a) simply "restates" the detention authority previously found at § 1252(a)).
32. For decades, long-term residents of the U.S. who entered without inspection and were subsequently apprehended by ICE in the interior of the country have been detained pursuant to § 1226 and entitled to bond hearings before an IJ, unless barred from doing so due to their criminal history.

33. In July 2025, however, ICE began asserting that all individuals who entered without inspection should be considered “seeking admission” and therefore subject to mandatory detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A).
34. On September 5, 2025, the BIA issued a precedential decision adopting this interpretation, departing from the INA’s text, federal precedent, and existing regulations. Matter of Yajure Hurtado, 29 I&N Dec. 216 (BIA 2025).
35. Defendants’ new legal interpretation is plainly contrary to the statutory framework and its implementing regulations. Indeed, for decades, Defendants had applied § 1226(a) to people like the Petitioner. Defendants’ new policies are thus not only contrary to law, but are also arbitrary and capricious in violation of the Administrative Procedure Act (“APA”). They were also adopted without complying with the procedural requirements of the APA.
36. Numerous federal courts have rejected this interpretation and instead have consistently found that § 1226, not § 1225(b)(2), authorizes detention of noncitizens who entered without inspection and were later apprehended in the interior of the country. See e.g., Sampiao v. Hyde, 2025 WL 2607924 (D. Mass. Sept. 9, 2025) (noting court’s disagreement with BIA’s analysis in Yajure Hurtado); Leal-Hernandez v. Noem, 2025 WL 2430025 (D. Md. Aug. 24, 2025); Lopez Benitez v. Francis, 2025 WL 2371588 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 13, 2025); Jimenez v. FCI Berlin, Warden, No. 25-cv-326-LM-AJ (D.N.H. Sept. 8, 2025); Kostak v. Trump, 2025 WL 2472136 (W.D. La. Aug. 27, 2025); Cuevas Guzman v. Andrews, 2025 WL 2617256, at *3 n.4 (E.D. Cal. Sept. 9, 2025); see also Lepe v. Andrews, No. 1:25-cv-01163-KES-SKO (HC) (E.D. Cal. Sept. 23, 2025), attached hereto as Exhibit F, Lopez v. Hardin, No. 2:25-cv-830-KCD-NPM (M.D. Fla. Sept. 25, 2025), attached hereto as Exhibit G, and Chafla v. Scott, No. 2:25-cv-00437-SDN (D. Maine Sept. 21, 2025), attached hereto as Exhibit H.

37. Under the Supreme Court's recent decision in Loper Bright v. Raimondo, this Court should independently interpret the statute and give the BIA's expansive interpretation of § 1225(b)(2) no weight, as it conflicts with the statute, regulations, and precedent. 603 U.S. 369 (2024).
38. The detention provisions at § 1226(a) and § 1225(b)(2) were enacted as part of the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act ("IIRIRA") of 1996, Pub. L. No. 104-208, Div. C, §§ 302–03, 110 Stat. 3009-546, 3009–582 to 3009–583, 3009–585. Following IIRIRA, the Executive Office for Immigration Review ("EOIR") issued regulations clarifying that individuals who entered the country without inspection were not considered detained under § 1225, but rather under § 1226(a). See Inspection and Expedited Removal of Aliens; Detention and Removal of Aliens; Conduct of Removal Proceedings; Asylum Procedures, 62 Fed. Reg. 10312, 10323 (Mar. 6, 1997) ("Despite being applicants for admission, aliens who are present without having been admitted or paroled (formerly referred to as aliens who entered without inspection) will be eligible for bond and bond redetermination").
39. The statutory context and structure also make clear that § 1226 applies to individuals who have not been admitted and entered without inspection. In 2025, Congress added new mandatory detention grounds to § 1226(c) that apply only to noncitizens who have not been admitted. See The Laken Riley Act, Pub. L. No. 119-1, § 2, 139 Stat. 3, 3 (2025) (8 U.S.C. § 1226(c)(1)(E)).
40. By specifically referencing inadmissibility for entry without inspection under 8 U.S.C. § 1182(6)(A), Congress made clear that such individuals are otherwise covered by § 1226(a).

Thus, § 1226 plainly applies to noncitizens charged as inadmissible, including those present without admission or parole.

41. The Supreme Court has explained that § 1225(b) is concerned “primarily [with those] seeking entry,” and is generally imposed “at the Nation’s borders and ports of entry, where the Government must determine whether [a noncitizen] seeking to enter the country is admissible.” Jennings v. Rodriguez, 583 U.S. 281, 297, 2987 (2018). In contrast, Section 1226 “authorizes the Government to detain certain aliens already in the country pending the outcome of removal proceedings.” Id. at 289 (emphases added).
42. Furthermore, § 1225(b)(2) specifically applies only to those “seeking admission,” and the implementing regulations at 8 C.F.R. § 1.2 address noncitizens who are “coming or attempting to come into the United States.” The use of the present progressive tense would exclude noncitizens like Petitioner who are apprehended in the interior years after they entered, as they are no longer “seeking admission” or “coming [...] into the United States.” See Martinez v. Hyde, 2025 WL 2084238 at *6 (D. Mass. July 24, 2025) (citing the use of present and present progressive tense to support conclusion that INA § 1225(b)(2) does not apply to individuals apprehended in the interior); see also Al Otro Lado v. McAleenan, 394 F. Supp. 3d 1168, 1200 (S.D. Cal. 2019) (construing “is arriving” in INA § 235(b)(1)(A)(i) and observing that “[t]he use of the present progressive, like use of the present participle, denotes an ongoing process”).
43. Accordingly, the mandatory detention provision of § 1225(b)(2) does not apply to Petitioner, who had entered the U.S. more than six years ago.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

44. Petitioner is a citizen of China.
45. Upon information and belief, Petitioner has resided in the U.S. since June 2019.
46. Upon information and belief, Petitioner has never been arrested or charged with any crime.
47. Petitioner is now detained at the Cimarron Correctional Facility. See Exhibit A.
48. An Immigration Judge denied the Petitioner's bond request and stated that the Immigration Court did not have jurisdiction to grant bond. See Exhibit E.
49. Without relief from this Court, Petitioner faces continued detention without a bond hearing.

COUNT I
Violation of 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a)
Unlawful Denial of Release on Bond

50. Petitioner restates and realleges all paragraphs as if fully set forth here.
51. Petitioner may be detained, if at all, pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a).
52. Under § 1226(a) and its associated regulations, Petitioner is entitled to a bond hearing. See 8 C.F.R. 236.1(d) & 1003.19(a)-(f).
53. Petitioner has not been, and will not be, provided with a bond hearing as required by law.
54. Petitioner's continuing detention is therefore unlawful.

COUNT II
Violation of the Bond Regulations, 8 C.F.R. §§ 236.1, 1236.1, and 1003.19 Unlawful Denial of Release on Bond

55. Petitioner restates and realleges paragraphs 1 to 49 as if fully set forth here.
56. In 1997, after Congress amended the INA through IIRIRA, EOIR and the then-Immigration and Naturalization Service ("INS") issued an interim rule to interpret and apply IIRIRA. Specifically, under the heading of "Apprehension, Custody, and Detention of [Noncitizens],” the agencies explained that “[d]espite being applicants for admission, [noncitizens] who are present without having been admitted or paroled (formerly referred to as [noncitizens] who entered without inspection) will be eligible for bond and bond redetermination.” 62 Fed. Reg. at 10323. The agencies thus made clear that individuals who had entered without inspection were eligible for consideration for bond and bond hearings before IJs under 8 U.S.C. § 1226 and its implementing regulations.

57. The application of § 1225(b)(2) to Petitioner unlawfully mandates his continued detention and violates 8 C.F.R. §§ 236.1, 1236.1, and 1003.19.

COUNT III
Violation of 8 U.S.C. § 1252(b)(2)
Unlawful Detention Under This Provision

58. Petitioner restates and realleges paragraphs 1 to 49 as if fully set forth here.

59. Title 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b) is concerned primarily with those seeking entry to the United States and is generally imposed at the Nation’s borders and ports of entry, where the Government must determine whether a noncitizen seeking to enter the country is admissible.

60. Upon information and belief, Petitioner has resided in the U.S. since 2019. He is therefore neither an arriving alien nor an alien who is now seeking admission to the United States.

61. Because 8 U.S.C. § 1252(b) does not apply to Petitioner, Respondents’ detention of him under this provision is unlawful.

COUNT IV
Violation of Fifth Amendment Right to Due Process

62. Petitioner restates and realleges paragraphs 1 to 49 as if fully set forth here.

63. The Fifth Amendment's Due Process Clause prohibits the federal government from depriving any person of "life, liberty, or property, without due process of law." U.S. Const. Amend. V.
64. The Supreme Court has repeatedly emphasized that the Constitution generally requires a hearing before the government deprives a person of liberty or property. Zinerman v. Burch, 494 U.S. 113, 127 (1990).
65. Under the framework of Mathews v. Eldridge, 424 U.S. 319 (1976), the balance of interests strongly favors Petitioner's release.
66. Petitioner's private interest in freedom from detention is profound. The interest in being free from physical detention is "the most elemental of liberty interests." Hamdi v. Rumsfeld, 542 U.S. 507, 529 (2004); see also Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 690 (2001) ("Freedom from imprisonment—from government custody, detention, or other forms of physical restraint—lies at the heart of the liberty that [the Due Process] Clause protects.").
67. The risk of erroneous deprivation is exceptionally high. Petitioner has never been arrested and has deep ties to his community.
68. The government's interest in detaining Petitioner without due process is minimal. Immigration detention is civil, not punitive, and may only be used to prevent danger to the community or ensure appearance at immigration proceedings. See Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 690.
69. Furthermore, the "fiscal and administrative burdens" of providing Petitioner with a bond hearing are minimal, particularly when weighed against the significant liberty interests at stake. See Mathews, 424 U.S. at 334–35.

70. Considering these factors, Petitioner respectfully requests that this Court order his immediate release from custody or provide him with a bond hearing within seven days.

COUNT IV

Class Membership in Lazaro Maldonado Bautista v. Ernesto Santacruz Jr., 5:25-cv-01873, (C.D. Cal.)

71. Petitioner restates and realleges paragraphs 1 to 49 as if fully set forth here.

72. In a decision dated November 20, 2025, the district court in Lazaro Maldonado Bautista v. Ernesto Santacruz Jr., 5:25-cv-01873, (C.D. Cal.) granted partial summary judgment rejecting Matter of Yajure Hurtado and the predecessor ICE policy applying 235(b)(2)(A) detention without bond to all persons who entered the United States without admission or inspection. See Exhibit I, Order Granting Plaintiff Petitioners' Motion for Partial Summary Judgement.

73. Additionally, on November 25, 2025, the district court in Maldonado Bautista certified the "Bond Eligible Class" that comprises "All noncitizens in the United States without lawful status who (1) have entered or will enter the United States without inspection; (2) were not or will not be apprehended upon arrival; and (3) are not or will not be subject to detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c), § 1225(b)(1), or § 1231 at the time the Department of Homeland Security makes an initial custody determination." See Exhibit J, Order Granting Plaintiff Petitioners' Motion for Class Certification.

74. The Court should grant this petition for habeas corpus forthwith pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2243 because Petitioner is a member of the Bond Eligible Class, and order his immediate release from custody or provide him with a bond hearing within seven days.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Petitioner prays that this Court will:

- (1) Assume jurisdiction over this matter;
- (2) Order that he not be transferred outside of this District;
- (3) Issue an Order to Show Cause ordering Respondents to show cause why his Petition should not be granted within three days;
- (4) Declare that his detention is unlawful;
- (5) Issue a Writ of Habeas Corpus ordering Respondents to release him from custody or provide him with a bond hearing pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a) or the Due Process Clause within seven days;
- (6) Award him his attorney's fees and costs under the Equal Access to Justice Act, and on any other basis justified under law; and
- (7) Grant him any further relief this Court deems just and proper.

VERIFICATION PURSUANT TO 28 U.S.C. § 2242

I represent the Petitioner, Shifeng Lin, and submit this verification on his behalf. I hereby verify that the factual statements made in the foregoing Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus and Complaint for Declaratory and Injunctive Relief under 28 U.S.C. § 2242 or under the U.S. Constitution are true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

Dated this 25th day of November, 2025.
