1 At the hearing in this matter on December 11, 2025, the Court denied Petitioner
2 That Tom Ngiam’s request for a bond hearing on the grounds that his order of removal
3 is final. See ECF No. 9. The Court also ordered the parties to file supplemental briefs
4 regarding the impact of the settlement reached in Chhoeun v. Marin, C.D. Cal. Case 5 No. 17-cv-01898-JWH-GJS, an issue which Petitioner raised for the first time in his 6 traverse filed shortly before the hearing. See ECF No. 8. For the reasons set forth below,
7 Petitioner misstates the government’s obligations arising from the Chhoeun litigation, 8 and his petition should be denied.

9 In his traverse, Petitioner argues that the government “is not honoring” the 10 Chhoeun settlement and that his “detention is illegal because the settlement provides 11 time for Mr. Ngiam, a class member time to try to set aside his convictions and reopen 12 his case.” Id. at ¶ 7. Petitioner also cites to the following provision in the Chhoeun
13 settlement agreement: “This Agreement is intended to replace the permanent injunction
14 with an immediate notice to class members of the Settlement Class, as defined herein, 15 that they are subject to removal and can seek to reopen their removal proceedings if 16 their circumstances or the law underlying their removal order has changed, or other 17 grounds for reopening exist.”

18 The problem with Petitioner’s reliance on the Chhoeun settlement agreement is 19 that the settlement has not yet become effective. Indeed, the Chhoeun settlement
20 agreement states that the agreement’s “‘Effective Date’ means the date when the Court 21 issues an order finally approving this Agreement.” ECF No. 8-1 at § II(D). Final 22 approval of the settlement has not occurred. As reflected in the Central District of 23 California’s CM/ECF docket<sup>1</sup> for the Chhoeun action: (1) the parties in the Chhoeun 24 action filed a joint motion for preliminary approval of the class action settlement on 25 October 11, 2024 (Exhibit A, ECF No. 361); (2) the court granted preliminary approval

26 _____
27 <sup>1</sup> A copy of the Chhoeun docket is attached to this supplemental brief as Exhibit A.
28 Respondents request that the Court take judicial notice of the relevant Chhoeun docket history pursuant to Federal Rule of Evidence 201(b)(2) as it is “not subject to reasonable dispute because it . . . can be accurately and readily determined from sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be questioned.”

1 of the settlement on July 9, 2025, clarified the preliminary approval order on July 22,
2 2025, and scheduled a final approval hearing for November 25, 2025 (Exhibit A, ECF
3 Nos. 380, 384); and (3) in light of the federal lapse in appropriations, on October 27, 4 2025, the court granted the parties stipulation to stay the case, vacated the final approval
5 hearing, and stayed the case pending further order of the court. (Exhibit A, ECF Nos.
6 390, 393.) The Chhoeun docket demonstrates that final approval of the settlement has 7 not yet occurred. Thus, the settlement has not become effective, and the notice 8 provisions contemplated by the settlement agreement have no force or effect.

9       Petitioner does not argue that ICE failed to adhere to its obligations under the 10 operative injunction that the Chhoeun settlement agreement intends to replace. Nor can 11 he, because he does not qualify as a “Class Member” as defined by the injunction. The 12 Chhoeun injunction,<sup>2</sup> dated April 27, 2020, “permanently restrained and enjoined [ICE]
13 from re-detaining for removal any Class Member . . . unless ICE first serves written 14 notice . . . on the Class Member at least 14 days before re-detention in accordance with” 15 the notice provisions of the injunction. Exhibit B at 1:7–11. The injunction defines 16 “Class Members” as “all Cambodian nationals in the United States who are subject to 17 final orders of deportation or removal, and were subsequently released from ICE 18 custody, and have not subsequently violated any criminal laws or conditions of their 19 release, and have been or may be re-detained for removal by ICE.” Id. at 1:13–17 20 (emphasis added). Petitioner does not qualify as a “Class Member” entitled to the 21 benefits of the injunction because he violated the law numerous times after he was 22 ordered released and subsequently released from ICE custody. Specifically:

- 23       • On February 18, 1999, Petitioner was released from ICE custody under an 24       Order of Supervision (OSUP) as ICE was unable to repatriate him to 25       Cambodia at that time. See Declaration of Daniel Negrin at ¶ 4.

26
27 <sup>2</sup> A copy of the Judgment and Permanent Injunction in Chhoeun is attached to this 28 supplemental brief as Exhibit B. Respondents request that the Court take judicial notice of this Judgment and Permanent Injunction pursuant to Federal Rule of Evidence 201(b)(2).

- 1 • On July 20, 1999, Petitioner was arrested by local law enforcement for a 2 parole violation and was remanded to state custody for 32 months. Id. at ¶ 6.
- 3 • On June 8, 2001, Petitioner was transferred to ICE custody following his 4 release from state criminal custody for violating the terms of his OSUP and to 5 effectuate his removal to Cambodia. Id. at ¶ 7.
- 6 • On September 13, 2001, Petitioner was released from ICE custody under a 7 new OSUP as ICE was unable to repatriate him to Cambodia at that time. Id.
8 at ¶ 8.
- 9 • On or about January 28, 2003, Petitioner was arrested by local law 10 enforcement for a parole violation and was remanded to state custody for 5
11 months. Id. at ¶ 9.
- 12 • On July 9, 2003, Petitioner was transferred to ICE custody following his 13 release from state criminal custody for violating the terms his OSUP and to 14 effectuate his removal to Cambodia. Id. at ¶ 10.
- 15 • On October 17, 2003, Petitioner was released from ICE custody under a new 16 OSUP as ICE was unable to repatriate him to Cambodia at that time. Id. at 17 ¶ 11.
- 18 • On September 17, 2005, Petitioner was arrested for violating Cal. Pen. Code 19 § 243(e)(1), domestic battery. Id. at ¶ 12. Failure to obey criminal laws was a 20 violation of the OSUP terms of release. Id.

21 Because Petitioner (repeatedly) violated the law after having been ordered 22 removed to Cambodia and subsequently released from ICE custody, he is not a “Class 23 Member” entitled to any protection under the Chhoeun injunction. See id. at ¶ 13.

24 Finally, even assuming Petitioner is a Chhoeun class member (he is not), neither 25 the preliminarily-approved settlement nor the injunction in that case would entitle 26 Petitioner to the relief he seeks, that is, a credible fear interview or bond hearing.

27 For the reasons stated above and in Respondents’ return (ECF No. 7), 28 Respondents respectfully request that the Court dismiss Petitioner’s habeas petition.

1 Dated: December 17, 2025

2 Respectfully submitted,
