

(BIA) decision that overturns decades of settled law, Respondents contend that Petitioner is actually detained under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2). However, while § 1225 requires mandatory detention and does not allow release on bond, it only applies to noncitizens apprehended at the border “seeking admission.” Petitioner therefore brings this action for injunctive relief from this Court to namely enjoin Respondents from holding Petitioner is subject to mandatory detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) and denying him a bond hearing on that basis; and seeking an order that Respondents schedule him for a discretionary bond hearing pursuant to § 1226(a) before an IJ within 15 days.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

1. This Court has jurisdiction to hear this case under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 and 28 U.S.C. § 1331, Federal Question Jurisdiction. In addition, the individual Respondents are United States officials. 28 U.S.C. § 1346(a)(2).

2. This Court also has federal question jurisdiction, through the APA, to “hold unlawful and set aside agency action” that is “arbitrary, capricious, an abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law.” 5 U.S.C. § 706(2)(A). APA review of a final agency action may proceed, absent a special statutory review proceeding, by “any applicable form of legal action, including actions for declaratory judgments or writs of prohibitory or mandatory injunction or habeas corpus, in a court of competent jurisdiction.” 5 U.S.C. § 703.

3. Venue lies in this District because Petitioner is currently detained within the territorial jurisdiction of this division of this District; and each Respondent is an agency or officer of the United States sued in his or her official capacity. 28 U.S.C. § 2241; 28 U.S.C. § 1391(e)(1).

THE PARTIES

4. Petitioner Eusebio Camacho Lozano is a citizen and native of Mexico and is currently detained by Respondents at the Karnes County Immigration Processing Center in Karnes City, TX within the territorial jurisdiction of this Court.

5. Respondent Kristi Noem is the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security (“DHS”). She is the cabinet-level secretary responsible for all immigration enforcement in the United States.

6. Respondent Todd Lyons is the Acting Director of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (“ICE”). He is the head of the federal agency responsible for all immigration enforcement in the United States.

7. Respondent Miguel Vergara is the Director of the San Antonio ICE ERO Field Office. He is the head of the ICE office that is unlawfully detaining Petitioners, and the immediate legal custodian of Petitioners.

8. Respondent Pamela Bondi is the Attorney General of the United States. She is the head of the U.S. Department of Justice, which oversees the Executive Office for Immigration Review, including the Board of Immigration Appeals and the Immigration Court judges, who decide removal cases and applications for bond as her designees.

9. The Warden of the Karnes County Immigration Processing Center in Karnes City, TX is the immediate custodian who is currently holding Petitioner in physical custody. They are sued in their official capacity.

10. All government Respondents are sued in their official capacities.

LEGAL BACKGROUND

A. Immigration Detention Legal Framework

11. When a noncitizen is alleged to have violated immigration laws, they are generally placed into traditional removal proceedings, during which an immigration judge will determine whether they are removable and then whether they have a legal basis to remain in the United States. 8 U.S.C. § 1229a.

12. Detention is authorized for “certain aliens already in the country pending the outcome of removal proceedings under § 1226(a) and 1126(c).” See Jennings v. Rodriguez, 583 U.S. 281, 289 (2018). The statute provides that an individual may be subject to either discretionary detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a) generally, or mandatory detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c) if they have been arrested or convicted of certain crimes. Discretionary detention under § 1226(a) has been described as the “default” provision for immigration detention for those subject to traditional removal proceedings. Id. at 288. Under § 1226(a), “[e]xcept as provided in subsection (c) of this section,’ the Attorney General ‘may release’ an alien detained under § 1226(a) ‘on ...bond’ or ‘conditional parole.’” Id.

13. Alternatively, mandatory detention is authorized for “certain aliens seeking admission into the country under §§ 1225(b)(1) and 1225(b)(2),” [emphasis added]. Jennings, 583 U.S. at 289. Individuals inspected under § 1225(b) and determined to be “applicants for admission” may be subject to mandatory detention under two separate subsections. Applicants for admission include someone:

“present in the United States who has not been admitted or who arrives in the United States (whether or not at a designated port of arrival and including an alien who is brought to the United States after having been interdicted in international or United States waters) shall be deemed for the purposes of this chapter to be an applicant for admission.”

14. The first subset, under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(1), may be subject to expedited removal and mandatory detention if they are determined to be an “arriving alien,” and if they have not been physically present in the United States continuously for a two-year period immediately prior.

Regulations define an “arriving alien” as:

“an applicant for admission coming or attempting to come into the United States at a port-of-entry, or an alien seeking transit through the United States at a port-of-entry, or an alien interdicted in international or United States waters and brought into the United States by any means, whether or not to a designated port-of-entry, and regardless of the means of transport.”

8 C.F.R. § 1.2.

15. Otherwise, 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) provides for the detention of “applicant for admission” specifically when “the examining immigration officer determines that an alien seeking admission is not clearly and beyond a doubt entitled to be admitted, the alien shall be detained for a proceeding under section 1229a of this title,” i.e. for traditional removal proceedings [emphasis added].

16. An “arriving alien” or an applicant for admission “seeking admission” may only be released from detention on parole (which is a form of release on recognizance), under 8 U.S.C. § 1182(d)(5). Jennings, 583 U.S. at 288. There is no bond available to an arriving alien or applicant for admission seeking admission. Id. There is no such thing as a “parole bond” – a release must be either parole under § 1182(d)(5) or a bond (conditional parole) under § 1226(a). Id.

17. For a noncitizen subject to discretionary detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a), ICE makes an initial custody determination to either set a bond or hold the individual at no bond. The noncitizen may then seek a review of ICE’s initial custody determination before the IJ (a “custody review hearing”), who has the authority to modify ICE’s custody determination and set bond in a case in which ICE has designated no bond, lower bond when ICE has set a cash bond amount, or deny bond completely. 8 C.F.R. § 1003.19.

18. Custody review hearings are separate from hearings in the underlying removal proceedings. 8 C.F.R. § 1003.19(d). If a noncitizen is granted bond by the IJ, she must still appear in immigration court for the IJ to determine her removability and hear any claim for relief from removal. At a custody review hearing, once jurisdiction over bond is established, the IJ's inquiry is limited to whether the detainee is a danger to the community or a flight risk, and bond may only be granted when an IJ has determined that the detainee meets his burden of proof that he is neither. Matter of Guerra, 24 I&N Dec. 37 (BIA 2006).

19. For decades, it has been Respondents' practice to afford § 1226(a) discretionary bond hearings and custody review hearings to those individuals who have been encountered neither at a point of entry nor seeking admission to the United States. See Rosado v. Figueroa, No. CV 25-02157 PHX DLR (CDB), 2025 WL 2337099, at *10 (D. Ariz. Aug. 11, 2025), report and recommendation adopted sub nom. Rocha Rosado v. Figueroa, No. CV-25-02157-PHX-DLR (CDB), 2025 WL 2349133 (D. Ariz. Aug. 13, 2025) ("Respondents' proposed application of § 1226 is also belied by the Department of Homeland Security's 'longstanding practice' of treating noncitizens taken into custody while living in the United States, including those detained and found inadmissible upon inspection and then released into the United States with the government's acquiescence, who have committed no crime after release, as detained under § 1226(a)." citing Loper Bright Enter. v. Raimondo, 603 U.S. 369, 386 (2024)).

B. New ICE memo reinterpreting 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)

20. On July 8, 2025, Respondent ICE issued new interim guidance that announced a breathtakingly broad interpretation of 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2). See ICE memorandum "Interim Guidance Regarding Detention Authority for Applications for Admission.”¹ This memo concerns the detention of “applicants for admission” as defined by § 1225(a)(1). “Effective immediately, it is the position of DHS that such aliens are subject to detention under INA § 235(b) [8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)] and may not be released from ICE custody except by INA § 212(d)(5) [8 U.S.C. § 1182(d)(5)].” Id. DHS is explicit that this new policy is a marked deviation from prior interpretation and treatment of affected noncitizens. Id. (“For custody purposes, these aliens are now treated in the same manner that “arriving aliens” have historically been treated.”)

21. In addition to the announcement re-interpreting § 1225(b)(2), the memo further clarifies that “[t]he only aliens eligible for a custody determination and release on recognizance, bond or other conditions under INA § 236(a) [8 U.S.C. § 1226(a)] during removal proceedings are aliens admitted to the United States and chargeable with deportability under INA § 237 [8 U.S.C. § 1227], with the exception of those subject to mandatory detention under INA § 236(c) [8 U.S.C. § 1226(c)].” Id.

22. Moreover, ICE maintains that “DHS does not take the position that prior releases of applicants for admission pursuant to INA § 236(a) were releases on parole under INA § 212(d)(5) based on this change in legal position.” Id. ICE fails to clarify under what legal authority, then, those prior releases were effectuated. Rather, ICE signals the resulting lack of “correct” paperwork is nonetheless permissible. Id. (“Accordingly, ERO and HIS are not required to ‘correct’ the release paperwork by issuing INA § 212(d)(5) parole paperwork.”)

23. Nationwide implementation of the ICE § 1225(b)(2) mass detention policy ensued.

C. Recent BIA decision Matter of Yajure Hurtado

24. On September 5, 2025, the Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA), which oversees all appeals of IJ decisions including custody redeterminations, upheld ICE's re-interpretation of § 1225(b)(2). Matter of Yajure Hurtado, 29 I&N Dec. 216 (BIA 2025).

25. The BIA held that the respondent was an "applicant for admission" within the scope of § 1225(b), and therefore subject to mandatory detention.

26. The BIA characterized the issue before it as "one of statutory construction: Does the INA require that all applicants for admission, even those like the respondent who have entered without admission or inspection and have been residing in the United States for years without lawful status, be subject to mandatory detention for the duration of their immigration proceedings, and thus the Immigration Judge lacks authority over a bond request filed by an alien in this category?" [emphasis added]. Id. at 220.

27. The BIA reasoned that individuals "who surreptitiously cross into the United States remain applicants for admission until and unless they are lawfully inspected and admitted by an immigration officer." Id. at 228.

28. The BIA acknowledged the decades of precedent preceding its decision that authorized release of individuals present without having been inspected and admitted or paroled under § 1226(a). Id. at 225, FN6 ("We acknowledge that for years Immigration Judges have conducted bond hearings for aliens who entered the United States without inspection. However, we do not recall either DHS or its predecessor, the Immigration and Naturalization Service, previously raising the current issue that is before us. In fact, the supplemental information for the 1997 Interim Rule titled 'Inspection and Expedited Removal of Aliens; Detention and Removal of Aliens; Conduct of Removal Proceedings; Asylum Procedures,' 62 Fed. Reg. 10312, 10323 (Mar.

6, 1997), reflects that the Immigration and Naturalization Service took the position at that time that “[d]espite being applicants for admission, aliens who are present without having been admitted or paroled (formerly referred to as aliens who entered without inspection) will be eligible for bond and bond redetermination.”)

29. Ultimately, the BIA upheld the decision that the IJ lacked jurisdiction under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) to consider the respondent for discretionary bond. Id. at 229.

30. The BIA decision is binding on all immigration judges nationwide.

31. Respondents’ new policy and interpretation of 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) stand to sweep millions of noncitizens into mandatory detention, without any consideration for release on bond (regardless of their ties to their community or lack of dangerousness or flight risk). Rosado, 2025 WL 2337099, at *11 (“It has been estimated that this novel interpretation would require the detention of millions of immigrants currently residing in the United States.”)

D. Class Action In Maldonado Bautista

34. In the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California, a class brought suit against the July 2025 policy to apply § 1225(b)(2) to individuals who previously entered the U.S. without inspection. Maldonado Bautista v. Santaacruz, --- F.Supp.3d ---, 2025 WL 3289861 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 20 2025). On November 20, 2025, summary judgment was partially granted in favor of the putative class in Maldonado Bautista, holding that ICE’s July 2025 policy was unlawful. Id. at *10 (“Thus, Respondents’ expansive interpretation of ‘applicants for admission’ would effectively nullify a portion of the INA through the DHS’s legislative or interpretive exercise of power. Neither is appropriate under the separation of powers.”). The court held that § 1226(a) applies to the putative class. Id. at 11. The court declined to issue a final judgment under Fed. R. Civ. Pro.

54(b), as the motion for class certification was still pending. Id. On November 25, 2025, the court certified “Bond Eligible Class” of:

“All noncitizens in the United States without lawful status who (1) have entered or will enter the United States without inspection; (2) were not or will not be apprehended upon arrival; and (3) are not or will not be subject to detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c), § 1225(b)(1), or § 1231 at the time the Department of Homeland Security makes an initial custody determination.”

Bautista v. Santacruz, No. 5:25-CV-01873-SSS-BFM, 2025 WL 3288403, at *9 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 25, 2025). The Maldonado Bautista court then set a status conference for early 2026. Id.

35. Since the decisions in Maldonado Bautista, immigration judges nation-wide have continued to bar access to bond hearings citing § 1225(b)(2), stating that Maldonado Bautista v. Santacruz, --- F.Supp.3d ----, 2025 WL 3289861 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 20 2025), is not a final judgment and therefore does not bind them to its holding. Accordingly, immigration judges have continued to follow Yajure Hurtado, 29 I&N Dec.216 (BIA 2025). See e.g.

Other:

The Court has not been shown to have jurisdiction to set bond with respect to this Respondent. The court in Bautista v. Noem, 5:25-cv-01873-SSS-BFM (C.D. Cal.), granted class certification and partial summary judgment for the plaintiffs in that case, but did not issue a class-wide declaratory judgment. The court also did not issue a class-wide injunction, which would not be permitted by law. Until and unless the Bautista court issues a class-wide declaratory judgment or injunction, the Bautista court's opinion and partial grant of summary judgment does not constitute a judgment. See, e.g., Fed. R. Civ. P. 54(b)

36. On December 18, 2025, the court granted the motion to reconsider, in light of the fact that immigration judges nationwide were refusing to follow the court's prior summary judgment decision, and granted a final judgment. Maldonado Bautista, No. 5:25-cv-01873-SSS-BFM, 2025 WL 3678485 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 18, 2025). The court reiterated its prior holding. Id. at *6 (“In spite of Yajure Hurtado, this Court determined that Petitioners and those similarly situated are not “applicants for admission,” and therefore not subject to mandatory detention under § 1225.”) The court explained that “Although the MSJ Order does not grant vacatur of Yajure Hurtado under the APA, Yajure Hurtado is no longer controlling; the legal conclusion underlying the decision is no longer tenable.” Id. However the court did go on to hold that “the Application is GRANTED as to the clarification that the MSJ Order declared the DHS Policy unlawful and granted vacatur under the APA.” Id. at *12.

FACTS

32. Petitioner Eusebio Camacho Lozano is a citizen of Mexico. He most recently entered the United States without inspection between ports of entry, across the U.S.-Mexico border, in approximately 2012. Upon information and belief, he was not encountered at that time.

33. Petitioner Camacho Lozano then made his way to the Maryland area where he established a life. He currently resides in Baltimore, Maryland, with his wife and three U.S. citizen children, aged 6, 9, and 13.

34. Petitioner Camacho Lozano was detained on November 22, 2025, at a Home Depot in Baltimore, where immigration officials were carrying out a targeted raid.

35. Petitioner is currently detained at the Karnes County Immigration Processing Center in Karnes City, TX within the territorial jurisdiction of this Court. See ICE Detainee Locator information (available at <https://locator.ice.gov/> (last visited on December 19, 2025)):

The screenshot shows the official website of the Department of Homeland Security, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement. The page is titled "Facility Page" and provides information for Eusebio Camacho-Lozano. The "Detention Information For:" section lists the name, country of birth (Mexico), and a redacted A-Number. The "Current Detention Facility:" section lists the Karnes County Immigration Processing Center, including its address (409 FM 1144, NA, Karnes City, TX 78118) and visitor information (830) 254-2000. A "Related Information" sidebar on the right includes links for "Status of a Case", "About the Detainee Locator", "Brochure", "ICE ERO Field Offices", "ICE Detention Facilities", and "Privacy Notice".

36. Petitioner Camacho Lozano has pending removal proceedings (his Master Calendar Hearing is scheduled for January 15, 2026), and is not subject to a final order of removal. See EOIR Automated Case Information (available at <https://acis.eoir.justice.gov/> (last visited on December 19, 2025)):

The screenshot shows the "Automated Case Information" page for Eusebio Camacho-Lozano. The page header includes the name, a redacted A-Number, and a docket date of 11/28/2025. The "Next Hearing Information" section states that the upcoming MASTER hearing is on January 15, 2026, at 9:00 AM, presided by Judge Adams, Justin. The court address is 566 Veterans Drive, Pearsall, TX 78061. The "Court Decision and Motion Information" section indicates that the case is pending. The "BIA Case Information" section states that no appeal was received for this case. The "Court Contact Information" section provides the court address (366 Veteran Drive, Suite 101, Pearsall, TX 78061) and phone number (210) 368-5700.

37. Petitioner Camacho Lozano provides for his three children and wife, as the primary breadwinner for his household. As a result of Petitioner's detention, his wife and children have been left without their main source of financial support. Only Petitioner's oldest child is aware that his absence is because he is detained, and the child is experiencing significant anxiety and emotional distress as a result, while trying to maintain a sense of normalcy for the younger children. Petitioner's wife is struggling to meet basic household needs and care for the children on her own and has been forced to seek financial assistance from family members.

38. All Respondents consider that Petitioner is detained pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2). Matter of Yajure Hurtado, 29 I. & N. Dec. 216. Accordingly, it would be futile for Petitioner to request a bond from an Immigration Judge. Exhaustion of administrative remedies would therefore be futile.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF:
No-Bond Detention in Violation of 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a)

39. Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1-38.

40. Since Petitioner is not an applicant for admission "seeking admission" or "an arriving alien" subject to 8 U.S.C. §§ 1225(b)(1) or (b)(2), and has no disqualifying criminal arrests or convictions subject to 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c), he is entitled to a bond redetermination hearing by an immigration judge pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a).

41. Petitioner appears to be part of a class that was certified in Maldonado Bautista on November 25, 2025: "All noncitizens in the United States without lawful status who (1) have entered or will enter the United States without inspection; (2) were not or will not be apprehended upon arrival; and (3) are not or will not be subject to detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c), § 1225(b)(1), or § 1231 at the time the Department of Homeland Security makes an initial custody determination." Maldonado Bautista v. Santacruz, No. 5:25-CV-01873-SSS-BFM, 2025 WL

3288403, at *9 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 25, 2025). The court recently issued a final judgment, which granted vacatur of ICE's July 2025 policy to apply 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) to class members. Maldonado Bautista, No. 5:25-cv-01873-SSS-BFM, 2025 WL 3678485 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 18, 2025). However, relief sought here is injunctive, i.e. ordering Respondents to provide Petitioner with a bond hearing, or outright release. See infra – Request for Relief. The court in Maldonado Bautista is stripped of jurisdiction to provide such injunctive relief to the class by 8 U.S.C. § 1252(f). Accordingly, this Court is not precluded from granting relief on the instant habeas petition. See, e.g. Shi v. Lyons, --F.Supp.3d--, 2025 WL 3637288, at *FN5 (S.D. Tex. Dec. 12, 2025); and Lopez-Neria v. Bondi, No. 5:25-CV-1650-JKP, 2025 WL 3654329, at *5 (W.D. Tex. Dec. 12, 2025).

42. Respondents' actions, as set forth herein, violate Petitioner's statutory right to a bond redetermination hearing in front of an immigration judge.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF:
Detention in Violation of Due Process

43. Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1-38.

44. Immigration detention is civil, not criminal, in nature. There are only two permissible reasons for immigration detention: to avoid flight risk and danger to the community.

45. After entering the United States unlawfully, Petitioner went on to develop ties to the community over the course of several years. Petitioner is therefore a "person" within the meaning of the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, and has a liberty interest in freedom from physical restraint.

46. Respondents' actions in detaining Petitioner without a bond hearing before a neutral and detached magistrate deprives Petitioner of his rights without due process of law.

REQUEST FOR RELIEF

Petitioner prays for judgment against Respondents and respectfully requests that the Court enters an order:

- a) Issuing an Order to Show Cause, ordering Respondents to justify the basis of Petitioner's detention in fact and in law, forthwith;
- b) Enjoin Petitioner's transfer outside of this judicial district pending this litigation;
- c) Enjoin Respondents from holding Petitioner subject to detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) and denying him a bond hearing on that basis;
- d) Enjoin Respondents from re-arresting Petitioner subject to § 1225(b)(2);
- e) Order Petitioner's immediate release from custody;
- f) Order, in the alternative, Petitioner's immediate release and that Respondents conduct another bond hearing for Petitioner pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a) within 15 days;
- g) Grant the writ of habeas corpus and order Respondents to release Petitioner forthwith, upon payment of the bond as ordered by the Immigration Judge;
- h) Award Petitioner his costs of suit; and
- i) Grant any other relief that this Court deems just and proper.
