

I was born in Cuba in [REDACTED] and came to USA in 1980 do to a criminal conviction

I signed deportation in 2007, After 90days I had a review and do to the fact that ERO was not successfully removing to Cuba I was placed on an Order Of Supervision, after a total of 90 days in detention.

RE-DETENTION

I was later picked up on a re-vocation of my supervision by ERO on August 15th 2025. My removal to Cuba is just as unlikely as it was in 2007, because Cuba has been extremely reluctant to accept individual's with criminal record's, also because I came to America during the "MARIEL ACT" I'm considered a traitor to my country for leaving in 1980. Although ICE arrested 419 Cuban's citizen's in fiscal year 2025, only 138 Cuban's were removed, and only 32 of those had criminal conviction. There are at least 34,000 Cubans with final order of removal due in large part to criminal convictions. (Quoting Lindsay Daniels, The End Of Special Treatment For Cubans With Final Order Of Removal, 122 Dick L.R. 2,707 (2018) Cuban deportation are no where near the pace required to reasonably process the backlog of individuals with pending removal orders. There is no indication that the Cuban government's policy of refusing to accept detainees with criminal records has materially changed even as the United States government has begun re-arresting detainees who where previously released under order of supervision. VEIGA v. BONDI.. ICE has not obtained a travel document from Cuba for me nor is it co-operating with ICE deportation process. Today is my 150th day in this Tacoma Washington Detention Center, (90 days in 2007 and 150 more days since my re-detention. The government states that ERO has removed Cubans who have final orders of removal through a nomination process which ERO HQ and the Cuban government participate in. The Courts have made it clear that the government did not meet it's burden nor was it persuasive enough to rebut that said detention has become indefinite. (Veiga v. Bondi, 2025 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 254968 case NO. 2:25-cv-02168-TMC). Therefore my detention has become illegal. (Zadvy v. Davis 533 U.S, 678, 689, 121 S. Ct. 2491, 150 L. Ed. 2D 653 (2001) (Dkt. # 1 at 3). ICE has asked me multiple times if I would go to Mexico and every time I've answered NO! I would be persecuted, tortured, or kidnapped because I'm not Mexican and my Religion. Therefore my removal is not in the foreseeable future.
