CAUTION - EXTERNAL:

Good afternoon

Thank you for copying me in this email. I would just ask that if her Honor does reschedule the hearing that it be in the afternoon if possible since I have an asylum immigration hearing Monday morning

Thank you very much

Counsel for the Petitioner is copied on this email. She and I just spoke about this matter, and this email is pursuant to that conversation.

The government's response to the TRO is due today. However, in preparing its response, I recognized a potential issue raised by the Petitioner that requires further clarification from my client agency. To that end, the government requests until close of business tomorrow, January 8 to file its response. Petitioner does not object.

Based on that limited extension, the parties leave it to the Court whether to go forward Friday morning with the hearing, but Petitioner requests that any extension of the hearing not be beyond Monday.

Respectfully,

Anthony St. Joseph, AUSA
