Re: Chen v. Almodovar, et al., No. 26 Civ. 291 (GBD)

Dear Judge Daniels:

This Office represents the Government in the above-referenced immigration habeas corpus action, brought by Xiaobin Chen (“Petitioner”), an alien in removal proceedings, challenging his detention by U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (“ICE”). The primary legal issue presented in this case concerns the statutory authority for Petitioner’s detention — whether it is 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a) or 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A) — and the attendant due process issues stemming from such authority. Petitioner seeks an order from this Court directing ICE to release Petitioner from detention unless Respondents provide a bond hearing within seven days. ECF No. 1 (“Petition”) at 2.

While reserving all rights, including the right to appeal, the Government submits this letter in lieu of a formal responsive memorandum of law to conserve judicial and party resources, and to expedite the Court’s consideration of this case, in light of this Court’s decision on the principal legal issues in Quinteros Moran v. Joyce, No. 25 Civ. 9645 (GBD), 2025 WL 3632895 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 15, 2025), as discussed below.

Relevant Underlying Facts

Petitioner is a citizen of China who unlawfully entered the United States without inspection in December 2023 near Tecate, California. See Ex. 1 (Notice to Appear). He was released on his own recognizance. See Ex. 2 (Arrest Warrant, Form I-200), Ex. 3 (Order of Release on Recognizance, Form I-220A).

On January 13, 2026, ICE detained Petitioner when he appeared for a scheduled check-in at 26 Federal Plaza. Pet. ¶ 51 (typographical error setting the date as 2023). Petitioner has a pending application for asylum, with a hearing scheduled for June 23, 2027. Pet. ¶ 55. At the time the Petition was filed, Petitioner was detained at 26 Federal Plaza. See Pet. ¶ 51. According to ICE, he is currently being held at Delaney Hall in New Jersey.

Habeas Petition

Petitioner commenced this action by filing his habeas petition on January 13, 2026. ECF

No. 1. He argues that the mandatory detention provision of 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A) does not apply to him because he had already entered and had been residing in the United States at the time he was arrested by ICE in January 2026. Pet. ¶¶ 3, 58–61. In his first claim for relief, he argues that the application of § 1225(b)(2) unlawfully mandates his continued detention and violates the INA. See Pet. ¶¶ 58–61. In his second claim for relief, he argues that the application of § 1225(b)(2) violates the bond regulations, 8 C.F.R. §§ 236.1, 1236.1, and 1003.19. See Pet. ¶¶ 62–65. Finally, in his third claim for relief, Petitioner alleges that his detention without a bond hearing to determine whether he is a flight risk or danger violates his right to due process. See Pet. ¶¶ 66–71.

In his prayer for relief, Petitioner principally asks that the Court issue a writ of habeas corpus ordering his release unless Respondents provide a bond hearing within seven days. Pet. at 2, 22 para. (d) (Prayer for Relief).

Quinteros Moran v. Joyce

On December 15, 2025, this Court issued a decision on the principal legal question presented in this action in a similar habeas case challenging an alien’s re-detention after prior release on an order of recognizance. Quinteros Moran, 2025 WL 3632895. This Court concluded that because the petitioner was previously released on bond pursuant to § 1226(a), the government “c[ould] not now turn back the clock” and detain the petitioner under § 1225(b). Id. at *3 (quoting Loja v. FCI Berlin, Warden, No. 25 Civ. 386 (JL) (TSM), 2025 WL 3079160, at *2 (D.N.H. Nov. 4, 2025)). After concluding that the petitioner’s detention was governed by § 1226, this Court declined to order immediate release, but ordered the Government to “ensure that [the] petitioner receive[d] a bond hearing before an Immigration Judge pursuant 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a) within seven (7) business days.” Id. at *4. In a decision issued by this Court one week ago, Martinez v. Joyce, No. 25 Civ. 10376 (GBD) (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 8, 2026), ECF No. 13, however, this Court ordered the remedy of immediate release of a petitioner who had been in the United States since 1992.

Discussion

Petitioner alleges that his detention can only be governed by 8 U.S.C. § 1226, and so by applying 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A) to him, his detention violates the INA, 8 C.F.R. §§ 236.1, 1236.1, and 1003.19, and the Due Process Clause. Pet. ¶¶ 48–57. As noted above, this Court has already resolved nearly identical claims in a prior case, holding that an alien in Petitioner’s position — where an alien, even if previously held under § 1225(b), had been released from custody, upon re-detention, such alien “is currently detained under § 1226(a).” Quinteros Moran, 2025 WL 3632895, at *3.

While the Government respectfully disagrees with the Court’s decision in Quinteros Moran, the Government acknowledges that the decision would control the result in this case if the Court adheres to its decision, as the facts of this case are materially indistinguishable from those of Quinteros Moran on this legal issue. Thus, to conserve judicial resources and to expedite the Court’s consideration of this case, the Government hereby relies upon, and incorporates by reference, the legal arguments it presented in Quinteros Moran,¹ and the Court can decide this matter without further briefing. However, should the Court prefer to receive a formal opposition brief in this matter, we will file such a brief upon the Court's request.

¹ Specifically, the Government incorporates by reference all arguments raised in its opposition brief in Quinteros Moran. See No. 25 Civ. 9645 (GBD), ECF No. 9. The Government notes that

Further, notwithstanding its submission of this letter in lieu of a formal brief, the Government reserves all rights, including the right to appeal. Accordingly, for the reasons set forth in the Government's brief in Quinteros Moran, the Government respectfully requests that the Court deny this habeas petition.

Finally, the Government believes the Court can resolve this matter without a conference. See, e.g., Huang v. Almodovar, No. 25 Civ. 9346 (DEH), ECF No. 10 (granting petition and cancelling previously scheduled conference based on respondents' submission that prior holding would control the result in the case if the court adheres to it).

We thank the Court for its consideration of this submission.²

Respectfully submitted,

JAY CLAYTON
United States Attorney

Quinteros Moran concerned a different provision of § 1225(b) that is not applicable here, but the Court's reasoning in that case broadly extends to any provision of § 1225(b).

² The Government has proceeded in this manner in other cases where the presiding judge had already decided the principal legal issue in an immigration habeas corpus matter and where the facts are materially indistinguishable. See, e.g., Martinez Roman v. Decker, No. 20 Civ. 6752 (AJN), ECF No. 7; Hernandez-Aviles v. Decker, No. 20 Civ. 7636 (ER), ECF No. 5; see also Samb, No. 25 Civ. 6373 (DEH), ECF No. 8.
