PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

This petition challenges the unlawful detention of Petitioner JOSE PEREZ-ROSA (“Petitioner”), a forty-one-year-old who has two minor American Children, two years old and the other four weeks old, and who has resided in the United States for more than seven years. Petitioner was arrested while he was presenting himself in the ICE Checkin at his regular appointment and he has since been held at the ICE Detention currently in El Paso Processing Center in El Paso, Texas, without a bond hearing. See Exh. 1, ICE Locator Search Results. The Department of Homeland Security (“DHS”) asserts that Petitioner is subject to mandatory detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b), despite Congress’s separate detention framework in 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a), which governs interior arrests and provides discretionary bond and immigration-judge (“IJ”) review.

DHS’s novel position—recently endorsed in Matter of Yajure-Hurtado, 29 I. & N. Dec. 220 (B.I.A. 2025)—contradicts the Immigration and Nationality Act’s (INA) text, the canon against surplusage, longstanding administrative practice, and Due Process. It effectively erases section 236(a) of the INA, collapses Congress’s dual-track detention scheme, and imposes categorical detention on long-time residents like JOSE PEREZ-ROSA who present no danger and are not flight risks.

The human consequences are immediate and severe. Mr. JOSE PEREZ-ROSA, his second American children were born while he has been detained and have not being able to provide to his two minor American Children who need him desperately. The Petitioner is the bread winner of the house. The Constitution, the INA, and basic principles of fairness do not permit this outcome. Petitioners respectfully request immediate release or, at minimum, a prompt custody redetermination under § 236(a).

I. INTRODUCTION

1. This Petition seeks the immediate release of Petitioner JOSE PEREZ-ROSA (“Petitioner”), age [41], from unlawful detention in violation of his constitutional and statutory rights.
2. Petitioner was detained for complying with his ICE check points and remains in civil detention in the custody of EL PASO PROCESSING CENTER at El Paso, Texas.
3. Petitioner has been in the United States for over seven years where he has a house in California and Minor Children whose welfare and their best interest depend of the Petitioner’s presence. This detention is a substantial deprivation and burden that puts Petitioner and his family at risk without his parental and financial support.
4. Petitioner’s detention is based on DHS’s assertion that, because he entered the United States without inspection, he falls under mandatory detention pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2). The Immigration Court has not yet ruled, but Petitioner anticipates that the court will adopt DHS’s position in light of Matter of Yajure-Hurtado, thereby denying him access to a bond hearing under 8 U.S.C. § 1226.
5. Petitioner is eligible for asylum relief for not returning to Honduras and has applied with previous attorney. See Exh.2
6. Petitioner respectfully requests this Court grant the instant petition for a writ of habeas corpus under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 and enjoin Respondent’s continued detention of Petitioner to ensure his due process rights. In the alternative, he respectfully requests the Court order Respondents to show cause why this Petition should not be granted within three days. See 28 U.S.C. § 2243.

I. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

7. Petitioner is detained in civil immigration custody at EL PASO PROCESSING CENTER See Exh. 1. He has been detained since or about, June 26, 2025.

8. This action arises under the Constitution of the United States and the Immigration and Nationality Act (“INA”), 8 U.S.C. § 1101 et seq.
9. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 (habeas corpus), 28 U.S.C. § 1331 (federal question), and where applicable Article I § 9, cl. 2 of the United States Constitution (Suspension Clause). This Court may grant relief pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2241, the Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. § 2201 et seq., and the All Writs Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1651.
10. Venue is proper in the Western District of Texas under 28 U.S.C. § 1391, because at least one Respondent is in this District, Petitioner is detained in this District, and a substantial part of the events giving rise to the claims in this action took place in this District. Venue is also proper under 28 U.S.C. § 2243 because the immediate custodians of Petitioner reside in this District.

II. REQUIREMENTS OF 28 U.S.C. § 2243, WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS ISSUANCE, RETURN, HEARING, AND DECISION

12. The Court either must grant the instant petition for writ of habeas corpus or issue an order to show cause to Respondents, unless Petitioner is not entitled to relief. If the Court issues an order to show cause, Respondents must file a response “within three days” unless this Court permits additional time for good cause, which is not to exceed twenty days. 28 U.S.C. § 2243.
13. Habeas corpus is “perhaps the most important writ known to the constitutional law . . . affording as it does a swift and imperative remedy in all cases of illegal restraint or confinement.” Fay v. Noia, 372 U.S. 391, 400 (1963). The writ of habeas corpus, challenging illegality of detention, is reduced to a sham if the trial courts do not act within a reasonable time. Rhueark v. Wade, 540 F.2d 1282, 1283 (5th Cir. 1976); Jones v. Shell,

572 F.2d 1278, 1280 (8th Cir. 1978). Due to the nature of this proceeding, Petitioner asks this Court to expedite proceedings in this case as necessary and practicable for justice.

III. PARTIES

14. Petitioner JOSE PEREZ-ROSA is a forty-one -year-old citizen of HONDURAS. He entered the United States in or about January 2019 without inspection and has resided here continuously for over seven years.
15. Respondent Pamela Bondi is named in her official capacity as Attorney General of the United States. She is responsible for the administration of the Executive Office for Immigration Review (“EOIR”), including policies that bear on immigration judges’ jurisdiction over custody.
16. Respondent Kristi Noem is named in her official capacity as Secretary of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (“DHS”). DHS is the department charged with administering and enforcing federal immigration laws. Secretary Noem is ultimately responsible for the actions of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (“ICE”) and is a legal custodian of Petitioner.
17. Respondent Todd M. Lyons is named in his official capacity as Acting Director of ICE. He oversees ICE operations, including detention and removal, and is a legal custodian of Petitioner.
18. Respondent Sylvester Ortega is named in his official capacity as Field Office Director of the San Antonio ICE Field Office. He is responsible for ICE enforcement in this District and is a legal custodian of Petitioner.

19. Respondent Bobby Thompson is named in his official capacity as Warden of the South Texas Detention Complex in Pearsall, Texas. He has immediate physical custody of Petitioner pursuant to an agreement with ICE to detain noncitizens.
20. Each Respondent is sued in his or her official capacity as a custodian and/or policymaker responsible for Petitioner's continued detention.

IV. FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

21. Petitioner was detained following his regularly checked in appearance in ICE Office. He was transferred to ICE custody and transported to the ERO EL PASO CAMP EAST MONTANA in EL PASO, Texas.
22. ICE has held Petitioner without bond, asserting he is subject to mandatory detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2).
23. ICE's litigation stance reflects "interim guidance" issued July 8, 2025, reinterpreting detention authority to treat nearly all noncitizens present without admission as "arriving" and ineligible for bond. Exh. 2, Lyons Memo, Interim Guidance Regarding Detention Authority for Applicants for Admission (July 8, 2025).
24. For nearly three decades, DHS and EOIR treated individuals arrested in the interior and present without admission as detained under § 1226(a), subject to IJ bond hearings unless § 1225(b)(1), § 1226(c), or § 1231 applied.
25. Once the immigration judge denies bond for lack of jurisdiction, Petitioner will pursue an administrative appeal to the Board of Immigration Appeals ("BIA"). BIA bond appeals typically take months, during which detention continues, rendering administrative review an inadequate and delaying remedy in these circumstances.

26. Petitioner's detention has inflicted severe hardship on his family. The children are lacking adequate food and money for living expenses.
27. Petitioner's ongoing detention severely impedes his ability to defend against removal, including gathering evidence and coordinating with counsel and witnesses.
28. Petitioner remains detained solely because DHS misclassified his custody under § 1225(b) rather than § 1226(a), contrary to statutory text, constitutional principles, and historical practice.

V. LEGAL FRAMEWORK: DUE PROCESS CLAUSE

30. The Fifth Amendment's Due Process Clause applies to "all persons" within the United States, including noncitizens. Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 693 (2001). "Freedom from imprisonment—from government custody, detention, or other forms of physical restraint—lies at the heart of the liberty that the Clause protects." Id. at 690. In the immigration context, detention is constitutionally justified only to prevent flight or protect the community. Demore v. Kim, 538 U.S. 510, 528 (2003).
31. Congress created two distinct detention regimes. Section 235(b) governs inspection and limited mandatory detention of arriving aliens or those apprehended shortly after entry; § 236(a) governs interior arrests on warrant, authorizing detention pending a removal decision with discretionary release on bond. See Jennings v. Rodriguez, 583 U.S. 281, 297, 302–03 (2018) (describing § 235(b) as "primarily" for those seeking entry and § 236(a) as applying to aliens "already in the United States" and arrested "on warrant").
32. The Laken Riley Act confirms Congress preserved § 236(a)'s discretionary bond regime for most inadmissible entrants arrested in the interior by adding a narrow new mandatory-detention category under § 236(c)(1)(E) (pairing inadmissibility under 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(6)(A), (6)(C), or (7) with specified crimes). If § 235(b) already mandated detention for all inadmissible entrants, § 236(c)(1)(E) would be redundant—an outcome courts must avoid. See Corley v. United States, 556 U.S. 303, 314 (2009); Van Buren v. United States, 593 U.S. 374, 393 (2021). Congress legislated against decades of agency practice applying § 236(a) to interior arrests, and courts presume amendments harmonize with that practice. Monsalvo v. Bondi, 604 U.S. ___, 145 S. Ct. 1232, 1242 (2025).

33. On September 5, 2025, the BIA in Matter of Yajure-Hurtado adopted DHS’s position that immigration judges lack bond jurisdiction for noncitizens present without admission because they are “applicants for admission” detained under § 235(b)(2)(A) for the duration of proceedings. 29 I. & N. Dec. at 220 (relying on Jennings, 583 U.S. at 300). But Jennings construed statutory text and explicitly left open constitutional challenges. Id. at 303. Moreover, the Supreme Court has since overruled Chevron deference; courts must independently interpret the INA rather than deferring to agency readings. Loper Bright Enters. v. Raimondo, 603 U.S. 369, 385–86 (2024).

34. Longstanding agency materials confirm that individuals encountered inside the country without admission were treated under § 236(a) and were “eligible for bond and bond redetermination.” Inspection and Expedited Removal of Aliens, 62 Fed. Reg. 10,312, 10,323 (Mar. 6, 1997). DHS itself historically limited the “applicant for admission” designation to encounters within a short time and distance from the border. See Dep’t of Homeland Sec. v. Thuraissigiam, 591 U.S. 121, 130 n.2 (2020) (describing DHS’s 2004 14-day/100-mile policy for expedited removal).

35. Arrest authority reinforces this divide: warrantless arrests are narrowly permitted under 8 U.S.C. § 1357(a) (INA § 287(a)); otherwise, interior arrests proceed on warrant (Form I-

200) and fall under § 236(a). See Matter of Mariscal-Hernandez, 28 I. & N. Dec. 666, 668–71 (B.I.A. 2022) (equating “reason to believe” with probable cause; warrantless arrests are exceptional). Mr. JOSE PEREZ-ROSA interior arrest should have been (and, on information and belief, was) effectuated pursuant to an I-200 warrant—placing him squarely within § 236(a).

36. Statutes must be read “with a view to their place in the overall statutory scheme,” giving effect to every clause and word. Gundy v. United States, 588 U.S. 128, 141 (2019) (quotation omitted); United States ex rel. Polansky v. Exec. Health Res., Inc., 599 U.S. 419, 432 (2023). DHS’s view collapses §§ 235 and 236, nullifies § 236(c)(1)(E), and contradicts the INA’s structure.

37. Federal courts addressing DHS’s new theory have rejected it and ordered relief, concluding § 236(a) governs noncitizens “already in the country.”¹ Even under DHS’s classification, constitutional avoidance and due process require meaningful review of whether mandatory detention actually applies (a Joseph-type inquiry), and courts must preserve habeas for unlawful detention. See Jennings, 583 U.S. at 303; Clark v. Martinez, 543 U.S. 371, 380–82 (2005); INS v. St. Cyr, 533 U.S. 289, 314 (2001).

¹ See, e.g., Martinez v. Hyde, No. CV 25-11613-BEM, 2025 WL 2084238, at *2, *6 (D. Mass. July 24, 2025); Lopez Benitez v. Francis, No. 25 Civ. 5937 (DEH), 2025 WL 2267803, at 4–7 (S.D.N.Y. Andrews, No. 1:25-cv-00759, 2025 WL 2617256, at *7 (E.D. Cal. Aug. 2025); Alvarez-Martinez v. Noem, No. 5:25-cv-00876, 2025 WL 2598379, at *4–5 (W.D. Tex. Aug. 2025); Pizarro Reyes v. Raycraft, No. 2:25-cv-11641, 2025 WL 2609425, at *3 (E.D. Mich. Aug. 2025); Rosado v. Figueroa, No. 2:25-cv-02157-DLR, 2025 WL 2337099, at *5–7 (D. Ariz. Aug. 11, 2025); Dos Santos v. Noem, No. 1:25-cv-12052-JEK, 2025 WL 2370988, at *6–8 (D. Mass. Aug. 14, 2025); Maldonado v. Olson, No. 0:25-cv-03142-SRN-SGE, 2025 WL 2374411, at *4–6 (D. Minn. Aug. 15, 2025); Romero v. Hyde, No. 1:25-cv-11631-BEM, 2025 WL 2403827, at *3–5 (D. Mass. Aug. 19, 2025); Benitez v. Noem, No. 5:25-cv-02190-RGK-AS, slip op. at 3–5 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 26, 2025); Kostak v. Trump, No. 3:25-cv-01093-JE-KDM, 2025 WL 2472136, at *8–10 (W.D. La. Aug. 27, 2025).

38. The equities here underscore the Mathews v. Eldridge balance: (1) Petitioner's profound liberty and family interests; (2) the high risk of erroneous deprivation from DHS's categorical no-bond stance (and the value of individualized hearings); and (3) minimal governmental burden to provide the longstanding process Congress preserved. See 424 U.S. 319, 333, 335 (1976).
39. Because Mr. JOSE PEREZ-ROSA was arrested in the interior and (on information and belief) under warrant authority, § 236(a) governs his detention. DHS's attempt to shoehorn him into § 235(b)(2) is contrary to the statutory text, structure, and constitutional principles. He is entitled to release or, at minimum, a prompt bond hearing before an IJ applying the correct legal standard.

VI. CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

Violation of the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment of the United States Constitution

41. Petitioner repeats and incorporates by reference all allegations above as though set forth fully herein.
42. The Due Process Clause asks whether the government's deprivation of a person's life, liberty, or property is justified by a sufficient purpose. Here, there is no question that the government has deprived Petitioner of his liberty.
43. Mr. JOSE PEREZ-ROSA continued detention violates his right to substantive and procedural due process guaranteed by the Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.
44. The Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution provides that "[n]o person shall...be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law." As a noncitizen who shows well over "seven years" physical presence in the United States

(indeed he has seven years), Mr. JOSE PEREZ-ROSA is entitled to Due Process Clause protections against deprivation of liberty and property. See Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 693 (“[T]he Due Process Clause applies to all ‘persons’ within the United States, including aliens, whether their presence here is lawful, unlawful, temporary, or permanent.”). Any deprivation of this fundamental liberty interest must be accompanied not only by adequate procedural protections, but also by a “sufficiently strong special justification” to outweigh the significant deprivation of liberty. Id. at 690.

45. Respondents have deprived Mr. JOSE PEREZ-ROSA of his liberty interest protected by the Fifth Amendment, by detaining him since June, 2025.
46. Mr. JOSE PEREZ-ROSA detention is improper because he has been deprived of a bond hearing. A hearing is if anything a right to be heard, and here the immigration judge considered it a foregone conclusion that he was ineligible for bond, without considering the law or entertaining his counsel’s arguments. Like the accused in criminal cases, habeas is proper.
47. See Moore v. Dempsey, 261 U.S. 86 (1923); Johnson v. Zerbst, 304 U.S. 458 (1938); Burns v. Wilson, 346 U.S. 137, 154 (1953).
48. Respondents’ actions in detaining Mr. JOSE PEREZ-ROSA without any legal justification violate the Fifth Amendment.
49. The government’s detention of Petitioner is unjustified. Respondents have not demonstrated that Petitioner needs to be detained. See Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 690 (finding immigration detention must further the twin goals of (1) ensuring the noncitizen’s appearance during removal proceedings and (2) preventing danger to the community).

There is no credible argument that Petitioner cannot be safely released back to his community and family.

50. For these reasons, Petitioner's detention violates the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
Violation of Immigration and Nationality Act

50. Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates by reference the paragraphs above.

51. Petitioner was detained pursuant to "authority contained in section 236" of the INA; section 236 is codified at 8 U.S.C. § 1226. Despite this, DHS finds that he is detained subject to 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) and the IJ lacks jurisdiction under Matter of Yajure Hurtado on the same basis.

52. The mandatory detention provision at 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) does not apply to all noncitizens residing in the United States who are subject to the grounds of inadmissibility. Mandatory detention does not apply to those who previously entered the country and have been residing in the United States prior to being apprehended and placed in removal proceedings by Respondents. Such noncitizens are detained under § 1226(a) and are eligible for release on bond, unless they are subject to § 1225(b)(1), § 1226(c), or § 1231.

53. Respondents have wrongfully adopted a policy and practice of arguing all noncitizens, such as Petitioner, are subject to mandatory detention under § 1225(b)(2).

54. The unlawful application of § 1225(b)(2) to Petitioner violates the INA.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION
Fifth Amendment – Due Process
Denial of Opportunity to Contest Mis-Inclusion in Mandatory Category of Detention

55. Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates by reference the paragraphs above.

56. Mr. JOSE PEREZ-ROSA has a vested liberty interest in preventing his removal because he is eligible for asylum and is entitled to pursue that relief outside of detention by showing he is neither a danger to the community nor a flight risk under 8 U.S.C. §1226(a).

57. For all of the above reasons, Respondents' attempts to detain Petitioner without a meaningful opportunity to be heard violate his Procedural Due Process rights under the Fifth Amendment.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION
ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE ACT

59. Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates by reference the paragraphs above.

60. Respondents' continued efforts to deny him bond violate the INA, Administrative Procedures Act (APA), and the U.S. Constitution.

61. As set forth in Count Two and Three, federal regulations and case law provide the procedure for a respondent in removal proceedings like him to seek a bond redetermination by an IJ.

62. In being denied the opportunity to return to his family and pursue asylum in a non-detained court setting where he is free to gather the necessary evidence, Mr. JOSE PEREZ-ROSA would be deprived of the right to freedom to lawfully pursue his rights in this civil matter. The Government's "no-review" provisions are a violation of his procedural and substantive due process and without any statutory authority. There is no time-frame or procedure for requesting DHS to itself review its custody decision, and removal proceedings in this case will proceed during that time while Petitioner remains in custody.

63. The actions by Respondents would improperly alter the substantive rules concerning mandatory custody status without the required notice-and-comment period and would be in violation of the INA and its regulations. These actions by Respondents violate the APA.

Under the APA, this Court may hold unlawful and set aside an agency action which is “contrary to constitutional right, power, privilege or immunity.” 5 U.S.C. § 706(2)(B). The regulations at 8 C.F.R. §§ 1003.19(h)(1)(B) and 1003.19(h)(2)(B) providing no review of DHS custody decision for arriving aliens in removal proceedings are in violation of substantive and procedural due process as guaranteed by the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution. It is ultra vires because it exceeds the authority granted ICE by Congress at 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a). For these reasons, this Honorable Court should hold that Petitioner is detained under § 236(a), not § 235(b), and order his immediate release or, in the alternative, direct the Immigration Court to conduct a custody redetermination hearing under § 236(a) in which Petitioner has a meaningful opportunity to show that he is not a danger or flight risk. Any contrary reliance on Matter of Yajure-Hurtado would unlawfully misapply the statute and deprive Petitioner of his rights under the INA, the APA, and the Due Process Clause.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION SUSPENSION CLAUSE CLAIM

64. Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates by reference the paragraphs above.
65. If 8 U.S.C. § 1252 stripped the Court jurisdiction from this matter, it would be unconstitutional as applied because it would deny Mr. JOSE PEREZ-ROSA the opportunity for meaningful review of the unlawfulness of his detention and removal.
66. To invoke the Suspension Clause, a petitioner must satisfy a three-factor test: “(1) the citizenship and status of the detainee and the adequacy of the process through which that status determination was made; (2) the nature of the sites where apprehension and then detention took place; and (3) the practical obstacles inherent in resolving the prisoner’s entitlement to the writ.” Boumediene v. Bush, 553 U.S. 723, 766 (2008). Mr. JOSE PEREZ-ROSA satisfies these three requirements and may invoke the Suspension Clause.

67. First, although Mr. JOSE PEREZ-ROSA is not a U.S. citizen or resident, he has lived here for over SEVEN years, and he qualifies for ASYLUM, because he has applied already for it. Mr. JOSE PEREZ-ROSA has significant family connections in the United States, including two minor USA children. All of which establishes a substantial legal relationship with the United States.

68. Mr. JOSE PEREZ-ROSA satisfies the second factor because he was apprehended by DHS and remains detained in the United States.

69. Finally, there are no serious, practical obstacles to resolving this present matter. This Court is equipped to deciding whether Mr. JOSE PEREZ-ROSA is entitled to the writ.

70. There is no adequate alternative to a habeas petition. The refusal of the immigration court to grant Mr. JOSE PEREZ-ROSA the right to show he is mis-classified and that he is not subject to mandatory detention, without proper notice or due process, deprives him of his constitutional rights. The BIA cannot adequately and expeditiously review these issues.

SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

74. Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates herein by reference each and every allegation contained in the above paragraphs of this Petition.

75. This Court has the discretion to enter a temporary restraining order and a preliminary injunction. See Haitian Refugee Center v. Nelson, 872 F.2d 1555, 1561-1562 (11th Cir. 1989). “To be entitled to a preliminary injunction, the applicants must show (1) a substantial likelihood that they will prevail on the merits, (2) a substantial threat that they will suffer irreparable injury if the injunction is not granted, (3) their substantial injury outweighs the threatened harm to the party whom they seek to enjoin, and (4) granting the preliminary injunction will not disserve the public interest.” Tex. Med. Providers Performing Abortion Servs. v. Lakey, 667 F.3d 570, 574 (5th Cir. 2012). All four elements must be demonstrated to obtain injunctive relief. Id.

76. Respondents’ actions have caused Petitioner harm that warrants immediate relief.

VII. RELIEF SOUGHT

WHEREFORE, Petitioner respectfully requests that this Court:

- (1) Assume jurisdiction over this matter;
- (2) Declare that ICE’s Officials apprehension and detention of Mr. JOSE PEREZ ROSA was an unlawful exercise of authority because the ICE officer provided no reason that he presents a danger to the community or is flight risk;
- (3) Issue an order directing Respondents to show cause why the writ should not be granted within one day;
- (4) Enjoin ICE from transferring Mr. JOSE PEREZ ROSA outside of the Western District of Texas while this matter is pending;
- (5) Issue a Writ of Habeas Corpus ordering Respondents to release Petitioner immediately.
- (6) Grant any other relief that this Court deems just and proper.

PRAYER FOR EXPEDITED CONSIDERATION

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2243, Petitioner respectfully requests expedited consideration. Each day of unlawful detention inflicts irreparable harm on Petitioner and his U.S. citizen children, depriving them of their father’s care, stability, and support. Prompt judicial intervention is necessary to protect Petitioner’s constitutional rights and his family’s well-being.

Respectfully submitted,
