INTRODUCTION

1. Petitioner, FERNANDO SANTOS MONTEJO-JACINTO, is in the physical custody of Respondents at the Broward Transitional Center Detention Center. He was arrested on September 18, 2025 while complying with his obligations to report for an Immigration and Customs Enforcement (“ICE”) check-in appointment and as of the date of this petition has been unlawfully detained for one hundred and twenty-six (126) days. He now faces unlawful detention because the Department of Homeland Security (“DHS”) and the Executive Office of Immigration Review (“EOIR”) have concluded that Petitioner is subject to mandatory detention.
2. Petitioner is charged with, inter alia, having entered the United States without admission or inspection. See 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(6)(A)(i).
3. Based on this allegation in Petitioner’s removal proceedings, DHS denied Petitioner release from immigration custody, consistent with a new DHS policy issued on July 8, 2025, instructing all ICE employees to consider anyone inadmissible under § 1182(a)(6)(A)(i)—i.e., those who entered the United States without admission or inspection—to be subject to detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A) and therefore ineligible to be released on bond. See Exhibit A, ICE Memo: Interim Guidance Regarding Detention Authority for Applications for Admission.
4. Similarly, on September 5, 2025, the Board of Immigration Appeals (“BIA” or “Board”) issued a precedent decision, binding on all immigration judges, holding that an immigration judge has no authority to consider bond requests for any person who entered the United States without admission. See Matter of Yajure Hurtado, 29 I. & N. Dec. 216 (BIA 2025). The Board determined that such individuals are subject to detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A) and therefore ineligible to be released on bond.
5. Petitioner’s detention on this basis violates the plain language of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Section 1225(b)(2)(A) does not apply to individuals like Petitioner who previously entered and are now residing in the United States. Instead, such individuals are subject to a different statute, § 1226(a), that allows for release on conditional parole or bond. That statute expressly applies to people who, like Petitioner, are charged as inadmissible for having entered the United States without inspection.

6. Respondents' new legal interpretation is plainly contrary to the statutory framework and contrary to decades of agency practice applying § 1226(a) to people like Petitioner.
7. In addition, Petitioner brings this petition for a writ of habeas corpus to seek enforcement of his rights as a member of the Bond Eligible Class certified in Maldonado Bautista v. Santacruz, No. 5:25-CV-01873-SSS-BFM (C.D. Cal.). See Exhibit B, Copy of Order.
8. He now faces unlawful detention because the DHS and the EOIR have refused to abide by the declaratory judgment issued on behalf of the certified class in Maldonado Bautista v. Santacruz.
9. Accordingly, Petitioner seeks a writ of habeas corpus requiring that he be released unless Respondents provide a bond hearing under § 1226(a) within seven days.

JURISDICTION

10. This action arises under the Constitution of the United States and the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), 8 U.S.C. § 1101 et seq.
11. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 (habeas corpus), 28 U.S.C. § 1331 (federal question), and Article I, § 9, cl. 2 of the United States Constitution (Suspension Clause).
12. This Court may grant relief under the habeas corpus statutes, 28 U.S.C. § 2241 et seq., the Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. § 2201 et seq., the All Writs Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1651, and the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1252(c)(2).

VENUE

13. Pursuant to Braden v. 30th Judicial Circuit Court of Kentucky, 410 U.S. 484, 493- 500 (1973), venue lies in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida, the judicial district in which Petitioner is currently detained.
14. Venue is also properly in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(e) because Respondents are employees, officers, and agencies of the United States, and because a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claims occurred in the Southern District of Florida.

REQUIREMENTS OF 28 U.S.C. §§ 2241, 2243

15. The Court must grant the petition for writ of habeas corpus “forthwith” unless the petitioner is not entitled to relief. 28 U.S.C. § 2243. If an order to show cause is issued, Respondents must file a return “within three days unless for good cause additional time, not exceeding twenty days, is allowed.” Id.
16. Courts have long recognized the significance of the habeas statute in protecting individuals from unlawful detention. The Great Writ has been referred to as “perhaps the most important writ known to the constitutional law of England, affording as it does a swift and imperative remedy in all cases of illegal restraint or confinement.” Fay v. Noia, 372 U.S. 391, 400 (1963).
17. Petitioner is “in custody” within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 2241 because he is arrested and detained by Respondents at the Broward Transitional Center Detention Center (“BTC”) in Pompano Beach, Florida, pursuant to immigration detention authority. Petitioner challenges that custody as unlawful under the Constitution, federal law, and applicable treaties.

PARTIES

18. Petitioner is FERNANDO SANTOS MONTEJO-JACINTO, a citizen and national of Guatemala who entered the United States in approximately 2013.

19. Respondent, CYNTHIA LAWSON-SWAIN, in their official capacity as Facility Administrator, Broward Transitional Center Detention Center, has immediate custody over Petitioner and is responsible for his detention.
20. Respondent, JUAN AGUDELO, in their official capacity as the Miami Field Office Director for Enforcement and Removal Operations, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement, is responsible for the custody, detention, and removal of noncitizens within this jurisdiction.
21. Respondent, TODD LYONS, in their official capacity as Acting Director of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security Immigration and Customs Enforcement at Broward Transitional Center Detention Center, 3900 N. Powerline Road, Pompano Beach, FL 33073.
22. Respondent, KRISTI NOEM, in their official capacity as Secretary of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, is the head of DHS, Broward Transitional Center Detention Center, 3900 N. Powerline Road, Pompano Beach, FL 33073, which oversees ICE and is ultimately responsible for the unlawful detention of Petitioner.
23. Respondent, PAM BONDI, in their official capacity as Attorney General of the United States, is charged with the administration and enforcement of the immigration laws and is a proper respondent under 28 U.S.C. § 2243.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

24. Petitioner is a 35-year old native and citizen of Guatemala who entered the United States in approximately 2013. See Exhibit C, Petitioner's Identity Documents.
25. Upon his entry into the United States, Petitioner did not encounter the U.S. Customs and Border Protection ("CBP"), Immigration and Customs Enforcement ("ICE"), or any immigration or law enforcement authorities.

26. Petitioner's encounter with immigration enforcement authorities took place within the interior of the United States on September 18, 2025 in Broward County, Florida after he was detained by ICE while complying with his obligations to report for his ICE check-in appointment. See Exhibit D, Copy of Petitioner's Order of Supervision.
27. Following Petitioner's detention by ICE on September 18, 2025, Petitioner was held at Florida Soft Side South (AKA "Alligator Alcatraz") for approximately one (1) month before he was transferred to the BTC, where he has remained detained ever since.
28. On September 18, 2025, the DHS filed a Notice to Appear ("NTA") with the EOIR, which commenced removal proceedings against Petitioner upon being taken into custody while complying with his obligatory ICE check-in appointment. The NTA states that it was served upon the Petitioner on September 18, 2024, however this is a typo as the date was actually September 18, 2025. See Exhibit E, Petitioner's Notice to Appear.
29. Before his detention, Petitioner had filed federal income tax returns and had been a law-abiding member of his community whose only interaction with law enforcement while living in the United States was for a traffic stop resulting in a charge of Driving Without a Valid License by which the ultimate disposition was Nolle Prosequi. See Exhibit F, Petitioner's Income Tax Returns; see also Exhibit G, Petitioner's Palm Beach County Case Disposition.
30. In addition, Petitioner also had established strong family ties to the United States. He is married to his United States Citizen ("USC") spouse, Angelica Maria Mejia, and together they are the devoted parents of a USC son, [REDACTED]. Petitioner had also assumed the role of primary caretaker of his USC wife's two USC children from a previous relationship, [REDACTED] and [REDACTED], both of whom were also included as dependents on Petitioner's aforementioned tax returns. See Exhibit H, Copies of Petitioner's Marriage Certificate, Son's Birth Certificate, and Letters of Support from Petitioner's Wife and Stepchildren.

31. Petitioner was also the beneficiary of an approved I-130, Petition for Alien Relative, which had been filed on his behalf by his USC spouse, whose effective date of approval was October 31, 2024. See Exhibit I, Petitioner's I-130 Approval Notice.
32. On December 17, 2025, undersigned counsel filed a Motion to Terminate Proceedings on behalf of the Petitioner on account of the above I-130 Approval Notice with the intent to seek an I-601A, Provisional Waiver of Unlawful Presence, however the Court denied the Motion to Terminate on December 18, 2025. See Exhibit J, Immigration Judge's Order Denying Motion to Terminate.
33. Meanwhile, on December 8, 2025, undersigned counsel also filed a bond redetermination request with exhibits demonstrating both Petitioner's lack of danger to the community and his strong ties to the United States, including his marriage certificate demonstrating the marriage to his USC spouse, the birth certificate of his USC son, a statement, identification documents, and 2024 tax return from a USC sponsor swearing to provide Petitioner's financial support, a number of reference letters demonstrating Petitioner's good moral character, Petitioner's I-130 Approval Notice, and eligibility for such immigration relief as EOIR-42B, Application for Cancellation of Removal, and I-589, Application for Asylum and Withholding of Removal, both of which have since been filed with the Court. See Exhibit K, Petitioner's EOIR-42B Notice of Filing; see also Exhibit L, Petitioner's I-589 Notice of Filing.
34. Petitioner's bond request was based on the fact that he is neither a flight risk nor a danger to the community. In order to establish the Immigration Court's jurisdiction under the current BIA precedent in Yajure Hurtado, which purports to divest EOIR of jurisdiction to consider bond requests, Petitioner, through undersigned counsel, asserted his membership in the class action lawsuit out of the Central District of California, Maldonado Bautista v. Santacruz, 5:25-CV-01873-SSS-BFM.
35. Nonetheless, without reaching the merits of whether Petitioner was a flight risk or a danger to the community, the Immigration Judge denied Petitioner's bond request on December 19, 2025 with the text of the order simply stating: “Other – The court lacks authority – Matter of Yajure Hurtado, 29 I&N Dec. BIA 2025)”. See Exhibit M, Immigration Judge’s Order Denying Bond.

36. With bond denied pursuant to Matter of Yajure Hurtado, Petitioner now remains incarcerated pending his open removal proceedings and faces the prospect of months, or even years in immigration custody, separated from his loved ones and community.

37. As of the filing of the instant petition, Petitioner has been detained for over four (4) months.

EXHAUSTION

38. Petitioner remains detained without any opportunity for release on bond. Exhaustion under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 is prudential, not jurisdictional, and other courts have repeatedly excused it where administrative review is inadequate, futile, or would cause irreparable harm. F.-G. v. Noem, No. 25-CV-0243-CVE-MTS, 2025 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 111539 (N.D. Okla. June 12, 2025) (declining to require exhaustion where immigration detainee was “trapped in prolonged detention without a meaningful opportunity for bond”); Quintana Casillas v. Sessions, No. 17-cv-01395, slip op. at 9–11 (D. Colo. 2018) (explaining that when “the question presented is purely legal and has been repeatedly mishandled administratively, exhaustion serves no useful purpose.”). Here, the appellate body is the Board of Immigration Appeals, the same body that issued the decision stripping immigration judges of their jurisdiction to hear bonds.

39. Other districts have held that habeas corpus relief was available despite a pending BIA appeal, because “[e]ach additional day of detention without a bond hearing constitutes irreparable harm that cannot be remedied after the fact” LG v. Choate, No. 23-cv00611, slip op. at 14 (D.N.M. 2024).

40. The BIA appeal process here exemplifies why exhaustion is unnecessary. As Rodriguez v. Bostock explained, while the BIA has occasionally remanded bond denials where immigration judges misapplied § 1225(b), it has declined to issue a precedential ruling. 779 F. Supp. 3d 1239, 1245 (W.D. Wash. 2025).

41. Consequently, many immigration judges continue to deny bond altogether, and appeals typically take six months or more, during which noncitizens remain detained unlawfully, with severe consequences for their health, families, and ability to defend against removal. Id.
42. Because Petitioner's injury is the very fact of unlawful detention without a bond hearing, administrative remedies are neither timely nor effective. Habeas corpus is the only adequate remedy.

LEGAL FRAMEWORK

43. First, 8 U.S.C. § 1226 authorizes the detention of noncitizens in standard removal proceedings before an IJ. See 8 U.S.C. § 1229a. Individuals in § 1226(a) detention are generally entitled to a bond hearing at the outset of their detention, see 8 C.F.R. §§ 1003.19(a), 1236.1(d), while noncitizens who have been arrested, charged with, or convicted of certain crimes are subject to mandatory detention, see 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c).
44. Second, the INA provides for mandatory detention of noncitizens subject to expedited removal under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(1) and for other recent arrivals seeking admission referred to under § 1225(b)(2).
45. Last, the INA also provides for detention of noncitizens who have been ordered removed, including individuals in withholding-only proceedings, see 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a)–(b).
46. This case concerns the detention provisions at §§ 1226(a) and 1225(b)(2).
47. The detention provisions at § 1226(a) and § 1225(b)(2) were enacted as part of the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act (IIRIRA) of 1996, Pub. L. No. 104–208, Div. C, §§ 302–03, 110 Stat. 3009–546, 3009–582 to 3009–583, 3009–

585. Section 1226(a) was most recently amended earlier this year by the Laken Riley Act, Pub. L. No.119-1, 139 Stat. 3 (2025).

48. Following the enactment of the IIRIRA, EOIR drafted new regulations explaining that, in general, people who entered the country without inspection were not considered detained under § 1225 and that they were instead detained under § 1226(a). See Inspection and Expedited Removal of Aliens; Detention and Removal of Aliens; Conduct of Removal Proceedings; Asylum Procedures, 62 Fed. Reg. 10312, 10323 (Mar. 6, 1997).
49. Thus, in the decades that followed, most people who entered without inspection and were placed in standard removal proceedings received bond hearings, unless their criminal history rendered them ineligible pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c). That practice was consistent with many more decades of prior practice, in which noncitizens who were not deemed “arriving” were entitled to a custody hearing before an IJ or other hearing officer. See 8 U.S.C. § 1252(a) (1994); see also H.R. Rep. No. 104-469, pt. 1, at 229 (1996) (noting that § 1226(a) simply “restates” the detention authority previously found at § 1252(a)).
50. On July 8, 2025, ICE, “in coordination with” DOJ, announced a new policy that rejected well-established understanding of the statutory framework and reversed decades of practice.
51. The new policy, entitled “Interim Guidance Regarding Detention Authority for Applicants for Admission,”¹ claims that all persons who entered the United States without inspection shall now be subject to mandatory detention provision under § 1225(b)(2)(A). The policy applies regardless of when a person is apprehended, and affects those who have resided in the United States for months, years, and even decades.

52. On September 5, 2025, the BIA adopted this same position in a published decision, Matter of Yajure Hurtado. There, the Board held that all noncitizens who entered the United States without admission or parole are subject to detention under § 1225(b)(2)(A) and are ineligible for IJ bond hearings.
53. Since Respondents adopted their new policies, dozens of federal courts have rejected their new interpretation of the INA's detention authorities. Courts have likewise rejected Matter of Yajure Hurtado, which adopts the same reading of the statute as ICE.
54. Even before ICE or the BIA introduced these nationwide policies, immigration judges in the Tacoma, Washington, immigration court stopped providing bond hearings for persons who entered the United States without inspection and who have since resided here. There, the U.S. District Court in the Western District of Washington found that such a reading of the INA is likely unlawful and that § 1226(a), not § 1225(b), applies to noncitizens who are not apprehended upon arrival to the United States. Rodriguez Vazquez v. Bostock, 779 F. Supp. 3d 1239 (W.D. Wash. 2025).
55. Subsequently, court after court has adopted the same reading of the INA's detention authorities and rejected ICE and EOIR's new interpretation. See, e.g., Gomes v. Hyde, No. 1:25-CV-11571-JEK, 2025 WL 1869299 (D. Mass. July 7, 2025); Diaz Martinez v. Hyde, No. CV 25-11613-BEM, --- F. Supp. 3d ----, 2025 WL 2084238 (D. Mass. July 24, 2025); Rosado v. Figueroa, No. CV 25-02157 PHX DLR (CDB), 2025 WL 2337099 (D. Ariz. Aug. 11, 2025), report and recommendation adopted, No. CV-25-02157-PHX-DLR (CDB), 2025 WL 2349133 (D. Ariz. Aug. 13, 2025); Lopez Benitez v. Francis, No. 25 CIV. 5937 (DEH), 2025 WL 2371588 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 13, 2025); Maldonado v. Olson, No. 0:25-cv-03142-SRN-SGE, 2025 WL 2374411 (D. Minn. Aug. 15, 2025); Arrazola-Gonzalez v. Noem, No. 5:25-cv-01789-ODW (DFMx), 2025 WL 2379285 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 15, 2025); Romero v. Hyde, No. 25-11631-BEM, 2025 WL 2403827 (D. Mass. Aug. 19, 2025); Samb v. Joyce, No. 25 CIV. 6373 (DEH), 2025 WL 2398831 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 19, 2025); Ramirez Clavijo v. Kaiser, No. 25-CV-06248-BLF, 2025 WL 2419263 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 21, 2025); Leal-Hernandez v. Noem, No. 1:25-cv-02428-JRR, 2025 WL

2430025 (D. Md. Aug. 24, 2025); Kostak v. Trump, No. 3:25-cv-01093-JE-KDM, 2025 WL 2472136 (W.D. La. Aug. 27, 2025); Jose J.O.E. v. Bondi, No. 25-CV-3051 (ECT/DJF), --- F. Supp. 3d ----, 2025 WL 2466670 (D. Minn. Aug. 27, 2025) Lopez-Campos v. Raycraft, No. 2:25-cv-12486-BRM-EAS, 2025 WL 2496379 (E.D. Mich. Aug. 29, 2025); Vasquez Garcia v. Noem, No. 25-cv-02180-DMS-MM, 2025 WL 2549431 (S.D. Cal. Sept. 3, 2025); Zaragoza Mosqueda v. Noem, No. 5:25-CV-02304 CAS (BFM), 2025 WL 2591530 (C.D. Cal. Sept. 8, 2025); Pizarro Reyes v. Raycraft, No. 25-CV-12546, 2025 WL 2609425 (E.D. Mich. Sept. 9, 2025); Sampiao v. Hyde, No. 1:25-CV-11981-JEK, 2025 WL 2607924 (D. Mass. Sept. 9, 2025); see also, e.g., Palma Perez v. Berg, No. 8:25CV494, 2025 WL 2531566, at *2 (D. Neb. Sept. 3, 2025) (noting that “[t]he Court tends to agree” that § 1226(a) and not § 1225(b)(2) authorizes detention); Jacinto v. Trump, No. 4:25-cv-03161-JFB-RCC, 2025 WL 2402271 at *3 (D. Neb. Aug. 19, 2025) (same); Anicasio v. Kramer, No. 4:25-cv-03158-JFB-RCC, 2025 WL 2374224 at *2 (D. Neb. Aug. 14, 2025) (same).

56. Courts have uniformly rejected DHS’s and EOIR’s new interpretation because it defies the INA. As the Rodriguez Vazquez court and others have explained, the plain text of the statutory provisions demonstrates that § 1226(a), not § 1225(b), applies to people like Petitioner.
57. Section 1226(a) applies by default to all persons “pending a decision on whether the [noncitizen] is to be removed from the United States.” These removal hearings are held under § 1229a, to “decid[e] the inadmissibility or deportability of a[] [noncitizen].” See Jennings v. Rodriguez, 583 U.S. 281, 287 (2018).
58. The text of § 1226 also explicitly applies to people charged as being inadmissible, including those who entered without inspection. See 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c)(1)(E). Subparagraph (E)’s reference to such people makes clear that, by default, such people are afforded a bond hearing under subsection (a). As the Rodriguez Vazquez court explained, “[w]hen Congress creates ‘specific exceptions’ to a statute’s applicability, it ‘proves’ that absent those exceptions, the statute generally applies.” Rodriguez Vazquez, 779 F. Supp.

3d at 1257 (citing Shady Grove Orthopedic Assocs., P.A. v. Allstate Ins. Co., 559 U.S. 393, 400 (2010)); see also Gomes, 2025 WL 1869299, at *7.

59. Section 1226 therefore leaves no doubt that it applies to people who face charges of being inadmissible to the United States, including those who are present without admission or parole.
60. By contrast, § 1225(b) applies to people arriving at U.S. ports of entry or who recently entered the United States. The statute’s entire framework is premised on inspections at the border of people who are “seeking admission” to the United States. 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A).
61. Indeed, the Supreme Court has explained that this mandatory detention scheme applies “at the Nation’s borders and ports of entry, where the Government must determine whether a[] [noncitizen] seeking to enter the country is admissible.” Jennings v. Rodriguez, 583 U.S. 281, 287 (2018).
62. The courts have distilled two central principles:
 - a. Geographic/temporal limits: § 1225 applies only to noncitizens apprehended at or near the border and in the act of entry (see Thuraissigiam, 591 U.S. 103, 114, 139 (2020)), not to those apprehended years later in the interior.
 - b. Statutory structure: Reading § 1225 as covering all noncitizens who were never lawfully “admitted” would render § 1226 largely meaningless, contrary to the rule against surplusage. See Martinez, 2025 WL 2084238, at *7; Gomes v. Hyde, No. 25-cv-11571, 2025 WL 1869299, at *6–8 (D. Mass. July 7, 2025).
63. A contrary reading renders superfluous recent amendments in the Laken Riley Act, Pub. L. No. 119-1, 139 Stat. 3 (2025), which added INA § 236(c)(1)(E) mandating detention for noncitizens inadmissible under § 212(a)(6)(A)(present without admission) who are implicated in enumerated crimes. If all such noncitizens were already mandatorily detained under § 235(b)(2)(A), Congress’s addition would be meaningless. See Corley v.

United States, 556 U.S. 303, 314 (2009) (statutes must be construed to give effect to all provisions).

64. Accordingly, the mandatory detention provision of § 1225(b)(2)(A) does not apply to people like Petitioner, who have already entered and were residing in the United States at the time they were apprehended.
65. Finally, Loper Bright Enterprises v. Raimondo, 603 U.S. 369 (2024) is a landmark decision overruling Chevron deference thereby permitting this Honorable Court to come to its own conclusion on the interpretation of the relevant statutes without relying on Board precedent in Matter of Yajure-Hurtado, 29 I&N Dec. 216 (BIA 2025), which was wrongly decided.

Maldonado Bautista v. Santacruz

66. On November 20, 2025, the district court granted partial summary judgment on behalf of individual plaintiffs and on November 25, 2025, certified a nationwide class and extended declaratory judgment to the certified class. Maldonado Bautista v. Santacruz, No. 5:25-CV-01873-SSS-BFM, --- F. Supp. 3d ---, 2025 WL 3289861, at *11 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 20, 2025) (order granting partial summary judgment to named Plaintiffs-Petitioners); Maldonado Bautista v. Santacruz, No. 5:25-CV-01873-SSS-BFM, --- F. Supp. 3d ---, 2025 WL 3288403, at *9 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 25, 2025) (order certifying Plaintiffs-Petitioners' proposed nationwide Bond Eligible Class, incorporating and extending declaratory judgment from Order Granting Petitioners' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment).
67. The declaratory judgment held that the Bond Eligible Class members are detained under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a), and thus may not be denied consideration for release on bond under § 1225(b)(2)(A). Maldonado Bautista, 2025 WL 3289861, at *11.
68. Nonetheless, the EOIR and its subagency, the Immigration Court, and the DHS have blatantly refused to abide by the declaratory relief and have unlawfully ordered that Petitioner be denied the opportunity to be released on bond. See Exhibit N, Practice Alert: EOIR Issues Nationwide Guidance on Maldonado Bautista.

69. Respondents are bound by the judgment in Maldonado Bautista, as it has the full “force and effect of a final judgment.” 28 U.S.C. § 2201(a). Nevertheless, Respondents continue to flagrantly defy the judgment in that case and continue to subject Petitioner to unlawful detention despite his clear entitlement to consideration for release on bond as a Bond Eligible Class member. Id.
70. Immigration judges have informed class members in bond hearings that they have been instructed by “leadership” that the declaratory judgment in Maldonado Bautista is not controlling, even with respect to class members, and that instead IJs remain bound to follow the agency’s prior decision in Matter of Yajure Hurtado, 29 I. & N. Dec. 216 (BIA 2025).
71. Because Respondents are detaining Petitioner in violation of the declaratory judgment issued in Maldonado Bautista, the Court should accordingly order that within one day, Respondent DHS must release Petitioner.
72. Alternatively, the Court should order Petitioner’s release unless Respondents provide a bond hearing under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a) within seven days.

CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

COUNT I

Unlawful Detention Under 8 U.S.C. § 1225; Custody Properly Governed By 8 U.S.C. § 1226 (Misapplication of Mandatory Detention Statute)

73. Petitioner incorporates by reference the allegations of fact set forth in the preceding paragraphs.
74. The mandatory detention provision at 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) does not apply to all noncitizens residing in the United States who are subject to the grounds of inadmissibility. As relevant here, it does not apply to those who previously entered the country and have been residing in the United States prior to being apprehended and placed in removal proceedings by Respondents. Such noncitizens are detained under § 1226(a), unless they are subject to § 1225(b)(1), § 1226(c), or § 1231.

75. Petitioner is currently being detained without the possibility of bond under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A), based on DHS’s argument that she is “an Applicant seeking Admission under the provisions of Sec. 235(b)(2)(A) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (‘INA’).”
76. This argument is legally erroneous. Section 1225 applies to noncitizens actively “seeking admission” at the border or its immediate functional equivalent. By contrast, § 1226 governs the arrest and detention of those “already in the country” pursuant to a warrant issued by the Attorney General. The two provisions are mutually exclusive. See Jennings v. Rodriguez, 583 U.S. 281, 288–89 (2018); Matter of M-S-, 27 I. & N. Dec. 509, 516 (A.G. 2019).
77. Petitioner plainly falls within § 1226. He has resided in the United States for over twenty-five (25) years, with deep community ties, employment, and no criminal record. He was stopped by the Juno Beach Highway patrol on October 7, 2025 detained by ICE and transferred to the Krome North Processing Center, where DHS proceeded to issue the charging documents including a Notice to Appear.
78. The charging document itself expressly alleges that Petitioner is “present in the United States without admission or parole,” language that presumes residence in the interior and confirms that he was not in the process of seeking admission. Taken together, these contradictions underscore the arbitrariness of Petitioner’s detention and the government’s mischaracterization of his case.
79. To hold otherwise would effectively erase the statutory line between §§ 1225 and 1226, converting virtually all noncitizens present without admission into mandatory detainees and rendering § 1226(a) a dead letter. Courts have consistently rejected this outcome. See Martinez, 2025 WL 2084238, at *7 (rejecting interpretation that would “nullify” Congress’s amendment to § 1226(c)); Gomes v. Hyde, No. 25-cv-11571, 2025 WL 1869299, at *7 (D. Mass. July 7, 2025) (noting that §§ 1225 and 1226 “apply to different classes” of noncitizens).

80. In sum, Petitioner was not “seeking admission” within the meaning of § 1225(b) but was “already in the country” within the meaning of Jennings, 583 U.S. at 288–89. His custody is governed by § 1226(a), under which detention is discretionary and subject to individualized bond hearings. DHS’s argument is contrary to law, unsupported by the record, and must be set aside.
81. The application of § 1225(b)(2) to Petitioner unlawfully mandates his continued detention and violates the INA.

COUNT II
Violation of Due Process

82. Petitioner re-alleges the allegations contained in all preceding paragraphs of this Petition-Complaint as if fully set forth herein.
83. The government may not deprive a person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law. U.S. Const. amend. V. “Freedom from imprisonment—from government custody, detention, or other forms of physical restraint—lies at the heart of the liberty that the Clause protects.” Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 690 (2001).
84. Petitioner has a fundamental interest in liberty and being free from official restraint.
85. The government’s detention of Petitioner without a bond redetermination hearing to determine whether he is a flight risk or danger to others violates his right to due process.
86. Here, Respondents have made no finding that Jose is a danger to the community as an individual with no criminal history whatsoever. In fact, he has had no opportunity whatsoever to present the equities of his case because the judge declined to hear his custody redetermination request.
87. Respondents have made no finding that Petitioner is a flight risk. On the contrary, Petitioner has provided a litany of evidence including a sworn affidavit from a U.S. citizen sponsor willing to ensure he attends all of his immigration proceedings.

COUNT III

Violation of the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution (Procedural Due Process); 5 U.S.C. §§ 702, 706

88. Petitioner re-alleges the allegations contained in all preceding paragraphs of this Petition-Complaint as if fully set forth herein.
89. The Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment protects all “person[s]” from deprivation of liberty “without due process of law.”
90. The Due Process Clause entitles Petitioner to meaningful process assessing whether his current detention is justified. The arrest and detention of Petitioner without an opportunity for him to contest his detention in front of a neutral decision-maker after he had been living and working in the United States for over twenty-five (25) years provide insufficient due process and violates the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution.

COUNT IV

Violation of the INA: Request for Relief Pursuant to Maldonado Bautista

91. Petitioner repeats, re-alleges, and incorporates by reference each and every allegation in the preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.
92. As a member of the Bond Eligible Class, Petitioner is entitled to consideration for release on bond under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a).
93. The order granting partial summary judgment in Maldonado Bautista holds that Respondents violate the INA in applying the mandatory detention statute at § 1225(b)(2) to class members.
94. The order granting class certification in Maldonado Bautista further orders that “[w]hen considering this determination with the MSJ Order, the Court extends the same declaratory relief granted to Petitioners to the Bond Eligible Class as a whole.”
95. Respondents are parties to Maldonado Bautista and bound by the Court’s declaratory judgment, which has the full “force and effect of a final judgment.” 28 U.S.C. § 2201(a).

96. By denying Petitioner a bond hearing under § 1226(a) and asserting that he is subject to mandatory detention under § 1225(b)(2), Respondents violate Petitioner's statutory rights under the INA and the Court's judgment in Maldonado Bautista.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Petitioner respectfully requests this Court to grant the following:

- (1) Assume jurisdiction over this matter;
- (2) Order that Petitioner shall not be transferred outside the Southern District of Florida;
- (3) Issue an Order to Show Cause ordering Respondents to show cause why this Petition should not be granted within three days.
- (4) Declare that the Petitioner's detention violates the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment.
- (5) Issue a Writ of Habeas Corpus ordering Respondents to release Petitioner immediately.
- (6) Grant any further relief this Court deems just and proper.
