ROBERT HAGAN, Field Office Director, Denver Field Office, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement, in his official capacity,

KRISTI NOEM, Secretary, U.S. Department of Homeland Security, in her official capacity,

VERIFIED PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

Respondents illegally incarcerate without bond Petitioner Jose Marrero Yera (“Mr. Marrero Yera”) at Immigration and Customs Enforcement’s (“ICE”) Denver Contract Detention Facility in Aurora, Colorado (“Aurora Facility”).¹ Mr. Marrero Yera is entitled to a writ of habeas corpus to end his unlawful loss of liberty. The issues here are not new. Judges in this District have unanimously found that Respondents’ novel and unprecedented interpretation of the statute subjecting millions of people like Mr. Marrero Yera to mandatory detention is illegal. E.g., Ugarte Hernandez v. Baltazar, et al., 1:25-cv-04066-RBJ, *4 (D. Colo. Jan. 15, 2026), ECF 16 (attached as Exh. 1).

I. INTRODUCTION

1. ICE charges Mr. Marrero Yera with having entered the United States without inspection in January of 2022. ICE first jailed Mr. Marrero Yera after his entry to the United States but then released him on his own recognizance pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1226. Exh. 2. Mr. Marrero Yera thereafter timely filed an application for asylum. Mr. Marrero Yera has no criminal history that subjects him to mandatory detention. Under the new administration however, the Department of Homeland Security (“DHS”) issued a warrant pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1226 to jail Mr. Marrero Yera again. Exh. 3. ICE now incarcerates Mr. Marrero Yera at the Aurora Facility without the opportunity to request bond due to ICE claiming, and the Executive Office for Immigration Review (“EOIR”) agreeing, that Mr. Marrero Yera is subject to 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) mandatory detention. Exh. 4. Expeditious action from this Court is needed to address Respondents’ continued lawlessness because, despite its best efforts, “ICE is not a law unto itself.” Juan T.R. v. Noem, 26-cv-0107 (PJS/DLM), 2026 WL 232015, at *1 (D. Minn. Jan. 28, 2026).

II. PARTIES

Mr. Marrero Yera

2. ICE jails Mr. Marrero Yera at the Aurora Facility in Aurora, Colorado. Mr. Marrero Yera has lived in the United States for over four years and is the loving father to a 10-month-old U.S. citizen. Mr. Marrero Yera has no criminal contacts that subject him to mandatory detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c).

Respondents

3. Juan Baltazar is the Warden of the Aurora Facility where ICE jails Mr. Marrero Yera, and is an employee of the GEO Group, the for-profit prison company that operates the facility. Mr. Baltazar is a legal custodian of Mr. Marrero Yera. He is sued in his official capacity.

4. Robert Hagan is the ICE Field Office Director of the Denver ICE Field Office and is sued in his official capacity. Mr. Hagan is the immediate custodian of Mr. Marrero Yera and is responsible for Mr. Marrero Yera’s detention and removal.

5. Kristi Noem is the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security (“DHS”). Ms. Noem is responsible for the implementation and enforcement of the Immigration and Nationality Act (“INA”). DHS is the parent agency of ICE, and thus Ms. Noem also oversees ICE, which is responsible for Mr. Marrero Yera’s illegal detention. Ms. Noem has ultimate custodial authority over Mr. Marrero Yera and is sued in her official capacity.

6. Todd M. Lyons is the Acting Director of U.S. ICE and is sued in his official capacity. Mr. Lyons is responsible for Mr. Marrero Yera’s illegal detention and has custodial authority over him.

III. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

8. Respondents incarcerate Mr. Marrero Yera at the Aurora Facility in Aurora, Colorado. Mr. Marrero Yera is currently imprisoned in this District and is under the control of Respondents and their agents.

9. Mr. Marrero Yera brings this action under 28 U.S.C. § 2241, the INA and its implementing regulations, the Administrative Procedures Act (5 §§ U.S.C. 500-596, 701-706), the All-Writs Act (8 U.S.C. § 1651), the Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. § 2201, and the U.S. Constitution. District courts have jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 to hear habeas corpus actions by noncitizens challenging the lawfulness and constitutionality of their civil immigration detention.

10. This Court also has federal question jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331, as this is a civil action arising under the laws of the U.S.

11. Venue is proper under 28 U.S.C. § 1391 because Respondents imprison Mr. Marrero Yera in Aurora, Colorado, within the jurisdiction of this Court. Likewise, Mr. Marrero Yera is a resident of this District, his counsel is in this District, and a substantial part of the events giving rise to the claims in this action took place within this District.

IV. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

A. Legal Authority for Immigration Detention.

12. ICE’s authority to jail noncitizens is prescribed by statute. Section 1226(a) of 8 U.S.C. establishes discretionary detention for noncitizens ICE arrests “[o]n a warrant issued by the Attorney General” and then place in 8 U.S.C. § 1229a removal proceedings. 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a). Those noncitizens may then move an immigration judge for a custody hearing at any time prior to a final order of removal. Id.; 8 C.F.R. §§ 236.1(d)(1), 1003.19(a), (b). During the custody hearing, i.e., bond hearing, the IJ determines whether the noncitizen establishes by the preponderance of the evidence if they are a risk of flight or danger to the community. See generally Matter of Guerra, 24 I. & N. Dec. 37 (B.I.A. 2006). The statute does not require ICE to conduct an initial custody determination before the noncitizen has the right to seek a custody hearing before the IJ. 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a).

13. Section 1226(c) of 8 U.S.C. establishes mandatory detention for noncitizens with certain criminal legal contacts in § 1229a removal proceedings. 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c). IJs do not have the authority to consider these noncitizens’ request for release on bond unless ICE is substantially unlikely to establish that the noncitizen falls within one of § 1226(c)’s mandatory detention provisions. See generally Matter of Joseph, 22 I. & N. Dec. 799 (B.I.A. 1999).

14. The statute also provides for mandatory detention of a narrow subset of noncitizens subject to an expedited removal pursuant to § 1225(b) or for other noncitizen “applicants for admission” to the U.S. who are apprehended at the border or port of entry. See 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2). Section 1225 focuses on noncitizens “arriv[ing]” “whether or not at a designated port of arrival,” and applies to people like those who were “interdicted in international or United States waters” (§ 1225(a)(1)), are “stowaways” (§ 1225(a)(2)), and who are otherwise “applicants for admission” into the U.S. (§ 1225(a)(3)). In contrast to § 1226, § 1225 discusses matters such as “screening” “claims for asylum” (§ 1225(b)(1)(A)(i)-(ii)) at the border, “inspection” by an immigration officer to determine if a noncitizen “is ... clearly and beyond a doubt entitled to be admitted” (§ 1225(b)(2) & (d)), and “removal” of “an arriving [noncitizen]” (§ 1225(c)(1)).

15. Finally, the statute provides for detention of noncitizens with final removal orders. 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a), (b).

16. Mr. Marrero Yera does not have any criminal legal contact rendering him subject to 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c). He is also not subject to § 1231 detention because he does not have a final removal order. Rather, this case concerns the discretionary detention provision at 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a) and Respondents' erroneous assertion that mandatory detention pursuant to § 1225(b) applies.

17. The Supreme Court summarizes the interplay between §§ 1226 and 1225 as follows: "In sum, U.S. immigration law authorizes the Government to detain certain [noncitizens] seeking admission into the country under §§ 1225(b)(1) and (b)(2). It also authorizes the Government to detain certain [noncitizens] already in the country pending the outcome of removal proceedings under §§ 1226(a) and (c)." Jennings v. Rodriguez, 582 U.S. 281, 289 (2018) (Alito, J., emphasis added). The Court has since reiterated this statutory scheme. E.g., Johnson v. Guzman Chavez, 594 U.S. 523, 527 (2021) (Noncitizens "who are arrested and detained may generally apply for release on bond" pursuant to § 1226(a)); Nielsen v. Preap, 586 U.S. 392, 395 & 397 (2019) (§ 1226 is the "general rule regarding [noncitizens] arrest and detention" and permits "release . . . on bond").

18. Both the § 1226 and § 1225 detention provisions were enacted as part of the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act (IIRIRA) of 1996, Pub. L. No. 104-208, Div. C, §§ 302-03, 110 Stat. 3009-546, 3009-582 to 3009-583, 3009-585. Section 1226(a) was most recently amended in early 2025 by the Laken Riley Act (LRA), Pub. L. No. 119-1, 139 Stat. 3 (2025), with new provisions specifically enacted to jail individuals who entered the United States without inspection and who have certain criminal legal contacts. 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c)(1)(E).

19. Following the enactment of the IIRIRA in 1996, EOIR wrote regulations applicable to proceedings before IJs explaining that, in general, people who entered the country without inspection (also known as “present without admission”) were not detainable under § 1225 and instead could only be detained under § 1226(a). See Inspection and Expedited Removal of Aliens; Detention and Removal of Aliens; Conduct of Removal Proceedings; Asylum Procedures, 62 Fed. Reg. 10312, 10323 (Mar. 6, 1997) (“Despite being applicants for admission, aliens who are present without having been admitted or paroled (formerly referred to as aliens who entered without inspection) will be eligible for bond and bond redetermination”).

20. Thus, in the following decades, people who entered without inspection and did not have certain criminal legal contacts received § 1226(a) bond hearings when placed in § 1229a proceedings. That practice was consistent with additional decades of pre-IIRIRA practice, in which noncitizens who were not “arriving” or seeking entry into the United States were entitled to a custody hearing before an IJ or other hearing officer. See 8 U.S.C. § 1252(a) (1994); see also H.R. Rep. No. 104-469, pt. 1, at 229 (1996) (noting the new § 1226(a) simply “restates” the detention authority previously found at § 1252(a)).

21. This practice – both pre- and post-enactment of the IIRIRA – is consistent with the fact that noncitizens present in the U.S. have constitutional rights. “[T]he Due Process Clause applies to all ‘persons’ within the United States, including [noncitizens], whether their presence is lawful, unlawful, temporary, or permanent.” Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 693 (2001).

22. Despite this long-standing practice and the plain text of the statute, the Board of Immigration Appeals (“BIA”) issued an unpublished decision on May 22, 2025, holding that noncitizens who entered the United States without inspection were subject to § 1225(b)(2) mandatory detention as “applicants for admission.”

23. On July 8, 2025, ICE, “in coordination with” the DOJ announced a new policy consistent with the unpublished BIA decision from May 22, 2025. The new ICE/DOJ policy, titled “Interim Guidance Regarding Detention Authority for Applicants for Admission,” claims that all noncitizens present within the U.S. who entered without inspection – no matter how long ago, no matter where, and no matter how – are deemed “applicants for admission” under 8 U.S.C. § 1225, and thus subject to mandatory detention under § 1225(b)(2)(A). The new policy applies regardless of when and where a person was apprehended and affects people who reside in the U.S. for years.

24. The federal courts resoundingly rejected Respondents’ position almost immediately. See Rodriguez-Vazquez v. Bostock, No. 779 F.Supp.3d 1239 (W.D. Wash. 2025); Gomes v. Hyde, No. 1:25-CV-11571-JEK, 2025 WL 1869299, *8 (D. Mass. July 7, 2025); Diaz Martinez v. Hyde, No. CV 25-11613-BEM, --- F. Supp.3d ---, 2025 WL 2084238, *9 (D. Mass. 25. Nevertheless, on September 5, 2025, the BIA published a precedential decision finding that people who entered without inspection are subject to § 1225(b)(2). Matter of Yajure Hurtado, 29 I. & N. Dec. 216 (BIA 2025). IJs across the country are now required to apply Respondents' unlawful detention regime absent federal court intervention.

26. Since Yajure Hurtado, the federal courts have continued to overwhelmingly reject the Respondents' position. See e.g., Zaragoza Mosqueda v. Noem, No. 5:25-cv-02304, 2025 WL 2591530 (C.D. Cal. Sept. 8, 2025); Sampiao v. Hyde, --- F.Supp.3d ---, 2025 WL 2607924 (D. Mass. Sept. 9, 2025); Pizzaro Reyes v. Raycraft, No. 25-cv-12546, 2025 WL 2609425 (E.D. Mich. 27. 28. The District of Colorado joined the chorus on September 16, 2025, when Judge Sweeney explained, inter alia, that the Government's argument for § 1225(b)(2) detention must fail when a noncitizen is not "seeking admission" into the United States. *Garcia Cortes v. The chorus continues unanimously and unabated in this district. E.g., Mendoza Gutierrez v. Baltasar et al., 1:25-cv-2720, 2025 WL 2962908 (D. Colo. Oct. 17, 2025); *Moya Pineda v. Jan. 15, 2026), ECF 16 (collecting cases and acknowledging the District's unanimity).

29. On November 20, 2025, the Central District of California granted partial summary judgment on behalf of individual plaintiffs and on November 25, 2025, certified a nationwide class and extended declaratory judgment to the certified class. Maldonado Bautista v. Santacruz, No. 5:25-CV-01873-SSS-BFM, 2025 WL 3289861, at *11 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 20, 2025) (order granting partial summary judgment to named Plaintiffs-Mr. Marrero Yeras); Maldonado Bautista v. Santacruz, No. 5:25-CV-01873-SSS-BFM, 2025 WL 3288403, at *9 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 25, 2025) (order certifying Plaintiffs-Mr. Marrero Yeras' proposed nationwide Bond Eligible Class, incorporating and extending declaratory judgment from Order Granting Mr. Marrero Yeras' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment).

30. The declaratory judgement held that the Bond Denial Class members are detained under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a) and thus may not be denied consideration for release on bond under § 1225(b)(2)(A). Maldonado Bautista, 2025 WL 3289861, at *11.

31. On December 18, 2025, the Maldonado Bautista court issued another order, explicitly vacating DHS' policy of applying § 1225(b) nationwide to members of the class. Maldonado

Bautista v. Santacruz, ---F.Supp.3d---, 2025 WL 3713987, *22 (C.D. Cal. 2025) (“[B]ecause the Court declares the DHS policy unlawful, the Court must set aside the DHS policy. As such, the Court VACATES the DHS Policy under the APA”) (emphasis in original).

32. The class is defined as “[a]ll noncitizens in the United States without lawful status who (1) have entered or will enter the United States without inspection; (2) were not or will not be apprehended upon arrival; and (3) are not or will not be subject to detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c), § 1225(b)(1), or § 1231 at the time DHS makes an initial custody determination.” Maldonado Bautista, --- F. Supp. 3d ----, 2025 WL 3713987, *2.

33. As evidenced by hundreds of federal court decisions, Respondents’ interpretation that § 1225(b) governs detention in this case is wrong. It defies the plain language of the INA, fundamental canons of statutory construction, and the agency’s longstanding regulations.

34. Indeed, the statute’s plain text demonstrates § 1226(a) – not § 1225(b) – applies to people like Mr. Marrero Yera. Section 1226(a) is the “default rule” applying to all persons “pending a decision on whether the [noncitizen] is to be removed.” Rodriguez Vazquez, 779 F.Supp.3d at 1246; Jennings, 582 U.S. at 281.

35. Notably, the plain language of § 1226 applies to people charged as inadmissible for entering without inspection. E.g., 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c)(1)(E). Subparagraph (E)’s reference to inadmissible individuals makes clear that, by default, inadmissible individuals not subject to subparagraph (E)(ii) are entitled to a bond hearing under subsection (a). As the Rodriguez-Vazquez court explained, “[w]hen Congress creates ‘specific exceptions’ to a statute’s applicability, it ‘proves’ that absent those exceptions, the statute generally applies.” Rodriguez-Vazquez, 779 F.Supp.3d at 1256-57 (citing Shady Grove Orthopedic Assocs., P.A. v. Allstate Ins. Co., 559 U.S. 393, 400 (2010)).

36. Thus, § 1226 applies to noncitizens like Mr. Marrero Yera who are present without inspection, face inadmissibility charges in removal proceedings due to their entrance without inspection, and who do not have certain criminal legal contacts.

37. By contrast, § 1225(b) applies to people arriving at U.S. ports of entry or who recently entered the U.S. and are encountered at or near the border. Section 1225's entire framework is premised around inspection at the border of people who are "seeking admission" to the U.S. 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A). Indeed, the Supreme Court has explained that this mandatory detention scheme applies "at the Nation's borders and ports of entry, where the Government must determine whether a[] [noncitizen] seeking to enter the country is admissible." Jennings, 582 U.S. at 287.

38. Accordingly, contrary to Respondents' erroneous interpretation of the statute, the mandatory detention provisions of § 1225(b)(2) do not apply to people like Mr. Marrero Yera who "arrived" in the country long ago and have resided in the United States for years before ICE jailed them.

B. Mr. Marrero Yera's Illegal Detention Without Bond

39. Mr. Marrero Yera has resided continuously in the United States for over four years. He is a respected member of his community, maintains stable employment, and is a devoted caregiver to his family. He is the father to a ten-month-old U.S. citizen child. He always cooperated with ICE and has no criminal history that triggers mandatory detention. He timely filed his application for asylum with U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services, which remains pending. Exh. 5. Mr. Marrero Yera is an excellent candidate for release on bond so that he may meaningfully defend his removal proceedings while at liberty. E.g., Matter of Guerra, 24 I. & N. Dec at 40 (listing factors relevant for bond). Indeed, Respondents released him on his own recognizance in 2022, recognizing the same. Exh. 2. Nevertheless, Respondents incarcerate him under the wrong statute without the possibility of requesting bond. Absent intervention by this Court, Mr. Marrero Yera will illegally remain in Respondents' custody.

C. ICE's Reincarceration of Mr. Marrero Yera Violated Procedural Due Process.

40. To add insult to injury, ICE's decision to rejail Mr. Ramirez violated procedural due process. "It is well established that the Fifth Amendment entitles [noncitizens] to due process of law in the context of removal proceedings." Reno v. Flores, 507 U.S. 292, 306 (1993). The "touchstone" of due process is protecting people against arbitrary government action, whether from "denial of a fundamental procedural fairness, or the exercise of power without any reasonable justification in the service of a legitimate government objection." Cty. of Sacramento v. Lewis, 532 U.S. 833, 845–46 (1998). "Even those who face significant constraints on their liberty or those over whose liberty the government wields significant discretion retain a protected interest in their liberty." Rosado v. Figueroa, CV 25-02157 PHX DLR (CDB), 2025 WL 2337099, at *11 (D. Ariz. Aug. 11, 2025); Guillermo M.R. v. Kaiser, 791 F.Supp.3d 1021, 1030 (N.D. Ca. Jul. 17, 2025) (citations omitted) (same).

41. "Procedural due process imposes constraints on governmental decisions which deprive individuals of liberty . . ." Mathews v. Eldridge, 424 U.S. 319, 332 (1976) (citation modified). "The fundamental requirement of [procedural] due process is the opportunity to be heard at a meaningful time and in a meaningful manner." Id. at 333 (citation modified).

42. Whether government action violates procedural due process is determined by the three-factor balancing test in Mathews. Id. at 335. The test requires the Court to balance (1) "the private interest that will be affected by the official action"; (2) "the risk of erroneous deprivation of such interest through the procedures used, and the probable value, if any, of additional or substitute procedural safeguards"; and (3) "the Government's interest, including the function involved and the fiscal and administrative burdens that the additional or substitute procedural requirement would entail.” Id.

43. Here, ICE’s decision to release Mr. Marrero Yera under § 1226—an act that necessarily requires the agency to conclude that he is neither a risk of flight nor a danger to the community—and then re-jail him under § 1225(b)(2) without notice, process, or a material change in circumstances violates his right to procedural due process. E.g., Grigorian v. Bondi, 25-cv-22914-RAR, 2025 WL 2604573, at *6–10 (S.D.Fla. Sept. 9, 2025); K.E.O. v. Woosley, No. 4:25-cv-74-RGJ, 2025 WL 2553394, at *3 (W.D.Ky. Sept. 4, 2025); Zhu v. Genalo, 1:25-cv-06523 (JLR), 2025 WL 2452352, at *5–9 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 26, 2025); Roble v. Bondi, No. 25-cv-3196 (LMP/LIB), 2025 WL 2443453, at *5 (D. Mass. June 20, 2025); Ceesay v. Kurzdorfer, 781 F.Supp.3d 137, 163–64 (W.D.N.Y. 2025); See Cruz Valera v. Baltazar, 1:25-cv-03744-CNS, 2025 WL 3496174, at *3–4 (D. Colo. Dec. 5, 2025).

44. Habeas corpus is “perhaps the most important writ known to the constitutional law . . . affording as it does a swift and imperative remedy in all cases of illegal restraint or confinement.” Fay v. Noia, 372 U.S. 391, 400 (1963) (emphasis added). While Respondents’ current confinement of Mr. Marrero Yera is incarceration, Mr. Marrero Yera seeks habeas relief from all forms of illegal ICE custody. See Jones v. Cunningham, 371 U.S. 236, 242 (1963) (“While Mr. Marrero Yera’s parole releases him from immediate physical imprisonment, it imposes conditions which significantly confine and restrain his freedom; this is enough to keep him ‘in custody’ . . . within the meaning of the habeas corpus statute”); Orellana v. Moniz, 788 F.Supp.3d 61, 68 (D. Mass. June 11, 2025) (same for a noncitizen with an ankle monitor); Hogarth v. Santacruz, 5:25-cv-09472-SPG-MAR, 2025 WL 3211461, *13 (C.D. Cal. Oct. 23, 2025) (same); Batz Barreno v. Baltasar, ---F.Supp.3d---, 2026 WL 120253 (D. Colo. Jan. 15, 2026) (same); Garcia Cortes v.

Guadian, et al., 1:26-cv-00294-CNS, 2026 WL 265688, * (D. Colo. Feb. 2, 2026) (same). This includes the imposition of GPS monitoring, check-in requirements, in-person or telephonic requirements, retention of identity documents, and any other conditions ICE unilaterally imposes as part of judge-ordered release. As discussed supra, Respondent's novel interpretation of the statute is wrong. Its authority to jail Mr. Marrero Yera is pursuant to § 1226(a) and its refusal to offer him a pre-deprivation custody hearing and refusal to offer him a § 1226(a) custody hearing is unlawful.

V. CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

COUNT I

Respondents Jail Mr. Marrero Year in Violation of 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a)

45. Mr. Marrero Yera incorporates by reference the allegations of fact set forth in the preceding paragraphs.

46. The mandatory detention provision at 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) does not apply to Mr. Marrero Yera because he was present and residing in the U.S., has been placed in § 1229a removal proceedings, and charged with inadmissibility pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1182. Simply, § 1225 does not apply to people like Mr. Marrero Yera who previously entered the country and reside in the U.S. prior to being detained and placed in removal proceedings. Such noncitizens may only be detained pursuant to § 1226(a), unless they are subject to mandatory detention provisions of § 1226(c) irrelevant here.

47. An IJ's jurisdiction to hear a noncitizen's request for liberty in a custody hearing is not contingent upon ICE conducting an initial custody determination. 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a). Noncitizens subject to § 1226(a) incarceration require access to a bond hearing; the only exceptions are found in § 1226(c) which are not relevant here.

48. Applying § 1225 to Mr. Marrero Yera unlawfully mandates his continued detention without a custody determination hearing and violates 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a).

COUNT II
Respondents are Detaining Mr. Marrero Yera in Violation of the INA Bond Regulations (8 C.F.R. §§ 236.1, 1236.1 & 1003.19)

49. Mr. Marrero Yera incorporates by reference the allegations of fact set forth in the preceding paragraphs.

50. Respondent EOIR and the then Immigration and Naturalization Service issued a rule to interpret and apply the IIRIRA under the heading “Apprehension, Custody, and Detention of [Noncitizens],” which explained: “Despite being applicants for admission, [noncitizens] who are present without having been admitted or paroled (formerly referred to as [noncitizens] who entered without inspection) will be eligible for bond.” 62 Fed. Reg. at 10323 (emphasis added). Respondents thus long-ago made clear that people like Mr. Marrero Yera who had entered without inspection were eligible for consideration for bond and bond hearings before IJs under 8 U.S.C. § 1226 and the implementing regulations.

51. Nonetheless, Respondents here deemed Mr. Marrero Yera subject to mandatory detention under § 1225, which unlawfully mandates his continued detention.

52. Respondents’ application of § 1225(b)(2) to Mr. Marrero Yera unlawfully requires his continued detention in violation of 8 C.F.R. §§ 236.1, 1236.1, and 1003.19.

COUNT III
Respondents are Detaining Mr. Marrero Yera in Violation of the Administrative Procedures Act (5 U.S.C. § 706(2))

53. Mr. Marrero Yera incorporates by reference the allegations of fact set forth in the preceding paragraphs.

54. Under the APA, a court must “hold unlawful and set aside agency action” that is “arbitrary, capricious, an abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with the law,” that is “contrary to constitutional right [or] power,” or that is “in excess of statutory jurisdiction, authority, or limitations, or short of statutory right.” 5 U.S.C. § 706(2)(A)-(C).

55. Respondents’ detention of Mr. Marrero Yera pursuant to § 1225 is arbitrary and capricious, and in violation of the Fifth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution. Respondents do not have statutory authority under § 1225 to detain Mr. Marrero Yera.

56. Respondents’ detention of Mr. Marrero Yera without access to bond is arbitrary, capricious, an abuse of discretion, violative of the U.S. Constitution, the statute, the implementing regulations and therefore in violation of 5 U.S.C. § 706(2).

COUNT IV

Respondents Detain Mr. Marrero Yera in Violation of his Fifth Amendment Due Process Rights

57. Mr. Marrero Yera incorporates by reference the allegations of fact set forth in the preceding paragraphs.

58. The Government may not deprive a person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law. U.S. Const. Amend. V. “Freedom from imprisonment – from government custody, detention, or other forms of physical restraint – lies at the heart of the liberty that the [Fifth Amendment’s due process] Clause protects.” Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 690.

59. “Procedural due process imposes constraints on governmental decisions which deprive individuals of liberty” Mathews v. Eldridge, 424 U.S. 319, 332 (1976) (citation modified). “The fundamental requirement of [procedural] due process is the opportunity to be heard at a meaningful time and in a meaningful manner.” Id. at 333 (citation modified). The “touchstone” of due process is protecting people against arbitrary government action, whether from “denial of a fundamental procedural fairness, or the exercise of power without any reasonable justification in the service of a legitimate government objection.” Cty. of Sacramento v. Lewis, 532 U.S. 833, 845–46 (1998).

60. Whether government action violates procedural due process is determined by the three-factor balancing test in Mathews. 424 U.S. at 335. The test requires the Court to balance (1) “the private interest that will be affected by the official action”; (2) “the risk of erroneous deprivation of such interest through the procedures used, and the probable value, if any, of additional or substitute procedural safeguards”; and (3) “the Government’s interest, including the function involved and the fiscal and administrative burdens that the additional or substitute procedural requirement would entail.” Id.

61. Mr. Marrero Yera has a fundamental interest in liberty and being free from official restraint, such as imprisonment in the Aurora Facility, Foucha v. Louisiana, 504 U.S. 71, 80 (1992) (“Freedom from bodily restraint has always been at the core of the liberty protected by the Due Process Clause from arbitrary government action”), and ICE’s unilaterally imposed restrictions including, inter alia, 24/7 GPS monitoring, reporting requirements, and restrictions on movement, Orellana, 788 F.Supp.3d at 68. The risk of erroneous deprivation is high considering the government is not providing Mr. Marrero Yera any process at all—including ICE’s initial decision to incarcerate Mr. Marrero Yera— and the administrative burden on the government to provide him with a custody hearing is negligent.

62. Respondents’ detention of Mr. Marrero Yera without providing him with either an initial custody determination, a pre-deprivation hearing after previously releasing him, or a custody hearing before a neutral adjudicator to determine whether he is a flight risk or danger to others violates his right to Due Process.

COUNT V

Violation of Substantive Due Process

63. Mr. Marrero Yera incorporates by reference the allegations and facts set forth in the preceding paragraphs.

64. “[T]he Due Process Clause applies to all ‘persons’ within the United States, including [noncitizens], whether their presence is lawful, unlawful, temporary, or permanent.” Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. at 693.

65. The civil incarceration of noncitizens is only authorized for specific, non-punitive purposes. Id. at 690. Those purposes are limited to “certain special and narrow nonpunitive circumstances” including the mitigation of flight and danger to the community. Id.

66. Here, Respondents jails Mr. Marrero Yera pursuant to the wrong statute and refuse to permit an independent adjudicator to consider whether the decision to incarcerate Mr. Marrero Yera is limited to certain special, narrow, and non-punitive purposes. Continued incarceration therefore serves no purpose and violates Mr. Marrero Yera’s substantive due process rights.

COUNT VI

Violation of the Fifth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution Procedural Due Process

67. Mr. Marrero Yera incorporates by reference the allegations and facts set forth in the preceding paragraphs.

68. Respondents’ decision to revoke Mr. Marrero Yera’s liberty interest after previously releasing him on his own recognizance lacked any procedures at all. Respondents did not provide him with notice. Respondents did not provide him with an opportunity to be heard. In fact, it refuses to hear from him, claiming that his incarceration is mandatory.

69. Respondents' revocation of Mr. Marrero Yera's release on his own recognizance without providing notice and a meaningful opportunity to be heard violates procedural due process under the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution.

COUNT VII

Violation of the Administrative Procedures Act, 5 U.S.C. § 706(2)(A) Arbitrary and Capricious

70. Mr. Marrero Yera incorporates by reference the allegations and facts set forth in the preceding paragraphs.

71. Under the APA, a court shall "hold unlawful and set aside agency action . . . found to be arbitrary [or] capricious." 5 U.S.C. § 706(2)(A).

72. Respondents' revocation of Mr. Marrero Yera's release on his own recognizance was arbitrary and capricious because it violated the Constitution and agency precedent requiring materially changed circumstances.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

Mr. Marrero Yera respectfully asks that this Court take jurisdiction over this matter and grant the following relief:

1. Issue a writ of habeas corpus requiring Respondents to release Mr. Marrero Yera immediately from all forms of custody and enjoin ICE from unilaterally imposing additional restraints on liberty like 24/7 GPS monitoring, reporting requirements, or restrictions on movement, or in the alternative, schedule him for a custody hearing pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a) before this Court within seven days, regardless of whether ICE conducted an initial custody determination, and at which Respondents must demonstrate by clear and convincing evidence that continued custody of any kind is necessary;

2. Or, also in the alternative, order Respondents to schedule him for a custody hearing pursuant to § 1226(a) before a neutral IJ within seven days, regardless of whether ICE conducted an initial custody determination, at which Respondents must demonstrate by clear and convincing evidence that continued custody of any kind is necessary;
3. Enjoin Respondents from unilaterally imposing additional forms of custody like 24/7 GPS monitoring, reporting requirements, or restrictions on movement unless this Court or an IJ orders those conditions after Respondents convince this Court or an IJ by clear and convincing evidence in the custody hearing that they are necessary;
4. If bond is granted, enjoin Respondents from invoking the automatic stay provision in 8 C.F.R. § 1003.19(i)(2) to pursue its position that 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) controls Mr. Marrero Yera's custody;

7. Enjoin EOIR from unilaterally exercising 8 C.F.R. § 1003.23(b)(1) to reconsider a bond grant due to its position that 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) controls Mr. Marrero Yera's custody;
8. Require the IJ to consider the Respondent's financial circumstances and ability to pay a bond when deciding what bond amount is appropriate;
