PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS (28 U.S.C. § 2241)

I. INTRODUCTION

Petitioner María Félix Aguilar-Parra, A# [REDACTED], appears through her next friend, her mother Lourdes Josefina Parra, because María is unable to file on her own behalf due to severe communication barriers, medical deterioration, and procedural obstacles created by the Immigration Judge (IJ).

Petitioner has been detained since December 12, 2025, following a racially motivated stop by the Tennessee Highway Patrol during "Operation Memphis Safe & Beautiful," a dragnet that disproportionately targeted Hispanic individuals. She is charged only with a civil overstay and is fully eligible for release under INA § 236(a).

Her detention has become unlawful, punitive, medically dangerous, and constitutionally intolerable.

New Critical Development: IJ's Refusal to Accept Existing I-589 and Imposition of Impossible Deadline

Petitioner is a derivative on her mother's Form I-589, which was:

- properly filed with USCIS
- acknowledged by the IJ
- already part of the record

Despite this, the IJ stated he "did not like" the existing I-589 and ordered María to file a brand-new I-589 within 13 days — even though:

- she is detained in Arizona
- she is medically compromised
- she is isolated by CoreCivic
- she cannot communicate with her mother or anyone else
- she cannot sign documents
- she cannot gather evidence from Venezuela
- she cannot prepare a new asylum application

This is an impossible deadline, designed to ensure failure.

The IJ's refusal to accept the existing I-589, combined with the 10-day mandate, constitutes a due process violation, a deprivation of meaningful access to asylum, and a procedural trap that only habeas corpus can remedy.

II. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

This Court has jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 2241, 28 U.S.C. § 1331, and the Suspension Clause. Petitioner challenges the legality of her civil immigration detention, not her removal proceedings.

Venue is proper because Petitioner is detained within this District at Eloy Detention Center, and the Warden is the immediate custodian.

III. NEXT-FRIEND STANDING

Petitioner appears through her mother, Lourdes Josefina Parra, who satisfies the requirements of Whitmore v. Arkansas, 495 U.S. 149 (1990):

1. Petitioner cannot file on her own behalf.

María is held in a CoreCivic facility where:

- the IJ's impossible 10-day deadline
- mother's inability to communicate
- the facility's obstruction
- the mother's dependency
- the urgency created by the IJ's actions
- phone calls go unanswered
- staff instruct callers to email, but emails receive no reply
- communication is sporadic or nonexistent
- she cannot reliably send or receive legal mail
- she cannot sign documents or prepare filings

2. Lourdes has a significant relationship and acts in María's best interest.

Lourdes is:

- María's mother
- her only living family member
- financially and emotionally dependent on her
- deeply involved in her care and well-being
- Lourdes has submitted a sworn declaration explaining her relationship, her inability to communicate with María, and her need to act on her daughter's behalf.

IV. PARTIES

Petitioner:

María Félix Aguilar-Parra, A# [REDACTED] detained at Eloy Detention Center.

Next

Lourdes Josefina Parra, mother of Petitioner, residing in Cordova, Tennessee.

Friend:

Respondents:

- Warden, Eloy Detention Center
- Patrick Contreras, ICE Field Office Director
- Secretary of Homeland Security
- Attorney General of the United States

ICE Enforcement and Removal Operations (ERO).

V. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

A. Lawful Admission and Civil Charge

Petitioner was lawfully admitted to the United States on November 4, 2018 as a B-2 visitor. She later overstayed, resulting in a single civil charge under INA § 237(a)(1)(B). She has no prior removals, no failures to appear, and no history of absconding.

B. Racially Motivated Stop

On December 11, 2025, Tennessee Highway Patrol stopped Petitioner during "Operation Memphis Safe & Beautiful," a dragnet targeting Hispanic individuals. The I-213 confirms she was detained solely because she is "a native and citizen of Venezuela."

C. No Criminal Basis for Detention

Petitioner has one misdemeanor DUI conviction from March 2024, fully resolved with probation, classes, community service, and payment of fines. All other charges were dismissed.

D. ICE Transfers Impairing Access to Counsel, Family, and the Ability to Prepare an Asylum Application

ICE transferred Petitioner from:

- Memphis, Tennessee →
- LaSalle, Louisiana →
- Eloy, Arizona

These transfers:

- separated her from her mother
- obstructed communication
- prevented her from signing legal documents
- served no legitimate purpose

In addition, these transfers created conditions that made it impossible for Petitioner to comply with the Immigration Judge's recent order requiring her to file a brand-new Form

I-589 within 10 days. Petitioner is detained in a CoreCivic facility where communication is severely restricted: phone calls go unanswered, staff direct callers to email addresses that do not respond, and Petitioner cannot reliably send or receive legal mail. As a result, she cannot communicate with her mother, cannot obtain assistance, cannot gather evidence from Venezuela, and cannot prepare or sign a new asylum application.

Petitioner is already a derivative on her mother's previously filed Form I-589, which the Immigration Judge acknowledged but refused to accept, stating he "did not like" the existing application. The Judge's demand for a new I-589—despite Petitioner's detention, medical deterioration, and complete communication blackout—creates an impossible procedural burden that no detained person could meet. These transfers therefore not only impaired access to counsel and family but also directly prevented Petitioner from exercising her statutory and constitutional right to seek asylum.

E. Medical Deterioration in Detention

Petitioner suffers from:

- pelvic/acetabular fracture
- chronic coccyx injury
- mobility limitations
- migraines
- vomiting
- depression.

F. Immigration Judge's Procedural Misconduct

The IJ:

1. Acknowledged that María is a derivative on her mother's I-589.
2. Refused to accept the existing I-589, stating he "did not like it."

3. Ordered María to file a brand-new I-589 within 10 days.
4. Imposed this deadline despite knowing:
 - o María is detained in Arizona
 - o she cannot communicate with her mother
 - o she cannot sign documents
 - o she cannot gather evidence from Venezuela
 - o she cannot prepare an asylum application
 - o she is medically deteriorating
5. Ignored the reality that Venezuela is a closed, dangerous, authoritarian regime, where obtaining evidence is extremely difficult and dangerous.
6. Ignored the fact that María was a minor when she became a derivative on her mother's I-589.
7. Ignored the fact that the existing I-589 is valid, properly filed, and binding.
8. Ignored the communication barriers created by CoreCivic.
9. Ignored the medical evidence.
10. Ignored the mother's sworn statements.
11. Ignored the Matter of Guerra factors.
12. Ignored the USCIS error in the I-213.

This conduct is arbitrary, capricious, and constitutionally defective.

It deprives María of:

- meaningful access to asylum
- meaningful access to counsel

- meaningful access to evidence
- meaningful access to the court

This is exactly the type of structural unfairness habeas corpus exists to correct.

G. Prolonged Detention

Petitioner has been detained for more than 99 days. She is not a danger, not a flight risk, and is medically vulnerable.

VI. CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

Claim 1 — Unlawful Detention Under INA § 236(a)

Claim 2 — Violation of Fifth Amendment Due Process

Claim 3 — Prolonged Detention Without Justification

Claim 4 — Medical Neglect / Deliberate Indifference

Claim 5 — Unlawful Transfers Interfering with Access to Counsel

Claim 6 — Government Error Regarding Asylum Application

Claim 7 — Racial Profiling and Unconstitutional Seizure

Claim 8 — Deprivation of Access to Asylum and Meaningful Opportunity to Be Heard

VII. REQUEST FOR RELIEF

Petitioner, through her next friend, respectfully requests that this Court:

1. Order her immediate release from ICE custody under reasonable supervision;
2. Alternatively, order a bond hearing within 7 days, with the burden on the government;

3. Prohibit further transfers while this petition is pending;
4. Grant any other relief the Court deems just and proper.

VIII. SIGNATURE

Respectfully submitted,
as next friend of Petitioner,
