Case No. 26-1995

PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

Petitioner respectfully petitions this Honorable Court for a writ of habeas corpus to remedy
Petitioner's unlawful detention by Respondents, as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. Petitioner Kevin Noel Hernandez Avila is a 27-year-old native of Honduras who is in the custody of the United States Department of Homeland Security (“DHS”), Immigration and Customs Enforcement (“ICE”). Prior to his detention, Petitioner had lived in the United States for over three years after entering the United States on or about May 5, 2022.

2. On March 20, 2026, DHS detained Petitioner after a court hearing in Sussex County, Delaware. It currently detains Mr. Hernandez Avila at the Philadelphia Federal Detention Center. DHS purports to hold Mr. Hernandez Avila under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A), a mandatory detention statute. Its detention of Mr. Hernandez Avila followed a drastic recent shift away from decades of prior precedent and practice.

3. Respondent’s new application of 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) conflicts with the plain language and structure of the immigration detention statutes and has been widely rejected by district judges around the country, including within this Circuit. See Ndiaye v. J.L. Jamison, et al, No. CV 25-6007, 2026 WL 373247, at *7 (E.D. Pa. Feb. 10, 2026) (noting “308 judges[, appointed by every president since Ronald Reagan,] have ruled against the [Government]’s mass detention policy—ordering release or bond hearings in more than 1,600 cases” and listing cases in this District) (alterations in original) (internal citation omitted).

4. Respondents’ application of 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) to Petitioner is contrary to law, violating both the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) and the Administrative Procedure Act (APA). Respondents’ detention of Mr. Hernandez Avila under § 1225(b)(2)(A) further violates his substantive and procedural due process rights. See, e.g., Ndiaye v. Jamison, No. 25-cv-6007, 2025 WL 3229307, at *2 (E.D. Pa. Nov. 19, 2025).

5. Mr. Hernandez Avila respectfully requests that this Court issue a writ of habeas corpus and order Respondents to release him from their custody. See, e.g., Ndiaye, 2025 WL 3229307 at *5 n.5 (ordering immediate release and finding that “[a] bond hearing would certainly result in [Petitioner’s] release and only serve to delay relief when the “Government has offered no rationale to refuse bond”).

PARTIES

6. Petitioner Kevin Noel Hernandez Avila is a noncitizen currently detained by Respondents pending removal proceedings. He is detained in ICE custody at the Federal Detention Center in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

7. Respondent J.L. Jamison is sued in his official capacity as the Warden of the Philadelphia Federal Detention Center (FDC). He has direct custodianship over Petitioner at Philadelphia FDC.

8. Respondent John E. Rife is sued in his official capacity as the Acting Field Office Director of U.S. Department of Homeland Security, Immigration and Customs Enforcement’s Philadelphia Field Office. He is responsible for the administration and management of ICE Enforcement Removal Operations in Pennsylvania and exercises administrative control over Petitioner’s custody.

9. Respondent Markwayne Mullin is sued in his official capacity as the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security. DHS is responsible for administering and enforcing the immigration laws, including the decision to detain noncitizens during the course of their removal proceedings. Secretary Mullin has ultimate legal custodianship over Petitioner.

10. Respondent Pamela Bondi is sued in her official capacity as the Attorney General of the United States. She is responsible for the Department of Justice, including the Executive Office of Immigration Review. EOIR adjudicates individual immigration matters, including in removal and custody proceedings.

11. Respondent the U.S. Department of Homeland Security is the federal agency responsible for implementing and enforcing the Immigration and Nationality Act, including the detention of noncitizens during removal proceedings.

12. Respondent the Executive Office of Immigration Review is the federal agency responsible for administering removal and custody proceedings. EOIR is a component of the U.S. Department of Justice. EOIR includes the Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA) and the immigration courts.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

13. This action arises under the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments to the U.S. Constitution.

14. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2241, Art. I § 9, cl. 2 of the United States Constitution, 28 U.S.C. § 1331, and 28 U.S.C. § 1361. This Court may grant relief under the habeas corpus statutes, 28 U.S.C. § 2241 et seq., the Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. § 2201 et seq., and the All Writs Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1651.

15. The United States has waived sovereign immunity for this action for declaratory and injunctive relief against one of its agencies and that agency's officers are sued in their official capacities. 5 U.S.C. § 702.

16. Venue is proper in this District because the Petitioner is detained in this district. 28 U.S.C. § 1391; Rumsfeld v. Padilla, 542 U.S. 426, 442 (2004).

STATEMENT OF FACTS

17. Mr. Hernandez Avila left his country of birth, Honduras, and entered the United States on or about May 5, 2022.

18. He was encountered by DHS officers shortly after entering the country. DHS detained and processed Mr. Hernandez Avila, initiated removal proceedings, and released him to live to in Maryland.

19. Mr. Hernandez Avila established community in Maryland, where he lived for three years before moving to Delaware in 2025.

20. Mr. Hernandez Avila complied with all the conditions of his removal proceedings and immigration release. He was not required to attend ICE check-ins. His immigration proceedings have been continued by the immigration court on several occasions for reasons outside of Mr. Hernandez Avila's control. His next scheduled immigration hearing is for April 9, 2026, in the Hyattsville, Maryland Immigration Court. See Ex. 1, Exec. Off. of Immigr Rev., Automated Case Information, <https://acis.eoir.justice.gov/en/> (last accessed March 26, 2026) (search conducted for A-Number, " [REDACTED] and Country of Birth "Honduras").

21. On or about March 20, 2026, DHS officials executed an arrest warrant for Mr. Hernandez Avila after a court hearing in Sussex County, Delaware. They then took Mr. Hernandez Avila into custody with no prior notice or opportunity to contest his detention.

22. DHS currently holds Mr. Hernandez Avila at the Philadelphia Federal Detention Center. See Ex. 2, U.S. Immigr. & Customs Enf't, Online Detainee Locator System, <https://locator.ice.gov/odls/#/search> (last accessed March 26, 2026) (search conducted for A-Number, " [REDACTED] and Country of Birth "Honduras").

23. Upon information and belief, Respondents detained Mr. Hernandez Avila under its revised interpretation of the immigration detention statutes; specifically their new view that all noncitizens who have not been “admitted,” 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(13)(A) are subject to mandatory detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A).

LEGAL FRAMEWORK

I. Section 1226(a) Governs the Detention of People Like Petitioner Who are Detained in the United States and Have Not Previously Been Admitted

24. There are two immigration statutes at issue here. 8 U.S.C. § 1226 governs the detention of noncitizens who entered without inspection and by default applies to all persons “pending a decision on whether the[y] . . . [are] to be removed from the United States.” Jennings v. Rodriguez, 583 U.S. 281, 288 (2018). Section 1225(b)(2) governs the detention of individuals “at the Nation’s borders and ports of entry, where the Government must determine whether a[] [noncitizen] seeking to enter the country is admissible.” Jennings, 583 U.S. at 287.

25. Recently, Respondents’ have flipped this statutory scheme on its head by stating that all noncitizens subject to grounds of inadmissibility are mandatorily detained under § 1225(b)(2), regardless of whether they are at the border or already in the country. Yajure Hurtado, 29 I. & N. Dec. 216, 220 (B.I.A. 2025). This novel interpretation regarding § 1225(b)(2) has been soundly rejected by Article III Courts. Judges from all around the country, including from the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, have held that people who are present without having been admitted are eligible for bond pursuant to § 1226(a). See Ndiaye, 2026 WL 373247, at *7 (noting “308 judges[, appointed by every president since Ronald Reagan,] have ruled against the [Government]’s mass detention policy—ordering release or bond hearings in more than 1,600 cases” and listing cases in this District) (alterations in original) (internal citation omitted). As these decisions explain, Respondents’ position, relying on the Board of Immigration Appeals’ decision in Yajure Hurtado, is wrong.

26. First, the plain text of the statute shows that 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a), not § 1225(b), applies to immigrants like Mr. Hernandez Avila. The text of § 1225 shows that it applies only to “noncitizens who are just arriving or have recently arrived in the country.” Ndiaye, 2025 WL 3229307 at *5. The statute requires detention of noncitizens who are “seeking admission,” a phrase that “connotes some affirmative, present-tense action”—applying this phrase to “noncitizens already residing in the United States” is inconsistent with the plain text of the statute. Id. The title and heading of the statute also shows that § 1225 only applies to noncitizens at the border. Id.

27. The text of § 1226, on the other hand, shows that it plainly applies to noncitizens “already present in the country” because of its title and because “[n]one of its provisions mention arriving noncitizens or discuss the border or ports of entry.” Id. As such, it “creates a default rule for those aliens by permitting—but not requiring—the Attorney General to issue warrants for their arrest and detention pending removal proceedings.” Jennings, 583 U.S. at 303.

28. Second, Respondents’ interpretation of § 1225 violates the rule against surplusage because it reads out the phrase “seeking admission.” Ndiaye, 2025 WL 3229307, at *14. Under Respondents’ interpretation, all noncitizens “seeking admission” are “applicants for admission,” “effectively eliminate[ing] any meaning to the words ‘seeking admission’ within the statute.” Id. Instead, Congress added the phrase “seeking admission” to the statute, distinguishing “applicants from admission” from noncitizens “seeking admission.” Id.

29. Third, Respondents’ interpretation of the statute would also render all the grounds of mandatory detention in 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c) applied to inadmissible noncitizens, including the recently-passed Laken Riley Act, superfluous. Ndiaye, 2025 WL 3229307 at *6; see Marx v. Gen. Revenue Corp., 568 U.S. 371, 386 (2013) (“[T]he canon against surplusage is strongest when an interpretation would render superfluous another part of the same statutory scheme.”).

30. Fourth, agency past practice shows that noncitizens like Mr. Hernandez Avila are subject to detention under § 1226(a), not § 1225(b). For almost thirty years, since § 1225(b)(2)’s inception in 1997, “the Government’s immigration enforcement practices have been to detain noncitizens who have been residing in the United States under § 1226, entitling them to a bond hearing.” Ndiaye, 2025 WL 3229307 at *6.

31. Finally, as discussed below, the BIA’s interpretation of 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A) to mandate detention without a bond hearing for all noncitizens present in the United States without having been admitted presents serious constitutional concerns. To the degree that the statute remains ambiguous, the Court should presume that Congress “did not intend the alternative which raises serious constitutional doubts” and reject that construction. Clark v. Martinez, 543 U.S. 371, 381–82 (2005).

II. The BIA’s Application of Mandatory Detention to Noncitizens Like Petitioner Violates Substantive and Procedural Due Process

32. “It is well established that the Fifth Amendment entitles [noncitizens] to due process of law in deportation proceedings.” Demore v. Kim, 538 U.S. 510, 523 (2003) (quoting Reno v. Flores, 507 U.S. 292, 306 (1993)). “Freedom from imprisonment—from government custody, detention, or other forms of physical restraint—lies at the heart of the liberty” that the Due Process Clause protects. Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 690 (2001). This fundamental due process protection applies to all noncitizens within the United States, including both removable and inadmissible noncitizens. See id. at 693; Plyler v. Doe, 457 U.S. 202, 212 (1982); Wong Wing v. United States, 163 U.S. 228, 238 (1896).

33. Absent adequate procedural protections, substantive due process requires a “special justification” that “outweighs the individual’s constitutionally protected interest in avoiding physical restraint.” Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 690. In the immigration context, the Supreme Court has recognized only two valid purposes for civil detention—to mitigate the risks of danger to the community and to prevent flight. Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 693; Demore, 538 U.S. at 528. The broad policy set forth in Yajure Hurtado is not reasonably related to the purposes of prevent danger to the community or flight risk and violates substantive due process.

34. Additionally, procedural due process protects noncitizens against deprivation of liberty without adequate procedural protections, including notice and the opportunity to be heard. A.A.R.P. v. Trump, 145 S. Ct. 1364, 1367 (2025); Trump v. J.G.G., 145 S. Ct. 1003, 1006 (2025); Velasco Lopez v. Decker, 978 F.3d 842, 851 (2d Cir. 2020).

35. In determining the proper procedure to protect a detained noncitizen’s procedural due process rights under the Fifth Amendment, courts apply the three-part balancing test in Mathews v. Eldridge, 424 U.S. 319, 335 (1976), weighing (1) “the private interest that will be affected by the official action;” (2) “the risk of an erroneous deprivation of such interest through the procedures used, and the probable value, if any, of additional or substitute procedural safeguards;” and (3) “the Government’s interest, including the function involved and the fiscal and administrative burdens that the additional or substitute procedural requirement would entail.” Black v. Decker, 103 F.4th 133, 147-48 (2d Cir. 2024); Gayle v. Warden Monmouth C’ty Corr. Facility, 12 F. 4th 321, 331 (3d Cir. 2021); see also Kashranov v. Jamison, No. 2:25-CV-05555-

JDW, 2025 WL 3188399, at *5 (E.D. Pa. Nov. 14, 2025) (applying Mathews to a claim identical to Petitioners).

THE PROPER REMEDY IS RELEASE

36. Given Respondents did not conduct any pre-deprivation assessment of Mr. Hernandez Avila's risks prior to his detention, he merits release, as recognized by many courts in this District. See, e.g., Kourouma v. Jamison, No. 26-cv-182, 2026 WL 120208, at *5 (E.D. Pa. Jan. 15, 2026) ("The Court will order the release of Petitioner because he was unlawfully detained."); Kashranov, 2025 WL 3188399, at *8 ("Because the Government detained Mr. Kashranov without the bond hearing that Section 1226(a) and the Due Process Clause require, Mr. Kashranov should not now be in custody."); Centeno Ibarra v. Warden of the Fed. Det. Ctr. Philadelphia, No. CV 25-6312, 2025 WL 3294726, at *8 (E.D. Pa. Nov. 25, 2025) ("Because a bond hearing is unnecessary, this Court will order his immediate release.").

37. Mr. Hernandez Avila also merits release because a bond hearing before an immigration judge has been shown not to be an adequate remedy. Immigration judges have unreasonably refused to grant bond despite evidence that a noncitizen is not a danger or a flight risk, requiring petitioners to seek further relief from habeas courts. See A.D. v. Oddo, No. 25-460J, Memorandum Order at 7–8 (W.D. Pa. Feb. 12, 2026) (finding petitioner was unfairly prejudiced at his habeas ordered bond hearing and ordering immediate release); Soto-Medina v. Lynch, No. 1:25-CV-1704, 2026 WL 161002, at *2 (W.D. Mich. Jan. 21, 2026) (noting that at a habeas ordered bond hearing petitioner presented evidence that he is not a flight risk or danger, including "evidence of his family connections, that his daughter attended Chicago Public Schools, and that he has a pending asylum application and valid work authorization," that the "government did not present any evidence” against granting bond, but “the immigration judge denied Petitioner’s request for bond because Petitioner had ‘not established that he is not a flight risk’”); Ramirez v. Lynch, No. 1:25-CV-1800, 2026 WL 212932, at *1 (W.D. Mich. Jan. 27, 2026) (same).

38. A hearing before an immigration judge also does not provide a sufficient assurance of neutrality. Immigration judges, who serve at the pleasure of the U.S. Attorney General—a respondent in this matter—have been removed from service for not following the Executive’s deportation goals.¹ And on January 13, 2026, Chief Immigration Judge Teresa L. Riley instructed immigration judges to continue denying bond despite a nationwide declaration against DHS’s detention policies in Maldonado Bautista v. Santacruz, No. 25-cv-1873, 2025 WL 3678485, at *1 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 18, 2025).²

39. If, alternatively, this Court orders for a bond hearing, due process requires that the Government bear the burden of proof by clear and convincing evidence. See Gayle, 12 F.4th at 332 (“[W]hen such a severe deprivation is at issue, the Government must bear the burden of proof.”). Such a “standard of proof serves to [properly] allocate the risk of error between the litigants and reflects the relative importance attached to the ultimate decision.” German Santos v. Warden Pike Cty. Corr. Facility, 965 F.3d 203, 213 (3d Cir. 2020) (citing Addington v. Texas, 441 U.S. 418, 423 (1979)). The Third Circuit has long ordered for the government to bear a clear and convincing burden at a constitutionally-mandated bond hearing. German Santos, 965 F.3d at 214; Guerrero-Sanchez v. Warden York Cnty. Prison, 905 F.3d 208, 224 n.12 (3d Cir. 2018), abrogated on other grounds by Johnson v. Arteaga-Martinez, 596 U.S. 572 (2022). Other circuit courts have similarly held the same for Section 1226(a) detention. Hernandez-Lara v. Lyons, 10 F.4th 19, 39-40 (1st Cir 2021); Velasco Lopez, 978 F.3d at 855–56; see also Soto-Medina, 2026 WL 161002, at *5-11. Any assessment of custody should include consideration of alternatives to detention and ability to pay. See, e.g., Black, 103 F.4th at 155.

40. Should this Court order for a bond hearing, it should preside over such a hearing rather than assign it to an EOIR administrative judge, for the reasons discussed above. See Centeno-Martinez v. Jamison, No. CV 25-3593, 2025 WL 3157711, at *3 (E.D. Pa. Nov. 12, 2025) (finding that the district court should hold the bond hearing because it is “a ‘legal and logical concomitant’ of habeas jurisdiction, particularly where delay risks perpetuating the constitutional injury”); Swann v. Charlotte Mecklenburg Bd. of Educ., 402 U.S. 1, 15 (1971) (“[T]he scope of a district court’s equitable powers to remedy past wrongs is broad, for breadth and flexibility are inherent in equitable remedies.”); see also Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 700 (authorizing federal courts to “condition[]” a noncitizen’s release “on any of the various forms of supervised release that are appropriate in the circumstances”).

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF
Violation of the Immigration and Nationality Act
Unlawful Application of Mandatory Detention Provision

41. Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates by reference the above paragraphs.

42. The mandatory detention provision at 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) does not apply to all noncitizens residing in the United States who are subject to grounds of inadmissibility. Specifically, it does not apply to Mr. Hernandez Avila, who has been living in the United States since 2022, for over three years prior to his detention in 2026.

43. Mr. Hernandez Avila was not “seeking admission” in 2026. At the time of his detention on March 20, 2026, he was no longer engaged in that “present-tense action.” Ndiaye, 2025 WL 3229307 at *5. He therefore no longer met the requirements of Section 1225(b)(2)(A).

44. Respondents’ unlawful and arbitrary application of 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) to Mr. Hernandez Avila violates the INA.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF
Violation of the Administrative Procedure Act
Agency Policy and Practice is Arbitrary, Capricious, and Contrary to Law

45. Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates by reference the above paragraphs.

46. The APA provides that a “reviewing court shall . . . hold unlawful and set aside agency action, findings, and conclusions found to be . . . arbitrary and capricious, an abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law.” 5 U.S.C. § 706(2)(A).

47. An agency decision that “runs counter to the evidence before the agency” is arbitrary and capricious. Motor Vehicle Mfrs. Ass’n v. State Farm Mut. Auto. Ins., 463 U.S. 29, 43 (1983).

48. An agency decision that “failed to consider important aspects of the problem” is also arbitrary and capricious. Dep’t of Homeland Sec. v. Regents of the Univ. of California, 140 S. Ct. 1891, 1910 (2020).

49. Respondents have failed to articulate reasoned explanations for their decision to expand the use of mandatory detention to all noncitizens who entered without inspection, which represent changes in the agencies’ policies and positions; have considered factors that Congress did not intend to be considered; have entirely failed to consider important aspects of the problem; and have offered explanations for their decisions that run counter to the evidence before the agencies.

50. Respondents' application of 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) to Mr. Hernandez Avila is arbitrary, capricious, and not in accordance with law.

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF
Violation of the Fifth Amendment Due Process Clause
Detention Without Any Relation to Limited Goals of Civil Immigration Detention
Violates Substantive Due Process

51. Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates by reference the above paragraphs.

52. The Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment forbids the government from depriving any "person" of liberty "without due process of law." U.S. Const. amend. V. Substantive due process requires that immigration detention without a bond hearing be reasonably related to the goals of ensuring the appearance of noncitizens at future proceedings and preventing danger to the community. Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 690.

53. The BIA's application of mandatory detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) is not reasonably related to those goals and thus violates substantive due process. Mr. Hernandez Avila has a history of full compliance with all conditions of his release and removal proceedings. He has not been required to attend ICE check-ins and has not yet had his first immigration court hearing, due to immigration court delays outside of his control. He has every reason to attend future hearings, given his fear of return to Honduras. He has never missed a court hearing in any context. He has never been convicted of a crime.

54. Respondents' detention of Mr. Hernandez Avila without any consideration of his particular flight or danger risks bears no relation to the limited goals of immigration detention.

55. Additionally, Respondents' re-detention of Mr. Hernandez Avila without any pre-deprivation assessment of his flight or danger risks violates his substantive due process rights.

When DHS “first released” Mr. Hernandez Avila in 2022, “it could not have done so validly unless it did not consider him to be a flight risk or a danger to the community.” Lopez Benitez, 795 F. Supp. 3d at 495. Its detention of Mr. Hernandez Avila without showing what, if anything, has changed in that calculus was improper. See, e.g., Kourouma, 2026 WL 120208, at *5 (“This Court will order the release of Petitioner because he was unlawfully detained.”); Lopez Benitez, 795 F. Supp. 3d at 499 (ordering release after rejecting the government’s “suggestion that [its] agents may sweep up any person they wish, for no reason whatsoever . . . so long as the person will, at some unknown point in time, be allowed to ask some other official for his or her release”) (cleaned up).³

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
Violation of the Fifth Amendment Due Process Clause
Detention Without Any Procedures to Limit Erroneous Deprivation of a Core
Private Right Violates Procedural Due Process

56. Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates by reference the above paragraphs.

57. The Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment forbids the government from depriving any “person” of liberty “without due process of law.” U.S. Const. amend. V. Courts apply the Mathews v. Eldridge balancing test to determine what procedures the due process clause requires. Gayle, 12 F.4th at 331.

³ Mr. Hernandez Avila’s re-detention further implicates recognized protections from the parole revocation context. The Supreme Court “has made clear that individuals subject to the revocation of their parole are entitled to certain due process rights, including ‘a written statement by the factfinders as to the evidence relied on and reasons for revoking parole.’” United States v. Patterson, 957 F.3d 426, 433 (4th Cir. 2020) (quoting Morrissey v. Brewer, 408 U.S. 471, 489 (1972)); see also 18 U.S.C. § 3583(e) (requiring courts to consider specific factors prior to modifying or revoking a person’s conditions of supervised release).

58. The first factor, the private interest that will be affected by the official action, clearly weighs in favor of Petitioner Because “[f]reedom from imprisonment . . . lies at the heart of the liberty” interest protected by due process. Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 690.

59. The second factor also weighs in favor of Petitioner because there is a great risk of unnecessary detention since Respondents’ interpretation of the statute does not permit any individualized determination of whether detention during removal proceedings is necessary. Respondents’ procedures—or lack thereof—create an erroneously high risk of wrongly depriving those, like Mr. Hernandez Avila, their protected interest in being free from government custody. Kashranov, 2025 WL 3188399, at *8.

60. The government has no legitimate interest in detaining Petitioner when detention is not necessary to ensure his appearance at future hearings or protect the community, and less restrictive measures like a reasonable bond would serve those purposes. Hernandez-Lara, 10 F.4th at 32–33; see Ousman D. v. Decker, No. 20-cv-9646, 2020 WL 5587441, at *4 (D.N.J. Sept. 18, 2020) (holding that due process requires consideration of less restrictive alternatives to detention that would address the government’s legitimate purpose); Hechavarria v. Whitaker, 358 F. Supp. 3d 227, 241–42 (W.D.N.Y. 2019) (same). Additionally, affording noncitizens pre-deprivation review of their flight or danger risks presents a minimal burden and serves the government’s interest in ensuring only those individuals that need to be detained are detained. See Kashranov, 2025 WL 3188399, at *8.

61. Respondents' detention of Petitioner without any hearing to determine whether that detention is necessary violates procedural due process.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Petitioner respectfully requests that this Court:

- 1) Assume jurisdiction over this matter;
- 2) Issue an order administratively staying Respondents from transferring Petitioner outside of this Court's geographic jurisdiction pending the Court's adjudication of the petition;⁴

At a recent show cause hearing, Judge Jerry W. Blackwell of the U.S. District Court for the District of Minnesota outlined the collateral difficulties of acquiring adequate government compliance if the government transfers a noncitizen outside of the habeas court's jurisdiction. He explained that it takes "repeat, after repeat, after follow-up, after follow-up with the Government" to receive information and procure a noncitizen's return. Tr. of Show Cause Hr'g, ECF No. 19, Segundo A.P.G. et al. v. Bondi, No. 26-cv-603 (D. Minn. Feb. 3, 2026), at 11. And he traced the difficulty in prescribing adequate remedies, describing:

For example, if we say, release the person immediately, then we learn that, having transported [the noncitizen] to El Paso or New Mexico, [the government] do[esn't] bring him back. We learn that somebody is put out on the street with just the clothes on their backs and have to figure out how to get back here when they should not have been arrested here in the first place, let alone flown halfway across the continent of North America. And have to – so now we have to address that. We have to say, bring them back.

And then we say, all right, so you brought them back. We can't have them released when it's minus 14 outside. And so now we have to address that. Don't release them in the circumstances that might endanger their health or safety.

3) Declare that Petitioner’s continued detention violates the Immigration and Nationality Act, the Administrative Procedure Act, and/or the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution;

4) Issue a Writ of Habeas Corpus and order Petitioner’s immediate release from custody without additional or new conditions;⁵

5) In the alternative, conduct a custody hearing at which Respondents must establish by clear and convincing evidence that Petitioner presents a risk of flight or danger, even after consideration of alternatives to detention that could mitigate any risk that Petitioner’s release would present;

6) Issue an order requiring Respondents to return Petitioner’s personal property, including identification and documents;⁶

7) Award Petitioner his costs and reasonable attorney fees in this action as provided for by the Equal Access to Justice Act, as amended, 5 U.S.C. § 504 and 28 U.S.C. § 2412, and on

And so once that’s addressed, then we learn they’ve been released, but now conditions have been imposed. That somebody who should not have been arrested in the first place is now being told, you’re going to be released if you wear an ankle monitor, which the Court didn’t order because the person was unlawfully detained in the first place. Then we have to go back and address that now.

Id. at 33–34.

⁵ See, e.g., Order, ECF 8, Noicy v. Jamison et al., No. CV 26-1388, 2026 WL 637635 (E.D. Pa. Mar. 6, 2026) (ordering that “the Government shall not subject [Petitioner] to any conditions of release including the imposition of any and all GPS monitoring technology or devices”).

⁶ See, e.g., Order, ECF 6, Juarez Francisco v. Jamison et al., No. CV 26-1321, 2026 WL 607988 (E.D. Pa. Mar. 4, 2026) (ordering “immediately upon his release [return] all personal belongings confiscated upon or during his detention, including his identification documents”); Order, ECF 20, Abreu v. Baker et al., Civil No. 25-3088-BAH (D. Md) (Dec. 18, 2025) (ordering return of petitioner’s personal property confiscated at the time of her detention); Ortiz Martinez v. Wamsley, No. 2:25-CV-01822-TMC, 2025 WL 2899116, at *5 (W.D. Wash. Oct. 10, 2025) (same).

any other basis justified under law, see Michelin v. Warden Moshannon Valley Corr. Ctr., --- F.4th ---, 2026 WL 263483 (3d Cir. Feb. 2, 2026); and

8) Grant such further relief as the Court deems just and proper.
