Case No. 1:26-cv-199

PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

INTRODUCTION

1. Petitioner, Wallys Amaya Medina (“Petitioner”), by and through counsel, hereby files this petition for a writ of habeas corpus and a complaint for declaratory and injunctive relief to require U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (“ICE”) to release Petitioner from ICE detention and provide Petitioner with a bond hearing.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

2. The jurisdiction of this Court is invoked pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331 (federal question); 28 U.S.C. § 1361 (federal employee mandamus action); 28 U.S.C. § 1651 (All Writs Act); 28 U.S.C. § 2241 (habeas corpus); Art. I, § 9, c. 2 of the U.S. Constitution (“Suspension Clause”); U.S. Const. amend. V (Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment); 5 U.S.C. § 702 (waiver of sovereign immunity); and 28 U.S.C. § 2201 (Declaratory Judgment Act).

3. Federal question jurisdiction exists because Petitioner seeks to challenge Petitioner’s custody as a violation of the Constitution and the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1101 et seq.

4. Federal district courts have jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 to hear habeas petitions by noncitizens challenging the lawfulness or constitutionality of their detention by the Department of Homeland Security (“DHS”). Denmore v. Kim, 538 U.S. 510 516-17 (2003); Jennings v. Rodriguez, 138 S. Ct. 830, 839-41 (2018); and Nielsen v. Preap, 139 S. Ct. 954, 961-63 (2019).

5. Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b), (e)(1)(B), and 2241(d) because Petitioner is detained within the Northern District of Texas, Abilene Division. See also Braden v. 30th Judicial Circuit Court of Kentucky, 410 U.S. 484, 493- 500 (1973) (venue is proper in the judicial district in which petitioner is currently detained).

6. Venue is also proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(e)(1)(A), because Respondents are operating in this District.

PARTIES

7. Petitioner is a citizen of Venezuela and a resident of Texas being detained by ICE in Texas. Petitioner is under the direct control of the Respondents and has no scheduled release date. Petitioner is currently being detained at Bluebonnet Detention Center. He has been detained at Bluebonnet Detention Center since on or about March 22, 2026.

8. Respondent Todd Blanche is being sued in his official capacity as the Attorney General of the United States and the head of the Department of Justice. Attorney General Blanche shares responsibility for implementation and enforcement of the immigration detention statutes, along with Respondent Mullin. Attorney General Blanche is a legal custodian of Petitioner.

9. Respondent Markwayne Mullin is being sued in his official capacity as the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security. In this capacity, Secretary Mullin is responsible for the administration of the immigration laws pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1103(a), routinely transacts business in the Northern District of Texas, Abilene Division, supervises the Bluebonnet Detention Center, and is legally responsible for pursuing Petitioner's detention and removal. As such, Respondent Mullin is a legal custodian of Petitioner.

10. Respondent Todd M. Lyons is the Acting Director of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement and is sued in his official capacity. Defendant Lyons is responsible for Petitioner's detention.

11. Respondent Robert Cerna is being sued in his official capacity as the Field Office Director for the Dallas Field Office of Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) within

DHS. In that capacity, Field Director Cerna has supervisory authority over the ICE agents responsible for detaining Petitioner.

12. Respondent Marcello Villegas, Warden of Bluebonnet Detention Center, where Petitioner is currently detained. They are the legal custodian of Petitioner and are named in their official capacity.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

13. Petitioner is a resident of Texas and a citizen of Venezuela. Petitioner has lived in the United States since approximately 2022.

14. Petitioner entered the United States in 2022 via the United States-Mexico Border without inspection and was apprehended by immigration. He was issued a Notice to Appear and placed in 240 removal proceedings.

15. Petitioner's Alien Number is XXXXXXXXXX. Petitioner is seeking Asylum Withholding and Cancellation of Removal. He timely filed an I-589 with the immigration court and it is still pending.

16. Petitioner lives with his family in Texas.

17. Petitioner has no criminal convictions.

18. Petitioner was apprehended by a State Trooper on or about March 22, 2026 during a routine traffic stop.

19. Petitioner was taken into custody and subsequently transferred to ICE.

20. Petitioner was transferred to Bluebonnet Detention Center on or about March 22, 2026.

21. At the time of this filing, to the best of the undersigned's knowledge, Petitioner is in federal detention in Anson Texas. This understanding is based on Petitioner's location listed on the ICE locator website.

22. Petitioner poses no risk to society and has strong connections to their community in Austin, Texas.

23. Petitioner respectfully seeks the opportunity to return home and to continue following the legal processes set up by Congress and DHS for immigrants to seek status in this country.

STANDARD OF LAW

24. Courts have long recognized the significance of the habeas statute in protecting individuals from unlawful detention. The "Great Writ" has been referred to by United States Courts as "perhaps the most important writ known to the constitutional law of England, affording as it does a swift and imperative remedy in all cases of illegal restraint or confinement." Fay v. Noia, 372 U.S. 391, 400 (1963) (emphasis added). A petitioner may seek a writ of habeas corpus when their custody violates the US Constitution or a federal law. 28 U.S.C. § 2241(c)(3). The writ should be granted if petitioner can show that their detention is unlawful by a preponderance of evidence. Aguilar v. Bondi, No. 5:25-CV-01453-JKP, 2025 WL 3471417, at *2 (W.D. Tex. Nov. 26, 2025) (citing Bruce v. Estelle, 536 F.2d 1051, 1058 (5th Cir. 1976)).

25. The Court must grant a petition for writ of habeas corpus or issue an order to show cause to the respondents "forthwith," unless the petitioner is not entitled to relief. 28 U.S.C. § 2243. If an order to show cause is issued, the Court must require respondents to file a return "within three days unless for good cause additional time, not exceeding twenty days, is allowed." Id.

26. Detained immigrants petitioning under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 face no statutory exhaustion requirements. Scott v. Stephens, No. 1:21-CV-620, 2023 WL 5945600, at *3 (E.D. Tex. Aug. 23, 2023), report and recommendation adopted, No. 1:21-CV-620, 2023 WL 5943127 (E.D. Tex. Sept. 11, 2023).

27. Nor is a judicially imposed prudential exhaustion requirement appropriate where, as here: time is of the essence, facts are largely undisputed, and the parties' disagreement is based on a legal conclusion. Fernandez v. Dickey, No. CV 4:25-6088, 2026 WL 74184, at *1 (S.D. Tex. Jan. 9, 2026).

28. In Petgrave v. Aleman, 529 F. Supp. 3d 665, 672 n.14 (S.D. Tex. 2021), the court held that exhaustion is not required where an appeal timeline would exacerbate petitioner's alleged injury of prolonged detention. See also Lopez-Arevelo v Ripa, 801 F. Supp. 3d 688, 680 (W.D. Tex. 2025).

29. Further, the Board of Immigration Appeals' recent decision in Matter of Yajure Hurtado held that immigration judges lack authority to hear bond requests or to grant bond to aliens who are present in the United States without admission. 29 I. & N. Dec. 216, 225 (B.I.A. 2025) (internal citations omitted).

30. "[T]he Due Process Clause applies to all 'persons' within the United States, including [immigrants], whether their presence here is lawful, unlawful, temporary, or permanent." Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 693 (2001).

31. Only under certain circumstances are immigrants subject to ongoing detention without a bond hearing. See, e.g., 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c) (individuals with certain criminal convictions may be detained without a bond hearing for the pendency of removal proceedings) and 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) (authorizing mandatory detention of immigrants seeking admission from outside the United States, who are “not clearly and beyond a doubt entitled to be admitted.”).

32. In order to bring a detained individual under the purview of 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c), an individual’s criminal conviction must be one enumerated in the INA under 8 U.S.C. §§ 1182(a)(2), 1182(a)(3)(B), 8 U.S.C. §§ 1227(a)(2)(A)(i-iii), and 8 U.S.C. §§ 1227(a)(2)(B-D).

33. These specified offenses include crimes of moral turpitude, violations of laws regulating controlled substances, terroristic activities, firearm offenses, espionage, treason, and other serious crimes. Id. Crimes of moral turpitude do not apply in situations where the maximum sentence for the crime was less than one year, and the person was sentenced to less than six months of imprisonment. 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(2)(A)(ii)(III).

34. Petitioner has never been convicted of a crime that would bring Petitioner under the purview of 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c).

35. Otherwise, the “default rule” is that 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a) and its implementing regulations apply to immigrants “already present in the United States” and subject to pending removal proceedings. Jennings v. Rodriguez, 583 U.S. 281, 303 (2018). Under this default rule, immigrants are constitutionally entitled to a bond hearing. Membreno, v. Thompson, No. SA-25-CA-01845-XR, 2026 WL 93980, at *3 (W.D. Tex. Jan. 7, 2026).

36. Here, Petitioner fits the ‘default rule’: Petitioner has been in the United States for more than two years and does not have criminal convictions that fall under the purview of 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c). Thus, Petitioner is entitled to release.

37. Immigration detention is civil in nature, and as a result Congress must have expressly authorized it by statute, and the detention must be reasonably related to its statutory purpose. Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 687, 690 (2001) (quoting Jackson v. Indiana, 406 U.S. 715, 738 (1972)).

38. A noncitizen seeking only to challenge the legality of their detention, not the substance of their removal proceedings in immigration court, may properly ask a federal court to find jurisdiction over such a request pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2241. See, e.g., Trejo v. Warden of ERO El Paso E. Montana, No. EP-25-CV-401-KC, 2025 WL 2992187, at *3 (W.D. Tex. Oct. 24, 2025).

39. Since Section 1225 does not apply to noncitizens who are in Petitioner's situation—who have been detained while residing within the United States for more than two years, as opposed to those who are detained while in the process of physically entering the United States, the law that Respondents are using to detain Petitioner simply does not apply so as to authorize Petitioner's detention. See Lopez-Arevelo v. Ripa, 801 F. Supp. 3d 668, 685 (W.D. Tex. 2025); Pineda v. Noem, No. SA-25-CA-01518-XR, 2025 WL 3471418, at *5 (W.D. Tex. Dec. 2, 2025); Abdelalim-Elmetaher v. Thompson, No. SA-25-CA-01608-XR, 2025 WL 3654267, at *4 (W.D. Tex. Dec. 16, 2025); Madrazo Rodriguez v. Noem, No. SA-25-CA-01657-XR, 2025 WL 3654332, at *5 (W.D. Tex. Dec. 16, 2025); Perez-Prieto v. Lyons, No. SA-25-CA-01808-XR, 2026 WL 94644, at *4 (W.D. Tex. Jan. 6, 2026).

40. When a habeas petitioner's detention is without legal basis, the typical remedy is release. Munaf v. Geren, 553 U.S. 674, 693 (2008) (describing release as the "typical remedy" for "unlawful executive detention").

41. Where detention is unlawfully based on 8 U.S.C. 1225, which does not apply to Petitioner, release is an appropriate remedy.

CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

COUNT ONE

Fifth Amendment Due Process

Petitioner is being deprived of an adequate and meaningful process to challenge his ongoing confinement.

42. Petitioner realleges and incorporates by reference the allegations contained above.

43. Petitioner has due process rights as a resident of the United States. Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 693 (2001).

44. Petitioner has a cognizable protectable liberty interest in his freedom from detention. Lopez-Arevelo v. Ripa, 801 F. Supp. 3d 668, 686 (W.D. Tex. 2025) (holding noncitizens in mandatory detention without a bond hearing constitutes a due process violation); Diaz v. Kaiser, No. 25-cv-5071, 2025 WL 1676854, at *2 (N.D. Cal. June 14, 2025) (collecting cases); accord M.S.L., 2025 WL 2430267, at *8 (“Just as people on preparole, parole, and probation status have a liberty interest, so too does [a noncitizen released from immigration detention] have a liberty interest in remaining out of custody on bond.”) (quoting Ortega v. Bonnar, 415 F. Supp. 3d 963, 969 (N.D. Cal. 2019)); Rosado v. Figueroa, No. 25-cv-2157, 2025 WL 2337099, at *12 (D. Ariz. Aug. 11, 2025) (same).

45. Federal courts use the three-part test in Matthews v. Eldridge to determine whether civil detention violates a detainee’s due process rights. 424 U.S. 319 (1976). The elements of this test are: (1) the private interest that the official action affects; (2) the risk that the procedures used will result in an erroneous deprivation of the private interest, and the probable value, if any, of additional or substitute procedural safeguards; and (3) the Government’s interest in following the existing procedures, both in achieving their objectives and in the potential burdens of an alternate procedure. Id. at 335.

46. Here, all three factors favor the petitioner.

47. First, Petitioner has a significant private interest at stake. A person's interest in freedom from physical detention is "the most elemental of liberty interests." Hamdi v. Rumsfeld, 542 U.S. 507, 529, 124 S.Ct. 2633, 159 L.Ed.2d 578 (2004); see also Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 690, 121 S.Ct. 2491 ("Freedom from imprisonment—from government custody, detention, or other forms of physical restraint—lies at the heart of the liberty that [the Due Process] Clause protects."). Petitioner currently experiences the gambit of deprivations that come with physical detention.

48. Second, Petitioner will continue to be deprived of this interest if the current procedure (detaining Petitioner without a hearing) is followed. Petitioner has a strong likelihood of meeting the criteria for being released on bond. 8 CFR §§236.1(c)(8), 1236.1(c)(8) (2020); In re Adeniji, 22 I. & N. Dec. 1102, 1113 (BIA 1999). Even if Petitioner is not subsequently released, Petitioner still has a legal and constitutional interest in the hearing itself, in being heard.

49. Lastly, the Government has no legitimate interest in refusing to follow its own rules. Petitioner poses no safety threats to the community. Releasing Petitioner, or holding a hearing to release Petitioner on bond, would in fact save the government the resources and expense of continuing to imprison Petitioner.

50. The placement of Petitioner in detention pending the resolution of his proceedings violates his constitutional rights to due process guaranteed in the Fifth Amendment.

COUNT TWO

Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1226

Petitioner's Ongoing Detention, without the Opportunity for a Bond Hearing, Violates his Statutory Right to a Hearing as Guaranteed by 8 U.S.C. § 1226

51. Petitioner realleges and incorporates by reference each and every allegation contained above.

52. The mandatory detention provision at 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) does not apply to all noncitizens residing in the United States who are subject to the grounds of inadmissibility. As relevant here, it does not apply to those who previously entered the country and have been residing in the United States prior to being apprehended and placed in removal proceedings by Respondents. Such noncitizens are detained under § 1226(a), unless they are subject to § 1225(b)(1), § 1226(c), or § 1231.

53. Petitioner is not subject to 8 U.S.C. §§ 1225(b)(1), 1226(c), or § 1231.

54. Respondents' application of § 1225(b)(2) to Petitioner unlawfully mandates his continued detention and violates the INA.

COUNT THREE

Violation of the Administrative Procedure Act

55. Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates by reference each allegation contained in the preceding paragraphs as if set forth fully herein.

56. The APA provides that a "reviewing court shall . . . hold unlawful and set aside agency action, findings, and conclusions found to be . . . arbitrary and capricious, an abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law." 5 U.S.C. § 706(2)(A).

57. The APA provides that a "reviewing court shall . . . hold unlawful and set aside agency action, findings, and conclusions found to be . . . without observance of procedure required by law." 5 U.S.C. § 706(2)(D).

58. The mandatory detention provision at 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) does not apply to all noncitizens residing in the United States who are subject to the grounds of inadmissibility. As relevant here, it does not apply to those who previously entered the country and have been residing in the United States prior to being apprehended and placed in removal proceedings by Respondents. Such noncitizens could properly be detained under § 1226(a), but would then be eligible for release on bond unless they are subject to § 1225(b)(1), § 1226(c), or § 1231.

59. Nonetheless, the Board has adopted a policy and practice of applying § 1225(b)(2) to Petitioner and others in the same position.

60. Respondents through its recent administrative decision failed to articulate any reasoned explanations for new interpretation of the Act. The Board's decision represents a change in the agencies' policies and positions that negates the plain language of the Act, the will of Congress, and decades of administrative precedent.

61. The application of § 1225(b)(2) to Petitioner is arbitrary, capricious, and not in accordance with law, and as such, it violates the APA. See 5 U.S.C. § 706(2).

REQUEST FOR ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE

62. Within three days, unless good cause for a delay is shown, "[a] court, justice or judge entering a writ of habeas corpus shall forthwith award the writ or issue an order directing the respondent to show cause why the writ should not be granted, unless it appears from the application that the applicant or person detained is not entitled thereto." 28 U.S.C. § 2243.

63. Petitioner, by and through counsel, respectfully requests that the Court issue an Order to Show Cause directing Respondents to file a return within three days of the Court's order, showing cause, if any, why a writ of habeas corpus should not be granted.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Petitioner prays that this Court grant the following relief;

- a. Assume jurisdiction over this matter;
- b. Declare that Petitioner's arrest and detention violates the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment, the INA, and implementing regulations;

- c. Issue a writ of habeas corpus requiring that within one day, Respondents release Petitioner, under the same conditions as existed prior to his detention;
- d. Alternatively, issue a writ of habeas corpus requiring Respondents to release Petitioner immediately unless they provide a bond hearing under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a) within five days, at which hearing Respondents will bear the burden of justifying Petitioner's continued detention by clear and convincing evidence of dangerousness or flight risk;
- e. Issue an Emergency Temporary Restraining Order prohibiting Respondents from removing Petitioner from the United States or transporting Petitioner out of this jurisdiction during the pendency of this petition;
- f. Issue an Order to Show Cause ordering Respondents to explain why this Petition should not be granted within three days, and set a hearing on this Petition within five days of the return, as required by 28 USC § 2243;
- g. Issue an Order prohibiting Respondents from re-detaining Petitioner without a pre-deprivation hearing before this Court where the government bears the burden of justifying re-detention by clear and convincing evidence;
- h. Grant any other and further relief that this Court deems just and proper.
