Attorneys for Mr. Guerra Recinos

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

WILSER RENE GUERRA RECINOS,	26-CV-3404 DMS (JAC)
Petitioner,	AMENDED VERIFIED
v.	EMERGENCY PETITION FOR A
 JEREMY CASEY, Facility Administrator at the Imperial Regional Detention Facility, GREGORY J. ARCHAMBEAULT, Director of the U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement San Diego Field Office, TODD LYONS, acting Director of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement, MARKWAYNE MULLINS Secretary of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, and TODD BLANCHE, U.S. Attorney General.	WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS, ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE WITHIN THREE DAYS AND COMPLAINT FOR DECLARATORY RELIEF

INTRODUCTION

1. Petitioner Wilser Rene Guerra Recinos is in the physical custody of Respondents at the Imperial Regional Detention Facility. He is being unlawfully detained because the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and the Executive Office of Immigration Review have concluded that Petitioner is subject to mandatory detention.
2. Petitioner arrived in the United States in 2003 and has been living in Southern California with his family since that time.
3. Mr. Guerra Recinos applied for asylum in 2003. Over the years he has received employment authorization, the most recent in 2024 is valid through 2029. Ex. A.
4. Mr. Guerra Recinos previously appeared on the on the non-detained immigration court docket in Los Angeles. Ex. B. His case was administratively closed in 2012. Id.
5. Petitioner was detained by Immigration and Customs Enforcement on May 27, 2026, at a border patrol check point when he was returning to his home in Phelan, California after traveling to Calexico for work. The officers did not provide him with prior notice that DHS was revoking his release or an opportunity to contest whether his re-detention was warranted.

6. Petitioner was detained consistent with a new DHS policy issued on July 8, 2025, instructing all Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) employees to consider anyone inadmissible under § 1182(a)(6)(A)(i)—i.e., those who entered the United States without admission or inspection—to be subject to detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A) and therefore ineligible to be released on bond.
7. On September 5, 2025, the Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA) issued a precedent decision, binding on all immigration judges, holding that an immigration judge has no authority to consider bond requests for any person who entered the United States without admission. See Matter of Yajure Hurtado, 29 I&N Dec. 216 (BIA 2025). The Board determined that such individuals are subject to detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A) and therefore ineligible to be released on bond.
8. Petitioner's detention on this basis violates the plain language of the Immigration and Nationality Act. Section 1225(b)(2)(A) does not apply to individuals like Petitioner who entered without inspection. Instead, such individuals are subject to a different statute, § 1226(a), that allows for release on conditional parole or bond. That statute expressly applies to people who, like Petitioner, are charged as inadmissible for having entered the United States without inspection.

9. Respondents' new legal interpretation is plainly contrary to the statutory framework and contrary to decades of agency practice applying § 1226(a) to people like Petitioner.
10. Moreover, because Mr. Guerra Recinos had previously been granted release, he possesses a protected liberty interest. Fernandez Lopez v. Wofford, Case. No. 25-cv-01226-KES-SKO (HC), 2025 WL 2959319, at *7 (E.D. Cal. Oct. 17, 2025). Due Process requires the government to provide noncitizens with notice and a hearing prior to re-detention, and that re-detention without prior notice, a showing of changed circumstances, or a meaningful opportunity to respond, violates procedural due process under the Fifth Amendment. See e.g. Ariza Garcia v. Mullin, No. 3:26-CV-02241-RBM-MSB, 2026 WL 1142629, at *2 (S.D. Cal. Apr. 27, 2026); Faizyan v. Casey, No.: 3:25-cv-02884-RBM-JLB, 2025 WL 3208844, at *7 (S.D. Cal. Nov. 17, 2025); Ramirez-Bibiano v. LaRose, No. 25-CV-3429-JLS (SBC), 2025 WL 3632748, at *4–5 (S.D. Cal. Dec. 15, 2025) (ordering immediate release subject to conditions of petitioner's preexisting parole where DHS had summarily revoked parole and re-detained without notice or a hearing); see also Maceo-Aguilera v. LaRose, 26-CV-532-LL-MSB, 2026 WL 381633 (S.D. Cal. Feb. 11, 2026); Escamilla Alvarado v. Casey Case No. 26-cv-2593-JO-BJW (S.D. Cal. May, 7, 2026), Dkt. No. 6; Magana-Hernandez v. Casey Case No. 26-cv-2952-JLS (MSB) (S.C. Cal. May 18, 2026),

Dkt. No. 5.

11. Mr. Guerra Recinos's re-detention therefore violated the Fifth Amendment's Procedural Due Process guarantee. As such, this Court should order Respondents to immediately release him.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

12. This Court has jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 (habeas corpus), 28 U.S.C. § 1331 (federal question), 28 U.S.C. § 1651 (All Writs Act), 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201-02 (declaratory relief), and art. I sec. 9, cl. 2 of the United States Constitution (Suspension Clause), as Petitioner is presently in custody under the authority of the United States and challenges his detention as in violation of the Constitution, laws, or treaties of the United States.
13. The federal district courts have jurisdiction under Section 2241 to hear habeas claims by individuals challenging the lawfulness of their detention by ICE. See Jennings v. Rodriguez, 583 U.S. 281, 290-92 (2018).
14. "A federal district court has habeas jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 to review bond hearing determinations for "constitutional claims and legal error." Singh v. Holder, 638 F.3d 1196, 1206 (9th Cir. 2011), 638 F.3d at 1200-01; De La Cruz Sales v. Johnson, 323 F. Supp. 3d 1131, 1139 (N.D. Cal. 2017) (concluding that immigrant's claims were reviewable by district court where bond determination challenged as constitutionally flawed); Martinez v. Clark, 124 F.4th 775, 785 (9th Cir. 2024)(concluding that a federal court has discretion to review a bond denial when a “district court...ordered the bond hearing under the Due Process Clause”); Hasratyan v. Bondi, 2026 WL 288909 at *3-4 (C.D. Cal. Feb. 2, 2026)(ordering the release of an immigration detainee following the court’s review of an IJ’s bond denial that was based on procedural and legal error); Mayancela v. FCI Berlin, Warden, No. 25-cv-348-LM-TSM, 2025 WL 3215638, at *4 (D.N.H. Nov. 18, 2025) (If the government does not meet its burden and the IJ determines that the noncitizen must remain in custody, then “a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, filed in the appropriate district court, is the only mechanism by which a noncitizen may seek judicial review of an IJ’s bond decision.”) (citations omitted).

15. Venue is proper in the Southern District of California, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391 and 2241(d) because Petitioner is detained at the Imperial Regional Detention Facility in Calexico, California.

REQUIREMENTS OF 28 U.S.S. § 2243

16. The Court must grant the petition for writ of habeas corpus or issue an order to show cause (OSC) to the respondents “forthwith,” unless the petitioner is not entitled to relief. 28 U.S.C. § 2243. If an OSC is issued, the Court must require respondents to file a return “within three days unless for good cause additional time, not exceeding twenty days is allowed.” Id.

17. Court have long recognized the significance of the habeas statute in protecting individuals from unlawful detention. The Great Writ has been referred to as “perhaps the most important writ known to the constitutional law of England, affording as it does a swift and imperative remedy in all cases of illegal restraint and confinement. Fay v. Noia, 372 U.S. 391, 400 (1963) (overruled on other grounds by Wainwright v. Sykes, 433 U.S. 72 (1977)) (emphasis added). “The application for the writ usurps the attention and displaces the calendar of the judge or justice who entertains it and receives prompt action from him within the four corners of the application.” Yong v. I.N.S., 208 F.3d 1116, 1120 (9th Cir. 2000) (citation omitted).

PARTIES

18. Petitioner Wilser Rene Guerra Recinos is currently detained by Respondents in the Imperial Regional Detention Facility.
19. Respondent Jeremy Casy is the facility administrator at the Imperial Detention Facility in Calexico, California where Mr. Guerra Recinos is currently detained. He is thus Petitioner’s immediate custodian. He is sued in his official capacity.
20. Respondent Patrick Divver is the Director of ICE’s San Diego Field Office, which has jurisdiction over ICE detention facilities in San Diego and Imperial County, including the Imperial Regional Detention Center, and is thus Petitioner’s immediate custodian. He is sued in his official capacity.

21. Respondent Todd Lyons is the Director of ICE. He is responsible for the administration of ICE and the implementation and enforcement of the immigration laws, including immigrant detention. As such, Mr. Lyons is a legal custodian of Petitioner. He is sued in his official capacity.
22. Respondent Markwayne Mullin is the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), which is responsible for the administration of ICE, a subunit of DHS, and the implementation and enforcement of the immigration laws. As such, Mr. Mullin is the ultimate legal custodian of Mr. Guerra Recinos. He is sued in his official capacity.
23. Respondent Todd Blanche is the Acting Attorney General of the United States and head of the Department of Justice, which encompasses the Board of Immigration Appeals and the Immigration Courts. Mr. Blanche shares responsibility for implementation and enforcement of the immigration laws with Respondent Mullin. Mr. Blanche is a legal custodian of Petitioner. He is sued in his official capacity.

LEGAL FRAMEWORK

24. The INA prescribes three basic forms of detention for most noncitizens in removal proceedings.
25. First, 8 U.S.C. § 1226 authorizes the detention of noncitizens in standard removal proceedings before an IJ. See 8 U.S.C. § 1229a. Individuals in § 1226(a) detention are generally entitled to a bond hearing at the outset of their detention, see 8 C.F.R. §§ 1003.19(a), 1236.1(d), while noncitizens who have been arrested, charged with, or convicted of certain crimes are subject to mandatory detention, see 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c).

26. Second, the INA provides for mandatory detention of noncitizens subject to expedited removal under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(1) and for other recent arrivals seeking admission referred to under § 1225(b)(2).

27. Last, the INA also provides for detention of noncitizens who have been ordered removed, including individuals in withholding-only proceedings, see 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a)–(b).

28. This case concerns the detention provisions at §§ 1226(a) and 1225(b)(2).

29. The detention provisions at § 1226(a) and § 1225(b)(2) were enacted as part of the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act (IIRIRA) of 1996, Pub. L. No. 104–208, Div. C, §§ 302–03, 110 Stat. 3009–546, 3009–582 to 3009–583, 3009–585. Section 1226(a) was most recently amended earlier this year by the Laken Riley Act, Pub. L. No. 119–1, 139 Stat. 3 (2025).

30. Following the enactment of the IIRIRA, EOIR drafted new regulations explaining that, in general, people who entered the country without inspection were not considered detained under § 1225 but were instead detained under § 1226(a). See Inspection and Expedited Removal of Aliens; Detention and Removal of Aliens; Conduct of Removal Proceedings; Asylum Procedures, 62 Fed. Reg. 10312, 10323 (Mar. 6, 1997).

31. Thus, in the decades that followed, most people, including people like Petitioner, who are charged with having entered without inspection and were placed in standard removal proceedings received bond hearings, unless their criminal history rendered them ineligible pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c). That practice was consistent with many more decades of prior practice, in which noncitizens who were not deemed “arriving” were entitled to a custody hearing before an IJ or other hearing officer. See 8 U.S.C. § 1252(a) (1994); see also H.R. Rep. No. 104-469, pt. 1, at 229 (1996) (noting that § 1226(a) simply “restates” the detention authority previously found at § 1252(a)). Indeed, Mr. Guerra Recinos was released and appeared on the non-detained immigration court docket. Ex. B.
32. On July 8, 2025, ICE, “in coordination with” DOJ, announced a new policy that rejected well-established understanding of the statutory framework and reversed decades of practice. Respondents’ new policy turns the well-established understanding of immigration detention and bond on its head and violates the statutory scheme.

33. In an about face, the new policy, entitled “Interim Guidance Regarding Detention Authority for Applicants for Admission,”¹ claims that all persons who entered the United States without inspection shall now be subject to mandatory detention provision under § 1225(b)(2)(A). The policy applies regardless of when a person is apprehended and affects those who have resided in the United States for months, years, and even decades.
34. On September 5, 2025, the BIA adopted this same position in a published decision, Matter of Yajure Hurtado, 29 I. & N. Dec. 216. There, the Board held that all noncitizens who entered the United States without admission or parole are subject to detention under § 1225(b)(2)(A) and are ineligible for IJ bond hearings.
35. Since Respondents adopted their new policies, dozens of federal courts have rejected their new interpretation of the INA’s detention authorities. Courts have likewise rejected Matter of Yajure Hurtado, which adopts the same reading of the statute as ICE.
36. Even before ICE or the BIA introduced these nationwide policies, IJs in the Tacoma, Washington, immigration court stopped providing bond hearings for persons who entered the United States without inspection. There, the U.S.

District Court in the Western District of Washington found that such a reading of the INA is likely unlawful and that § 1226(a), not § 1225(b), applies to noncitizens who are not apprehended upon arrival to the United States.

Rodriguez Vazquez v. Bostock, 779 F. Supp. 3d 1239 (W.D. Wash. 2025).

37. Subsequently, court after court has adopted the same reading of the INA's detention authorities and rejected ICE and EOIR's new interpretation. See, e.g., Lopez-Mendez v. LaRose, No. 25-cv-03037-BAS-DDL, 2025 WL 3295331 (S.D. Cal. Nov. 26, 2025); Vasquez-Diaz v. LaRose, No. 25-cv-3038-TWR-JLB (S.D. Cal. Nov. 13, 2025); N.A. v. LaRose 2025 WL 2841989 (S. D. Cal. Oct. 7, 2025); Gomes v. Hyde, No. 1:25-CV-11571-JEK, 2025 WL 1869299 (D. Mass. July 7, 2025); Diaz Martinez v. Hyde, No. CV 25-11613-BEM, --- F. Supp. 3d ---, 2025 WL 2084238 (D. Mass. v. Noem, No. 1:25-cv-02428-JRR, 2025 WL 2430025 (D. Md. Aug. 24, 2025); Kostak v. Trump, No. 3:25-cv-01093-JE-KDM, 2025 WL 2472136 (W.D. La. Aug. 27, 2025); Jose J.O.E. v. Bondi, No. 25-CV-3051 (ECT/DJF), --- F. Supp. 3d ----, 2025 WL 2466670, at *8 (D. Minn. Aug. 27, 2025) Lopez-Campos v. Raycraft, 2025 WL 2496379 (E.D. Mich. Aug. 29, 2025), Vasquez Garcia v. Noem, No. 25-cv-02180-DMS-MM, 2025 WL 2549431 (S.D. Cal. Sept. 3, 2025); Zaragoza Mosqueda v. Noem, No. 5:25-CV-02304 CAS (BFM), 2025 WL 2591530 (C.D. Cal. Sept. 8, 2025); Pizarro Reyes v. Raycraft, No. 25-CV-12546, 2025 WL 2609425 (E.D. Mich. Sept. 9, 2025); see also, e.g., Palma Perez v. Berg, No. 8:25CV494, 2025 WL 2531566 at *2 (D. Neb. Sept. 3, 2025) (noting that “[t]he Court tends to agree” that § 1226(a) and not § 1225(b)(2) authorizes detention); Jacinto v. Trump, No. 4:25-cv-03161-JFB-RCC, 2025 WL 2402271 at *3 (D. Neb. Aug. 19, 2025) (same); Anicasio v. Kramer, No. 4:25-cv-03158-JFB-RCC, 2025 WL 2374224 at *2 (D. Neb. Aug. 14, 2025) (same); Barrera v. Tindall, 2025 WL 2690565 (W.D. Ken Sep 19. 2025).

38. Courts have uniformly rejected DHS’s and EOIR’s new interpretation because it defies the INA. As the Rodriguez Vazquez court and others have explained, the plain text of the statutory provisions demonstrates that § 1226(a), not § 1225(b), applies to people like Petitioner.

39. Mr. Guerra Recinos is a member of the Bond Eligible Class certified in Maldonado Bautista v. Santa Cruz, No. 5:25-CV-01873-SSS-BFM, --- F. Supp. 3d ---, 2025 WL 3288403 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 25, 2025) reconsideration granted in part, --- F. Supp. 3d ---, 2025 WL 3713982 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 18, 2025) (“Maldonado Bautista”) (entering final judgment as to the Bond Eligible Class). On November 25, 2025, the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California issued an order in Maldonado Bautista, certifying a nationwide class of noncitizens who are in immigration detention and being denied access to a bond hearing based on the government’s allegation that they entered the U.S. without admission or inspection.
40. On February 18, 2026, the district court issued an order vacating the Board’s decision in Matter of Yajure Hurtado and enforcing the Petitioner’s request for a final judgement. Bautista v. Santacruz, ---F. Supp. 3d---, No. 25-CV-1873-SSS-BFM, WL 468284 (C.D. Cal. Feb. 18, 2026). The Government filed a notice of appeal and on March 6, 2026, the Ninth Circuit issued a temporary stay pending a ruling on the government’s emergency motion for a stay pending appeal. See 25-CV-1873 Dkt. No. 129.
41. Section 1226(a) applies by default to all persons “pending a decision on whether the [noncitizen] is to be removed from the United States.” These removal hearings are held under § 1229a, to “decid[e] the inadmissibility or deportability of a[] [noncitizen].”

42. The text of § 1226 also explicitly applies to people charged as being inadmissible, including those who entered without inspection. See 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c)(1)(E). Subparagraph (E)’s reference to such people makes clear that, by default, such people are afforded a bond hearing under subsection (a). As the Rodriguez Vazquez court explained, “[w]hen Congress creates ‘specific exceptions’ to a statute’s applicability, it ‘proves’ that absent those exceptions, the statute generally applies.” Rodriguez Vazquez, 779 F. Supp. 3d at 1257 (citing Shady Grove Orthopedic Assocs., P.A. v. Allstate Ins. Co., 559 U.S. 393, 400 (2010)); see also Gomes, 2025 WL 1869299, at *7.

43. Section 1226 therefore leaves no doubt that it applies to people who face charges of being inadmissible to the United States, including those who, like Petitioner, are present without admission or parole.

44. By contrast, § 1225(b) applies to people arriving at U.S. ports of entry or who recently entered the United States. The statute’s entire framework is premised on inspections at the border of people who are “seeking admission” to the United States. 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A). Indeed, the Supreme Court has explained that this mandatory detention scheme applies “at the Nation’s borders and ports of entry, where the Government must determine whether a [noncitizen] seeking to enter the country is admissible.” Jennings v. Rodriguez, 583 U.S. 281, 287 (2018).

45. Moreover, the government’s recent decision to apply §1225(b) to people like Petitioner who are already present in the United States is inconsistent with the recently passed Laken Riley Act, which added a new subsection under §1226(c) that mandates detention for individuals who entered the United States without inspection or admission and have been charged with certain criminal offenses. District courts have noted “If 1225(b)(2) already mandated detention of any alien who has not been admitted, regardless of how long they have been here, then adding §1226(c)(1)(E) to the statutory scheme was pointless.” See Barrera v. Tindall, 2025 WL 2690565 (W.D. Ken Sep 19, 2025) (quoting Lopez-Campos v. Raycraft, 2025 WL 2496379 at *8 (E.D. Mich. Aug 29, 2025)). “If Congress has intended for Section 1225 to govern all noncitizens present in the country, who had not been admitted, then it would not have recently adopted an amendment to Section 1226 that prescribes a subset of noncitizens exempt from the discretionary bond framework.” Id.
46. Accordingly, the mandatory detention provision of § 1225(b)(2)(A) does not apply to people like Petitioner, who entered the United States without inspection.

47. In addition, because Mr. Guerra Recinos had previously been released ORR and was issued an employment authorization document, Due Process Requires notice and a hearing prior to his re-detention. “[T]he Due Process Clause applies to all ‘persons’ within the United States, including aliens, whether their presence here is lawful, unlawful, temporary, or permanent.” Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678 (2001). Accordingly, “[i]t is well established that the Fifth Amendment entitles aliens to due process of law in the context of removal proceedings.” Trump v. J.G.G., 604 U.S. 670, 673 (2025) (internal quotation marks omitted) (citing Reno v. Flores, 507 U.S. 292, 306 (1993)). Due process “requires some kind of a hearing before the State deprives a person of liberty or property.” Zinerman v. Burch, 494 U.S. 113, 127 (1990).

48. Traditionally, to determine what protections due process demands in a given situation, courts consider three factors, the Mathews factors: (1) the private interest that will be affected by the official action; (2) the risk of erroneous deprivation of such interest through the procedures used, and the probable value of additional safeguards; and (3) the government’s interest, including the function involved and that burdens that would be imposed by additional process. See Mathews v. Eldridge, 424 U.S. at 335 (1976). In applying these factors specifically to the context of a person challenging immigration detention, courts assess: (1) the petitioner’s liberty interest in remaining out of custody; (2) the risk of erroneous deprivation of that interest in remaining out of custody; and (3) the government's interest in detaining the petitioner without affording pre-deprivation notice, reasoning, and a hearing. Ramirez-Bibiano, 2025 WL 3632748 at *4–5.

49. Consistent with the traditional Mathews three-factor test, district courts in the Ninth Circuit have formulated a bright-line Due Process rule: if a noncitizen has been paroled into the U.S., the government may not revoke their parole or re-detain them without first affording pre-deprivation notice and a hearing establishing that the person is now a danger or flight risk—failure to provide this is a violation of the person's Fifth Amendment Due Process rights requiring immediate habeas relief. See, e.g., Ramirez-Bibiano, 2025 WL 3632748 (ordering immediate habeas relief; holding the government's summary revocation of parole and re-detention without pre-deprivation notice or a hearing establishing present risk of danger or flight violates Fifth Amendment Due Process); see also Noori v. LaRose, 807 F. Supp. 3d. 1146 (S.D. Cal. 2025)(granting immediate habeas release; holding the government's summary revocation of parole and re-detention without pre-deprivation notice, reasons, and a hearing establishing present danger or flight risk violated due process under Mathews); Ramirez Tesara v. Wamsley, 800 F. Supp. 3d 1130 1135–39 (W.D. Wash. 2025) (granting TRO and ordering immediate release; applying Mathews to hold that even though petitioner's parole had expired, because he had previously been paroled his re-detention without a pre-deprivation hearing establishing a justification for re-detention violated due process under Mathews); Fernandez Lopez v. Wofford, No. 1:25-CV-01226-KES-SKO (HC), 2025 WL 2959319, at *6 (E.D. Cal. Oct. 17, 2025) (ordering immediate habeas release; canvassing seven cases establishing the principle that re-detention of a previously paroled noncitizen without a pre-deprivation hearing establishing a change in the person's risk of danger or flight violates Due Process and requires immediate habeas relief).

50. Courts have applied this same rationale to individuals released from immigration detention. See Maceo-Aguilera v. LaRose, 26-CV-532-LL-MSB, 2026 WL 381633 (S.D. Cal. Feb. 11, 2026); Escamilla Alvarado v. Casey, No. 26-cv-2593-JO-BJW (S.D. Cal. May 7, 2026), Dkt. No. 6; Magana-Hernandez v. Casey, No. 26-cv-2952-JLS (MSB) (S.D. Cal. May 18, 2026), Dkt. No. 5. Thus, Mr. Guerra Recino's "release from ICE custody after [his] initial apprehension reflected a determination by the government that [he] was neither a flight risk nor a danger to the community, and [Petitioner] has a strong interest in remaining at liberty unless [he] no longer meets those criteria. Pinchi v. Noem, 792 F. Supp. 3d. 1025, 1034 (N.D. Cal. 2025).

STATEMENT OF FACTS

51. Mr. Guerra Recinos was born in Guatemala. He arrived in the United States in 2003 to seek asylum and filed his asylum application that same year.

52. He has been married to his wife, Zulma Diaz, for 12 years. They have two United States citizen children together who are 10 and 19 years old.

53. Mr. Guerra Recinos was most recently issued an employment authorization document that was valid from 2024 through 2029. Ex. A.

54. Mr. Guerra Recinos and his wife own their home in Phelan, California where they live with their family. They previously owned another home in Los Angeles for eight years. They also own and operate a business together selling items at swap meeting in Southern California.

55. Mr. Guerra Recinos was detained on May 27, 2026, as he was driving back from a swap meet in Calexico where he had been working that day. He was stopped at a border patrol check point and taken into ICE custody. He was not informed as to why his release was being revoked nor was he given an opportunity to contest the revocation.

56. Mr. Guerra Recinos is a hardworking man who has been living at the same address for years. He does not have a criminal record.

57. He previously appeared on the non-detained docket in Lost Angeles. His case was administratively closed in 2012. Ex. B.

CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

COUNT ONE

Violation 8 U.S.C. § 1226(a)

58. Mr. Guerra Recinos re-alleges and incorporates by reference each allegation contained above.
59. The mandatory detention provision at 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) does not apply to all noncitizens residing in the United States who are subject to the grounds of inadmissibility. As relevant here, it does not apply to those who are charged with having entered without inspection. Such noncitizens are detained under § 1226(a), unless they are subject to § 1225(b)(1), § 1226(c), or § 1231.
60. The application of § 1225(b)(2) to Petitioner unlawfully mandates his continued detention and violates the INA.
61. Instead, Mr. Guerra Recinos should be subject to § 1226(a) and eligible for immediate release from detention or release on immigration bond.

COUNT TWO

Violation of the Administrative Procedure Act Unlawful Denial of Bond

62. Petitioner repeats, re-alleges, and incorporates by reference each and every allegation in the preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

63. The mandatory detention provision at 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) does not apply to noncitizens residing in the United States who are subject to the grounds of inadmissibility because they originally entered the United States without inspection or parole. Such noncitizens are detained under § 1226(a), unless they are subject to another detention provision, such as § 1225(b)(1), § 1226(c) or § 1231. 57.

64. The application of § 1225(b)(2) to bar Petitioner from release or from receiving a bond hearing before an immigration judge is arbitrary, capricious, and not in accordance with law, and as such, it violates the APA. See 5 U.S.C. § 706(2).

COUNT THREE

Violation of Procedural Due Process Revocation of Release without neutral decision maker

65. Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates by reference each allegation contained above.

66. The Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment forbids the government from depriving any person of liberty without due process of law. U.S. Const. amend. V. “Freedom from imprisonment—from government custody, detention, or other forms of physical restraint—lies at the heart of the liberty” that the Due Process Clause protects. Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 690 (2001) (citing Foucha v. Louisiana, 504 U.S. 71, 80 (1992)).

67. An individual released from immigration custody has a liberty interest in remaining free from detention. Morrissey, 408 U.S. at 482. Petitioner has a fundamental interest in liberty and being free from official restraint.

68. The liberty interest applies to individuals who are released on their own recognizance to attend removal proceedings. Garcia v. Andrews, No. 1:25-CV-01006 JLT SAB, 2025 WL 2420068, at *11 (E.D. Cal. Aug. 21, 2025); Valencia Zapata v. Kaiser, No. 25-CV-07492-RFL, 2025 WL 2578207, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 5, 2025); Bostock, No. 3:25-CV-965-SI, 2025 WL 1898025, at *13 (D. Or. July 9, 2025).

69. While DHS has discretion to revoke release, it may not do so in a manner that is inconsistent with constitutional protections.

70. Due Process requires that Petitioner be afforded a bond determination before a neutral adjudicator if the government is to re-detain Petitioner. Mathews v. Eldridge, 424 U.S. 319; Ramirez-Bibiano, 2025 WL 3632748, at *5; Ramirez Tesara, 800 F. Supp. 3d at 1136; Fernandez Lopez v. Wofford, 2025 WL 2959319, at *7.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Petitioner prays that this Court grant the following relief:

1. Assume jurisdiction over this matter.

2. Order that Mr. Guerra Recinos shall not be transferred outside the Southern District of California.
3. Issue a Writ of Habeas Corpus ordering Respondents to immediately release Mr. Guerra Recinos because he was previously released and has remained at liberty in the United States since that time. If the Court is not prepared to order immediate release, in the alternative, the Court should order Respondents to provide Petitioner with a bond hearing pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1226(a) within ten days where the burden of proof is on the government to establish through clear and convincing evidence that Mr. Guerra Recinos is a danger or a flight risk if released. See Sadeqi v. LaRose No. 25-cv-2587-RSH-BJW, 2025 WL 3154520, at *4 (S.D. Ca.; Nov. 12, 2025) (citing Singh v. Holder, 638 F.3d 1196, 1203 (9th Cir. 2011)) (“Petitioner is entitled to a prompt and individualized bond hearing, at which Respondents must justify his continued detention by a showing of clear and convincing evidence that Petitioner would likely flee or pose a danger to the community if released.”). The Court should further require the government to provide him with a bond hearing before a “fair, neutral, and open-minded immigration judge.” Domingos v. Casey, No. 3:26-cv-01151-BTM-JLB, 2026 LX 176120, at *9 (S.D. Cal. Mar. 23, 2026).

4. Issue an Order to Show Cause why this Petition should not be granted within three days and set a hearing on this Petition within five days of the return pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2243.
5. Enter preliminary and permanent injunctive relief enjoining Respondents from further unlawful detention of Mr. Guerra Recinos.
6. Declare that Mr. Guerra Recinos's detention violates the Immigration and Nationality Act.
7. Declare that Mr. Guerra Recinos's detention violates the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment.
8. Grant such further relief as this Court deems just and proper.

Respectfully submitted,
