Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2241

PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS PURSUANT TO 28 U.S.C. § 2241

INTRODUCTION

1. Petitioner is currently detained by Immigration and Customs Enforcement ("ICE") at Golden State Annex [write the name of the detention center where you are detained // escriba el nombre del centro de detención donde está detenido] Detention Center.

2. Petitioner has been detained in immigration custody since approximately 05/05/2026 [write the approximate date when ICE arrested and detained you for your current detention // escriba la fecha aproximada en que ICE lo arrestó y detuvo para esta detención actual].

3. Prior to Petitioner's current, ongoing detention, Petitioner lived in Fresno, California. [city, state // ciudad, estado donde vivía antes de su detención actual]. Respondents Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and/or its component agencies, including ICE, Customs and Border Patrol (CBP), and/or U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) knew about Petitioner. Respondents had previously encountered Petitioner and had chosen to release Petitioner and/or allow them to remain non-detained, upon a determination that Petitioner was neither dangerous nor a flight risk.

4. Since Respondents' prior determination that Petitioner was neither dangerous nor a flight risk, there has been no material change in Petitioner's individual circumstances as to dangerousness or flight risk. Petitioner lived a law-abiding life in the United States and diligently pursued their immigration claims before the agency or in immigration court.

5. Despite the lack of materially changed circumstances as to Petitioner's dangerousness or flight risk, Respondents re-arrested Petitioner.

6. Immigration detention is civil. It is permissible for only two reasons: to ensure a noncitizen's appearance at immigration hearings and to prevent danger to the community. Petitioner's arrest cannot be explained by either justification: Respondents previously determined that Petitioner is neither dangerous nor a flight risk, and Petitioner's conduct while free confirmed Respondents' determination was correct.

7. The Constitution protects Petitioner, like all noncitizens, from arbitrary

1 deprivations of liberty. The Constitution also guarantees Petitioner due process of law. The 2 government's power over immigration is broad, but it "is subject to important constitutional
3 limitations." Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 695 (2001). "Freedom from bodily restraint has
4 always been at the core of the liberty protected by the Due Process Clause from arbitrary
5 governmental action." Foucha v. Louisiana, 504 U.S. 71, 80 (1992).

6 8. The Fourth Amendment prohibits the re-arrest of immigrants without a "material
7 change in circumstance." Saravia v. Sessions, 280 F. Supp. 3d 1168, 1197 (N.D. Cal. 2017), aff'd
8 sub nom. Saravia for A.H. v. Sessions, 905 F.3d 1137 (9th Cir. 2018). For a re-arrest to comport
9 with the Fourth Amendment, the government must have new probable cause separate from the 10 probable cause that supported a person's initial arrest. Id.

11 9. To the extent that Petitioner was re-arrested, the re-arrest violated the Fourth
12 Amendment because it was not supported by a new probable cause.

13 10. Furthermore, Petitioner may be a member of the certified class in Garro Pinchi v.
14 Noem, 813 F. Supp. 3d 973 (N.D. Cal. 2025). That litigation challenges DHS's new policy of re-15 detaining class members despite no change in their individual circumstances as to their 16 dangerousness or flight. Garro Pinchi found that DHS adopted that new re-detention policy in or 17 around May 2025, and held the policy is likely unlawful under the Administrative Procedure Act
18 (APA). Id. at 995–96, 1036. The court granted "Plaintiffs' motion to stay DHS's re-detention 19 policy pending final resolution of their APA claims," and "postpone[d] the effective date of the 20 re-detention policy within ICE's San Francisco Area of Responsibility until the entry of a final 21 judgment in this action." Id. at 1040.

22 11. To the extent Petitioner is a member of the Garro Pinchi class, Respondents appear
23 to have re-detained Petitioner in violation of the Garro Pinchi order cited above, which remains 24 in effect. Accordingly, Petitioner's ongoing detention is unlawful.

25 12. Petitioner's arrest and detention have caused them ongoing, irreparable harm.
26 Every additional day Petitioner spends unlawfully detained subjects them to compounding harm.

27 13. Petitioner is entitled to immediate release.

28 14. Petitioner respectfully requests a writ of habeas corpus ordering the government to

1 immediately release them from their unlawful detention. To preserve this Court's jurisdiction,
2 Petitioner further requests an order prohibiting Respondents from transferring them outside the
3 District or deporting them for the duration of this habeas proceeding.

4 JURISDICTION

5 15. Petitioner is detained by Respondents at Golden State Annex
6 [escriba el nombre del centro de detención donde está detenido] Detention Center.

7 16. This action arises under the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment to the U.S.
8 Constitution. Jurisdiction is proper under 28 U.S.C. § 1331 (federal question), 28 U.S.C. § 1651
9 (All Writs Act), 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201–02 (Declaratory Judgment Act), 28 U.S.C. § 2241 (habeas
10 corpus), Article I, § 9, cl. 2 of the U.S. Constitution (Suspension Clause), and the Due Process
11 Clause of the Fifth Amendment.

12 VENUE

13 17. Venue is proper in this district and division pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 2241(a) and 14 1391(b)(2) and (c)(1) because Petitioner is physically detained within this district, Petitioner's
15 immediate physical custodian is in this district, at least one Respondent is in this district, and a
16 substantial part of the events giving rise to the claims in this action took place in this district.

17 REQUIREMENTS OF 28 U.S.C. § 2243

18 18. The Court should grant the petition for writ of habeas corpus "forthwith," as 19 Petitioner's unlawful detention constitutes compounding and irreparable harm. 8 U.S.C. § 2243.

20 19. Furthermore, to the extent Petitioner is a member of the Garro Pinchi class, the 21 legal issues have already been resolved for Garro Pinchi class members.

22 20. Habeas corpus is "perhaps the most important writ known to the constitutional law
23 . . . affording as it does a swift and imperative remedy in all cases of illegal restraint or 24 confinement." Fay v. Noia, 372 U.S. 391, 400 (1963). "The application for the writ usurps the 25 attention and displaces the calendar of the judge or justice who entertains it and receives prompt
26 action from him within the four corners of the application." Yong v. I.N.S., 208 F.3d 1116, 1120
27 (9th Cir. 2000) (citation modified).

PARTIES

21. Petitioner is a noncitizen currently civilly detained by Respondents.

22. Respondent Warden or Acting Warden of Golden State Annex

[escriba el nombre del centro de detención donde está detenido] Detention Facility is the Facility Administrator of the detention center where Petitioner is detained, a private, for-profit detention facility that contracts with ICE to detain individuals suspected of civil immigration violations. Respondent Warden or Acting Warden is Petitioner's immediate physical custodian and is sued in their official capacity.

23. Respondent Acting or Current Field Office Director of the San Francisco ICE Field Office is responsible for the administration of immigration laws and the execution of immigration enforcement and detention policy within ICE's San Francisco Area of Responsibility, including Petitioner's detention. Respondent maintains an office and regularly conducts business in this District. Respondent Acting or Current Field Office Director is a legal custodian of Petitioner and is sued in their official capacity.

24. Respondent Acting or Current Director of ICE is responsible for the administration and enforcement of the immigration laws of the United States; routinely transacts business in this District; and is legally responsible for any effort to detain and/or remove Petitioner. ICE's policies, practices, and procedures, including those relating to the detention of immigrants. Respondent Acting or Current ICE Director is a legal custodian of Petitioner and is sued in their official capacity.

25. Respondent Acting or Current Secretary of DHS has ultimate authority over DHS. In that capacity and through their agents, Respondent has broad authority over and responsibility for the operation of the immigration laws; routinely transacts business in this District; and is legally responsible for pursuing any effort to detain and/or remove Petitioner. Respondent Acting or Current DHS Secretary is a legal custodian of Petitioner and is sued in their official capacity.

26. Respondent Acting or Current Attorney General of the United States is the most senior official in the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ). In that capacity and through their agents, they are responsible for overseeing the implementation and enforcement of the federal immigration

1 laws. The Attorney General delegates this responsibility to the Executive Office for Immigration
2 Review, which administers the immigration courts and the Board of Immigration Appeals.
3 Respondent Acting or Current Attorney General is named in their official capacity.

4 EXHAUSTION

5 27. In habeas claims, exhaustion of administrative remedies is prudential, not 6 jurisdictional. Hernandez v. Sessions, 872 F.3d 976, 988 (9th Cir. 2017). A court may waive the 7 prudential exhaustion requirement if “administrative remedies are inadequate or not efficacious,
8 pursuit of administrative remedies would be a futile gesture, irreparable injury will result, or 9 the administrative proceedings would be void.” Id. (quoting Laing v. Ashcroft, 370 F.3d 994, 1000
10 (9th Cir. 2004) (citation modified)). Here, exhaustion is not required because no other forum exists
11 in which Petitioner can raise their claims, exhaustion would be futile, there is no requirement to 12 exhaust before challenging the constitutionality of an arrest or detention, and Petitioner will “suffer
13 irreparable harm if unable to secure immediate judicial consideration of [their] claim.” McCarthy
14 v. Madigan, 503 U.S. 140, 147 (1992).

15 LEGAL BACKGROUND

16 28. The Constitution establishes due process rights for “all ‘persons’ within the United 17 States, including [noncitizens], whether their presence here is lawful, unlawful, temporary, or 18 permanent.” Hernandez, 872 F.3d at 990 (quoting Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 693). These due process
19 rights are both substantive and procedural. These rights protect Petitioner from arbitrary arrest and 20 detention.

21 29. First, the procedural component of the Due Process Clause prohibits the 22 government from imposing physical restraints without adequate procedural safeguards.

23 30. Generally, “the Constitution requires some kind of a hearing before the State
24 deprives a person of liberty or property.” Zinermon v. Burch, 494 U.S. 113, 127 (1990). This is so
25 even where that freedom is lawfully revocable. See Gagnon v. Scarpelli, 411 U.S. 778, 782 (1973)
26 (re-detention after release on probation requires pre-deprivation hearing); Morrissey v. Brewer, 27 408 U.S. 471 (1972) (same, for parole); see also Johnson v. Williford, 682 F.2d 868, 873 (9th Cir.
28 1982) (returning to prison a person even mistakenly released on parole would violate due process).

31. After an initial release from custody on conditions, even a person paroled following a conviction for a criminal offense for which they may lawfully have remained incarcerated has a protected liberty interest in that conditional release. Morrissey, 408 U.S. at 482. As the Supreme Court recognized, “[t]he parolee has relied on at least an implicit promise that parole will be revoked only if he fails to live up to the parole conditions.” Id. “By whatever name, the liberty is valuable and must be seen within the protection of the [Constitution].” Id.

32. This reasoning applies with equal if not greater force to people subject to civil immigration detention authority, like Petitioner. Noncitizens living in the United States like Petitioner have a protected liberty interest in their ongoing freedom from confinement, regardless of their immigration status. See Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 690. And, “[g]iven the civil context [of immigration detention], [their] liberty interest is arguably greater than the interest of parolees.” Ortega v. Bonnar, 415 F. Supp. 3d 963, 970 (N.D. Cal. 2019); see also Vilela v. Robbins, No. 1:25-cv-01393-KES-HBK (HC), 2025 WL 3101334, at *6 n.5 (E.D. Cal. Nov. 6, 2025).

33. Second, “[t]he touchstone of due process is protection of the individual against arbitrary action of government,” Wolff v. McDonnell, 418 U.S. 539, 558 (1974), including “the exercise of power without any reasonable justification in the service of a legitimate government objective,” Cnty. of Sacramento v. Lewis, 523 U.S. 833, 846 (1998).

34. These protections extend to noncitizens facing detention, as “[i]n our society liberty is the norm, and detention prior to trial or without trial is the carefully limited exception.” United States v. Salerno, 481 U.S. 739, 755 (1987). Accordingly, “[f]reedom from imprisonment—from government custody, detention, or other forms of physical restraint—lies at the heart of the liberty that [the Due Process] Clause protects.” Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 690.

35. Substantive due process thus requires that all forms of civil detention—including immigration detention—bear a “reasonable relation” to a non-punitive purpose. See Jackson v. Indiana, 406 U.S. 715, 738 (1972). The Supreme Court has recognized only two permissible non-punitive purposes for immigration detention: ensuring a noncitizen’s appearance at immigration proceedings and preventing danger to the community. Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 690–92; see also Demore v. Kim, 538 U.S. 510 at 519–20, 527–28, 31 (2003).

36. Finally, the Fourth Amendment prohibits law enforcement, including immigration officers, from re-arresting people who have been previously arrested absent a new intervening cause. Saravia, 280 F. Supp. at 1196. Immigration authorities may not conduct re-arrests without new probable cause so as to avoid “harassment by continual rearrests.” United States v. Holmes, 452 F.2d 249, 261 (7th Cir. 1971) (Stevens, J.) (prohibiting re-arrest without change in circumstances in criminal context); see also U.S. v. Brignoni-Ponce, 422 U.S. 873, 884 (1975) (applying Fourth Amendment principles from criminal context to “limit” scope of immigration agents’ seizure authority); Gonzalez v. ICE, 975 F.3d 788, 817 (9th Cir. 2020) (Fourth Amendment limits apply equally to seizures in criminal and civil immigration context).

STATEMENT OF FACTS

A. ICE Begins Arresting and Detaining Noncitizens Previously Released or Previously Permitted To Live in the Community, Without Any Materially Changed Circumstances

37. The Immigration and Nationality Act and implementing regulations govern Respondents’ authority to detain or release noncitizens pending removal proceedings. Release is available only after an immigration agent or immigration judge (IJ) first determines that a noncitizen is neither a flight risk nor a danger to the community. See, e.g., 8 C.F.R. §§ 212.5(b), 236.1(c)(8), 1236.1(c)(8); 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c)(4); Matter of Sugay, 17 I. & N. Dec. 637, 640 (BIA 1981); Saravia v. Sessions, 280 F. Supp. 3d 1168, 1176 (N.D. Cal. 2017), aff’d sub nom. Saravia for A.H. v. Sessions, 905 F.3d 1137 (9th Cir. 2018).

38. Moreover, the authority to arrest is always subject to the Fourth Amendment’s requirement of probable cause.

39. For more than 40 years, Respondents’ practice was to arrest and detain noncitizens who had been released or whom Respondents had previously allowed to live in the community, only after making an individualized determination that the noncitizen’s circumstances had materially changed, such that the noncitizen posed a flight risk or danger to the public. See generally Garro Pinchi, 813 F. Supp. 3d at 994–95.

40. In the second Trump administration, that changed. Respondents began arresting and detaining noncitizens who had been previously released or whom Respondents had previously permitted to live in the community, without first making any individualized determination of

1 changed circumstances. Many of these arrests occurred without notice, after noncitizens appeared
 2 for removal proceedings at immigration courthouses, check-ins with ICE or ICE's Intensive
 3 Supervision Appearance Program (ISAP), or scheduled immigration-related interviews. See
 4 generally Garro Pinchi, 813 F. Supp. 3d at 996.

5 41. Dozens, if not hundreds, of federal courts in California have found these arrests and 6 detentions are, or likely are, unconstitutional. See, e.g., R.A.N.O. v. Wofford, 820 F. Supp. 3d 1094,
 7 1105 (E.D. Cal. 2026) (E.D. Cal. Jan. 6, 2026); Huang v. Albarran, 818 F. Supp. 3d 1154, 1166
 8 (E.D. Cal. 2026); Meneses v. Santacruz, 811 F. Supp. 3d 1158, 1163 (C.D. Cal. 2025);
 9 Kharitonova v. Albarran, No. 3:26-CV-01362-JSC, 2026 WL 531441, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 25,
 10 2026); E.E.O.H. v. Noem, No. 1:26-CV-01266-JLT-SAB, 2026 WL 850363, at *5 (E.D. Cal. Mar.
 11 26, 2026), report and recommendation adopted, No. 1:26-CV-01266 JLT SAB, 2026 WL 967670
 12 (E.D. Cal. Apr. 9, 2026). This district has been flooded with such challenges, and judges have 13 overwhelmingly concluded that Respondents' new practice of arresting and detaining individuals 14 without an individualized determination of materially changed circumstances violates the 15 Constitution and the law.

16 B. Respondents Arrest and Detain Petitioner Despite No Material Change in

7 54. Petitioner is being deprived of liberty without permissible justification.
8 Respondents previously released Petitioner, and/or previously encountered Petitioner and allowed
9 them to live in the community, upon a determination that Petitioner was neither a flight risk nor
10 danger to the community to warrant detention. Nothing material has changed to justify altering
11 that initial determination. Therefore, Petitioner's ongoing detention is not related to either of the 12 permissible justifications for civil immigration litigation: danger or flight risk. Petitioner's ongoing 13 detention furthers no legitimate government interest.

14 55. To the extent Respondents re-arrested Petitioner without any material change in 15 circumstances, the re-arrest was without new probable cause, in violation of Petitioner's Fourth
16 Amendment right against unreasonable seizures.

17 C. Garro Pinchi v. Noem Litigation and Order of Preliminary Relief

18 56. Petitioner brings to the Court's attention that Petitioner may be a member of the 19 provisionally certified class in Garro Pinchi v. Noem, 813 F. Supp. 3d 973 (N.D. Cal. 2025).

20 57. In October 2025, three plaintiffs filed a complaint under the Administrative 21 Procedure Act (APA) challenging DHS's new policy of re-detaining previously released
22 noncitizens without materially changed circumstances as to dangerousness or flight risk. Garro
23 Pinchi, No. 5:25-cv-05632-PCP, Dkt. No. 38 (Class Action Complaint and Amended Petition for 24 Writ of Habeas Corpus) (N.D. Cal. filed Oct. 10, 2025). The plaintiffs filed a motion to "stay" the 25 challenged policy pending final judgment on their claims and a motion for provisional class
26 certification. Id. at Dkt. No. 48 (Notice of Motion and Motion to Stay Effective Date of Agency 27 Action or Preserve Status or Rights) (N.D. Cal. filed Oct. 16, 2025).

28 58. On December 19, 2025, the Garro Pinchi court issued an order granting the

1 plaintiffs' motions to provisionally grant class certification and stay agency action. Garro Pinchi,
2 813 F. Supp. 3d at 1039–40.

3 59. Garro Pinchi certified the following class: "All noncitizens in the jurisdiction of 4 the San Francisco ICE Field Office who (1) entered or will enter the United States without
5 inspection; (2) have been or will be charged with inadmissibility under 8 U.S.C. § 1182 and have
6 been or will be released from DHS custody; and who (3) are in removal proceedings under 8 U.S.C.
7 § 1229a, including any § 1229a proceedings that have been dismissed where the dismissal is not
8 administratively final; and (4) are not subject to detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c)." Garro
9 Pinchi, 813 F. Supp. 3d at 1010–11.

10 60. Relevant to the class definition, the jurisdiction of the San Francisco ICE Field
11 Office covers California from the Oregon border to (and including) Kern County; Hawaii; Guam;
12 and the Northern Mariana Islands. Within California, the Sacramento, Stockton, San Jose/Morgan
13 Hill, Fresno, and Bakersfield sub-field ICE offices are all within the San Francisco Area of 14 Responsibility. A map depicting the geographic the jurisdiction of the San Francisco ICE Field

16 61. Garro Pinchi certified one subclass: "All members of the Class whose release from 17 DHS custody was or will be on bond, conditional parole, or their own recognizance under 8 U.S.C.
18 § 1226(a) and/or 8 C.F.R. § 236.1(c)(8)." Garro Pinchi, 813 F. Supp. 3d at 1010–11.

19 62. On the merits, Garro Pinchi held that the new re-detention policy is likely arbitrary
20 and capricious because, based on the preliminary record: Respondents failed to provide a reasoned
21 explanation for their new policy at the time of its implementation; any post hoc rationalization
22 Respondents provided for the new policy was based on legal error; Respondents failed to consider 23 released noncitizens' serious reliance interests when implementing the new policy; and 24 Respondents failed to adequately consider noncitizens' protected liberty interests when 25 implementing the new policy. Garro Pinchi, 813 F. Supp. 3d at 1027.

26 63. Garro Pinchi held that DHS's new interpretation of 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) did not 27 justify the agency's adoption of the new policy. Garro Pinchi, 813 F. Supp. 3d at 1028–33. The 28 court held that the new policy was likely unlawful regardless of whether the underlying statutory

1 authority for re-detention was 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2) or § 1226(a), and stayed the policy from
2 applying to any class member detained under color of either statute, Id. at 1037.

3 64. Garro Pinchi further concluded that class members would suffer irreparable harm
4 without preliminary relief, and that the balance of equities and public interest favored such relief.
5 Garro Pinchi, 813 F. Supp. 3d at 1018.

6 65. Accordingly, Garro Pinchi granted preliminary relief and stayed Respondents' new 7 re-detention policy, effective immediately. Garro Pinchi, 813 F. Supp. 3d at 1040. The order has 8 the effect of requiring Respondents to revert to their longstanding prior policy of not re-arresting 9 and re-detaining class members without an individualized determination that there are materially
10 changed circumstances as to the class member's dangerousness or flight risk. See Paulsen v.
11 Daniels, 413 F.3d 999, 1008 (9th Cir. 2005) ("The effect of invalidating an agency rule is to 12 reinstate the rule previously in force.").

13 D. Petitioner is Experiencing Irreparable Harm

14 66. Petitioner's arrest and detention are causing them ongoing irreparable harm.
15 Respondents previously released Petitioner, and/or previously encountered Petitioner and allowed
16 them to live in the community, necessarily entailing a determination that Petitioner was neither a 17 danger to the community nor a flight risk to warrant detention. No material change in 18 circumstances warranted departing from that previous determination.

19 67. Due to Petitioner's ongoing detention, they are suffering irreparable harm, and 20 every additional day Petitioner spends in unlawful detention subjects them to further irreparable
21 harm. [Debido a la detención continua del/de la Peticionario/a, este está sufriendo un daño
22 irreparable, y cada día adicional que el/la Peticionario/a permanece en detención ilícita lo somete
23 a un daño irreparable aún mayor.].

24 68. Petitioner is being irreparably harmed in the following ways: (Describe specifically
25 how your detention is harming you. Examples could include separation from family, isolation from 26 your community, inability to work, difficulty practicing your religion, medical conditions that are 27 worsening, harms to your children or other family members, difficulty communicating with your 28 lawyer, etc.) [El/La Peticionario/a está sufriendo un daño irreparable de las siguientes maneras:

1 (Describe específicamente de qué manera su detención le está causando perjuicios. Los ejemplos
2 podrían incluir la separación de su familia, el aislamiento de su comunidad, la imposibilidad de
3 trabajar, la dificultad para practicar su religión, el agravamiento de condiciones médicas,
4 perjuicios a sus hijos u otros familiares, la dificultad para comunicarse con su abogado, etc.)):

Answer to question 64:

My name is Gabriel Martinez Bermudez, I am a Mexican citizen, and I was born in

Your Honor, since I came to America I just have one goal, and that goal was to provided everything for my family and take care of them. Unfortunately, on 01/04/2025 I was accused of sexual harassment, I fought my case from outside for but, on 11/18/2025 I ended up taking a deal, because I was so scared to get prison time. I serve 3 months in jail. During the time I was incarcerated, I decide to invested my time in my rehabilitation. I took Anger Management, AA, and criminal thinking. I was released from jail on 02/15/2026, and I was free until 05/05/26 when ICE came to my house to arrested because of my criminal history. I ask for a warrant but they refuse to show me the warrant.

I don't believe that I am a threat to this country. I came to this country to work hard, I have a family to support and provide for their needs, I have a beautiful family, waiting for me. I was the head of the household and the main financial support they have as far is rent and bills. My wife and kids have been seeing the psychologist because of the anxiety and stress they are going through. they're devastating about my deportation process, all this situation is a torture, physically and mentally for me and my family. America give me security, a stable financial life and the most important a beautiful family.

In addition, please have consideration of my financial situation, and the lack of being able to speak, read, and understand English, so you can provided me an Attorney. For future paper work, Traverse or any motion and all this process.

This is why, with all my heart I want to ask of you a chance to remain in the United States of America, and GRANT my immediately release. Give me an opportunity to demonstrate that I can serve society. I accept any condition that is asked of me. I am terrify of that outcome. Thank you for your time and compassion. May God bless you.

CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

Violation of the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution (Procedural Due Process—Detention)

69. Petitioner repeats and re-alleges the allegations contained in the preceding paragraphs of this Petition as if fully set forth herein.

70. As part of the liberty protected by the Due Process Clause, Petitioner has a weighty interest in avoiding re-incarceration after Respondents released them from custody and/or encountered them and allowed them to live in the community. See Young, 520 U.S. at 146–47; Gagnon, 411 U.S. at 781–82; Morrissey, 408 U.S. at 482–83; see also Ortega, 415 F. Supp. 3d at 969–70 (holding that a noncitizen has a protected liberty interest in remaining out of custody following an IJ’s bond determination).

71. Accordingly, “[i]n the context of immigration detention, it is well-settled that due process requires adequate procedural protections to ensure that the government’s asserted justification for physical confinement outweighs the individual’s constitutionally protected interest in avoiding physical restraint.” Hernandez, 872 F.3d at 990 (cleaned up); Zinerman, 494 U.S. at 127 (explaining that generally, “the Constitution requires some kind of a hearing before the State deprives a person of liberty or property.”).

72. In the immigration context, for such hearings to comply with due process, the government bears the burden to demonstrate, by clear and convincing evidence, that the noncitizen poses a flight risk or danger to the community. See Singh v. Holder, 638 F.3d 1196, 1203 (9th Cir. 2011); see also Martinez v. Clark, 124 F.4th 775, 785, 786 (9th Cir. 2024).

73. Petitioner’s detention without a pre-deprivation hearing violated due process. After deciding to release Petitioner from custody and/or encountering Petitioner and allowing them to live in the community because custody was not required to protect against flight risk or dangerousness, Respondents detained Petitioner with no notice, no explanation of the justification of their detention, and no opportunity to contest their detention before a neutral adjudicator before being taken into custody.

74. Petitioner has a profound personal interest in their liberty. Because Petitioner received no procedural protections, the risk of erroneous deprivation is high. And the government has no legitimate interest in detaining Petitioner without a hearing; bond hearings are conducted as a matter of course in immigration proceedings, and Petitioner’s record sufficiently shows they would not abscond or endanger the community before a bond hearing could be held. See, e.g., Jorge M.F. v. Wilkinson, No. 21-cv-01434-JST, 2021 WL 783561, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 1, 2021); Vargas v. Jennings, No. 20-cv-5785-PJH, 2020 WL 5074312, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 23, 2020) (“[T]he government’s concern that delay in scheduling a hearing could exacerbate flight risk or danger is unsubstantiated in light of petitioner’s strong family ties and his continued employment during the pandemic as an essential agricultural worker.”).

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

Violation of the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution (Substantive Due Process—Detention)

75. Petitioner repeats and re-alleges the allegations contained in the preceding paragraphs of this Petition as if fully set forth herein.

76. The Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment protects all “person[s]” from deprivation of liberty “without due process of law.” U.S. Const. amend. V. “Freedom from imprisonment—from government custody, detention, or other forms of physical restraint—lies at the heart of the liberty that [the Due Process] Clause protects.” Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 690.

77. Immigration detention is constitutionally permissible only when it furthers the government’s legitimate goals of ensuring the noncitizen’s appearance during removal proceedings and preventing danger to the community. See id.

78. Petitioner is neither a flight risk nor a danger to the community. Respondents’ detention of Petitioner is therefore unjustified and unlawful. Accordingly, Petitioner is being detained in violation of the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment.

79. Moreover, Petitioner’s detention is punitive as it bears no “reasonable relation” to any legitimate government purpose. Id. (immigration detention is civil and thus ostensibly “nonpunitive in purpose and effect”). Here, the purpose of Petitioner’s detention appears to be “not to facilitate deportation, or to protect against risk of flight or dangerousness, but to incarcerate for other reasons,” Demore, 538 U.S. at 532–33 (Kennedy, J., concurring)—namely, to effectuate Respondents’ unlawful new policy of detaining individuals previously released and/or encountered and permitted to live in the community, without any materially changed circumstances to justify detention.

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

Violation of the Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution (Petitioner’s Re-Arrest Constitutes an Unreasonable Seizure)

80. Only to the extent that Petitioner was re-arrested, Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates by reference the paragraphs above and brings this Claim.

81. The Fourth Amendment protects the right of all persons present in the United States to be free from unreasonable seizures by government officials. Petitioner therefore has the right to be free from unreasonable seizures.

82. As a corollary to that right, the Fourth Amendment prohibits re-arrest on the same charge without a material change in circumstances.

83. Petitioner was re-arrested on the same charge without a material change in circumstances, Petitioner’s re-arrest violated the Fourth Amendment.

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

Violation of the Administrative Procedure Act/ Unlawful Application of Stayed Policy: (Request for Relief Pursuant to Garro Pinchi v. Noem)

84. Only to the extent that Petitioner is a Garro Pinchi v. Noem class member,
Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates by reference the paragraphs above and brings this Claim,

85. In Garro Pinchi v. Noem, 813 F. Supp. 3d at 973, the court issued an order on December 19, 2025 granting preliminary relief pending final adjudication of the class's claims. The court held that Respondents' new policy of re-detaining people without an individualized determination of materially changed circumstances is likely unlawful as arbitrary and capricious. The order stayed the new policy, prohibiting Respondents from re-arresting and re-detaining previously released noncitizens without an individualized determination that materially changed circumstances as to flight risk or dangerousness warrant re-detention.

86. Respondents re-arrested and re-detained Petitioner even though Petitioner had no materially changed circumstances as to flight risk or dangerousness to warrant re-detention.

87. As Petitioner is a member of the certified class in Garro Pinchi, Petitioner's ongoing detention is unlawful and Petitioner is entitled to immediate release.

88. Every moment that Respondents continue to detain Petitioner and deprive them of their liberty, Respondents violate the Administrative Procedure Act and the court's binding order in Garro Pinchi.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Petitioner respectfully requests that this Court:

- 1) Assume jurisdiction over this matter;
- 2) Issue a writ of habeas corpus ordering Respondents to immediately release Petitioner from custody on the same conditions that governed their liberty prior to Petitioner's current detention;
- 3) Declare that Petitioner's arrest and ongoing detention violate the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment;
- 4) Only to the extent that Petitioner was re-arrested, declare that Petitioner's re-arrest violates the Fourth Amendment;

- 1 5) Only to the extent that Petitioner is a Garro Pinchi class member, declare
2 that Petitioner's arrest and ongoing detention violate the order granting
3 preliminary relief to the Garro Pinchi class;
4 6) Enjoin Respondents from re-detaining Petitioner absent further order of this
5 Court; or, in the alternative, unless Respondents provide at least 14 days' notice
6 to Petitioner that they will seek a pre-deprivation bond hearing before a neutral 7 arbiter at which the government bears the burden of proving, by clear and 8 convincing evidence, that Petitioner is a flight risk or danger to the community;
9 7) Order Respondents to return all of Petitioner's property confiscated during their 10 arrest and processing into detention, including but not limited to personal 11 identification, employment authorization document, medical insurance cards,
12 money, documents related to any legal proceedings, and personal effects;
13 8) Enjoin Respondents from transferring Petitioner outside this District or deporting
14 Petitioner pending these proceedings; and 15 9) Grant such further relief as the Court deems just and proper.
